 Managers and Decision makers and NGOs Natural Resource Management for Sustainable Development in the Caribbean Ivan Goodbody, Elizabeth M. Thomas-Hope, 2002 At the International Earth Summit convened in Rio de Janeiro in 1994 all nations of the world were mandated to protect the environment for the benefit of present and future generations This collection introduces the reader to the major issues involved in the management of a number of resources critical to Caribbean development The chapters discuss the sustainability of water fisheries and agriculture in the region from a variety of perspectives Particular emphasis is also given to the use of energy recreation and coastal resource management and their impact on the fragile ecosystem The book makes a contribution to the ongoing debate of sustainable environmental management within the region and the world Managing Water Conflict Ashok Swain, 2004-06-01 Countries are meeting increasing water demand by building reservoirs and by diverting water from one area to another When the water belongs to an international river system these measures lead to riparian conflicts However water scarcity not only brings conflict to these regions but also plays its part in building cooperation In several international river basins in Asia Africa and the Middle East competing and disputing riparian countries are now moving towards a co operative sharing arrangement The signs of agreements on water sharing may be easy but the real problem is how to keep these arrangements on track Such agreements can positively contribute to peace and cooperation by addressing future needs making sustainable decisions and being progressive in their management Managing Water Conflict looks at these current stresses and likely future scenarios for this vitally important subject Drinking Water from Forests and Grasslands, 2000 Freshwater Pollution Caroline Wheal, 1991 Moins de 3% de l'eau disponible sur terre est de l'eau douce Un grande majorité de ce volume est sous forme de sent volume présente la consommation de l'eau son évolution et ses contraintes selon le niveau de développement des pays considérés Les principaux contaminants sont examinés Un éclairage particulier est donné au Global Environment Monitoring System GEMS qui depuis 1977 travaille en collaboration avec le WHO et l'UNESCO pour un suivi de ces problèmes

Population — Development — Environment J. Baguant,Wolfgang Lutz,C. Prinz,F.L. Toth,A.B. Wils,2013-06-29 Because the number of options is often limited small island states tend to find it uncommonly difficult to strike a balance between population environment and development Relatively high population density and small land areas without much in the way of natural resources do not provide the best of circumstances for improving the living conditions of the population especially a fast growing one The result is often stunted economic development and environmental stress both on land and offshore The developments in the island state of Mauritius over the past 30 years however can serve as an inspiration and illustration of how extremely adverse conditions can be overcome In the early 1960s Mauritius was trying to cope with rapid population growth extreme poverty and grim economic prospects Population density was 324 inhabitants per km total fertility was 5.7 and GNP per capita was less than 200 In 1990 the situation in Mauritius was radically different Although population density had increased to 527 inhabitants per km total fertility had dropped to 2.0 and GNP per capita had increased to 2,310 Economic stagnation had been replaced by steady growth and full employment and environmental problems were being addressed as issues of high priority

Environment in Print United Nations Environment Programme,2002 Rediscovering Gandhi Vinnie Jauhari,Parul Wasan,2014-01-01 The book is based on successful interventions implemented in India with powerful lessons for policy makers NGO s and corporate firms A range of theses have been covered in the book such as empowerment of women sustainable livelihoods sustainable health for all corporate social responsibility and communities The book draws insights from Gandhian philosophy which suggests that only human beings can create a society that is egalitarian decentralised peace loving and progressive There is a need to balance economic growth with social regeneration by involving the poor in the larger interests of the society and to rearticulate technology to suit the aptitude and skills of the people Only those cases have been included in this volume which have been successfully demonstrated in India and can be replicated elsewhere with appropriate contextual changes International Fresh Water Resources Peter Wallensteen,Ashok Swain,1997
