

THIS GODLESS COMMUNISM

WE HAVE SEEN IN THIS SERIES OF STORIES THE WAY IN WHICH RUSSIA'S LEADERS HAVE FOLLOWED THE TEACHINGS OF MARX AND LENIN. BEHIND THEM, THEY HAVE LEFT A BLOODY TRAIL.

THEIR METHODS ARE VERY CHANGEABLE. TO THOSE WHO WILL LISTEN TO TALK OF PEACE, THEY WILL TALK OF PEACE. TO THOSE WHO WILL FALTER BEFORE THREATS OF WAR, THEY WILL THREATEN WAR. BUT BEHIND ALL THIS TALK IS ONE GOAL: WORLD DOMINATION BY ANY MEANS.

IN ITS WAKE, COMMUNISM HAS LEFT A TRAIL OF MURDERS, LIES, AND MISERY OF A KIND NEVER BEFORE SEEN IN THE HISTORY OF THE WORLD. IT IS TRULY THE WORK OF THE DEVIL.

America's First Network TV Censor Robert Pondillo, 2010-04-23 America s First Network TV Censor The Work of NBC s Stockton Helffrich is a unique examination of early television censorship centered around the papers of Stockton Helffrich the first manager of the censorship department at NBC Set against the backdrop of postwar America and contextualized by myriad primary sources including original interviews and unpublished material Helffrich s reports illustrate how early censorship of advertising language and depictions of sex violence and race shaped the new medium While other books have cited Helffrich s reports none have considered them as a body of work complemented by the details of Helffrich s life and the era in which he lived

America's First Network TV Censor explores the ways in which Helffrich's personal history and social class influenced his perception of his role as NBC TV censor and his tendency to ignore certain political and cultural taboos while embracing others. Author Robert Pondillo considers Helffrich's life in broadcasting before and after the Second World War and his censorial work in the context of 1950s American culture and emerging network television. Pondillo discusses the ways that cultural phenomena including the arrival of the mid twentieth century religious boom, McCarthyism, the dawn of the Civil Rights era, and the social upheaval over sex music and youth contributed to a general sense that the country was morally adrift and ripe for communist takeover. Five often censored subjects: advertising language and depictions of sex, violence, and race are explored in detail, exposing the surprising complexity and nuance of early media censorship. Questions of whether too many sadistic westerns would coarsen America's children, how to talk about homosexuality without using the word homosexuality, and how best to advertise toilet paper without offending people were on Helffrich's mind; his answers to these questions helped shape the broadcast media we know today. Contesting France Susan McCall Perlman, 2023-02-09

Contesting France reveals the untold role of intelligence in shaping American perceptions of and policy toward France between 1944 and 1947, a critical period of the early Cold War when many feared that French communists were poised to seize power. In doing so, it exposes the prevailing narrative of French unreliability, weakness, and communist intrigue apparent in diplomatic dispatches and intelligence reports sent to the White House as both overblown and deeply contested. Likewise, it shows that local political factions, French intelligence, and government officials, colonial officers, and various transnational actors in imperial outposts and in the metropole sought access to US intelligence officials in a deliberate effort to shape US policy for their own political postwar agendas. Using extensive archival research in the United States and France, Susan McCall Perlman sheds new light on the nexus between intelligence and policymaking in the immediate postwar era.

Values and Identities in Europe Michael J. Breen, 2017-01-20. Contrary to what is suggested in media and popular discourses, Europe is neither a monolithic entity nor simply a collection of nation states. It is rather a union of millions of individuals who differ from one another in a variety of ways while also sharing many characteristics associated with their ethnic, social, political, economic, religious, or national characteristics. This book explores differences and similarities that exist in attitudes, beliefs, and opinions on a range of issues across Europe. Drawing on the extensive data of the European Social Survey, it presents insightful analyses of social attitudes organised around the themes of religious identity, political identity, family identity, and social identity, together with a section on methodological issues. A collection of rigorously analysed studies on national, comparative, and pan-European levels, Values and Identities in Europe offers insight into the heart and soul of Europe at a time of unprecedented change. As such, it will appeal to scholars across the social sciences with interests in social attitudes, social change in Europe, demographics, and survey methods. Stalinism Alter L. Litvin, John L. H. Before the Uprising Peter Kenez, 2022-08-25 The years of 1949-1956 could be described as the gloomiest in modern Hungarian history as the country's population lived under vicious totalitarian leadership Eventually the regime began to disintegrate leading to the 1956 Hungarian Revolution a critical moment in the history of the Cold War But why did this revolution occur in Hungary rather than any other countries in the Soviet bloc Before the Uprising examines the specific social economic political and intellectual characteristics of a totalitarian country Throughout the volume Peter Kenez questions what the necessary components of totalitarianism are whether it is a complete state control of the economy a personality cult of the leader or a specific type of propaganda organization By describing the totalitarianism of the past this volume shows what we can learn for the present and what to expect from the emerging autocracies of the future
