God The Creator On The Transcendence And Presence Of God:

God the Creator Robert C. Neville, 1968      God the Creator Robert Cummings Neville, 1992-02-13 God the Creator provides a detailed exposition of a conception of God as the creator of everything determinate. It does not defend an established conception such as the Thomist, the Calvinist, or the Process theological idea but rather elaborates the ancient theme of creation ex nihilo in a new form appropriate to the contemporary world. Part one is a rigorous philosophical development of the idea of God as creator ex nihilo, arguing that an adequate solution to the problem of the one and the many demands such a conception. This part includes a dialectical examination of contemporary and classical theories of being. Part two asks how one can have knowledge of the kind of God described previously; it deals with experience, analogy, and dialectic. Part three applies the conception developed in part one to fundamental religious conceptions such as the object of worship, the nature of religion, and the practices of private and public religious life. It presents theories arising from the conception of creation ex nihilo for the interpretation of religious concern, conversion, faith, certainty, solitude, bliss, service, liturgy, providence, evangelism, dedication, reconciliation, brotherhood, discipline, the integration of public and private religion, relative to other dimensions of life, freedom, love, and glory. Though the language arises from the Christian tradition and expresses an orthodox strand of that religion, the argument weaves throughout the concerns of many world religions.      The Making of American Liberal Theology Gary J. Dorrien, 2006-01-01 In this first of three volumes, Dorrien identifies the indigenous roots of American liberal theology and demonstrates a wider, longer running tradition than has been thought. The tradition took shape in the nineteenth century, motivated by a desire to map a modernist third way between orthodoxy and rationalistic deism, atheism. It is defined by its openness to modern intellectual inquiry, its commitment to the authority of individual reason and experience, its conception of Christianity as an ethical way of life, and its commitment to make Christianity credible and socially relevant to modern people. Dorrien takes a narrative approach and provides a biographical reading of important religious thinkers of the time, including William E. Channing, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Horace Bushnell, Henry Ward Beecher, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, and Charles Briggs. Dorrien notes that although liberal theology moved into elite academic institutions, its conceptual foundations were laid in the pulpit rather than the classroom.      God the Creator Robert C. Neville, 1968      Speaking of God in Thomas Aquinas and Meister Eckhart Anastasia Wendlinger, 2016-04-01 Medieval masters Thomas Aquinas and Meister Eckhart considered problems inherent to speaking of God, exploring how religious language might compromise God's transcendence or God's immanence, ultimately hindering believers in their journey of faith seeking understanding. Going beyond ordinary readings of Aquinas and building a foundation for further insights into the works of both theologians, this book draws out the implications of the thought of Eckhart and Aquinas for contemporary issues, including ecumenical and inter-religious dialogue, liturgy and prayer, and religious inclusivity. Reading Aquinas and Eckhart in light of each other reveals the profound depth and orthodoxy of both of these scholars and provides a novel approach to many theological and practical religious issues      Salvation in the World Stephan van Erp, Christiane Alpers, Christopher Cimorelli, 2017-09-07 What happens when Edward Schillebeeckx's theology crosses paths with contemporary public theology This volume examines the theological heritage that Schillebeeckx has left behind as well as it critically assesses its relevance for temporary theological scene In tracing the ways in which Schillebeeckx observed and examined his own context's increasing secularization and concomitant development toward atheism the contributors to this volume indicate the potential directions for a contemporary public theology that pursues the path which Schillebeeckx has trodden The essays in the first part of this volume indicate a different theological self critique undertaken in response to developments in the public sphere This is followed by a thorough examination of the degree to which Schillebeeckx succeeded in leading Christian theology ahead without merely accommodating the Christian tradition to current societal trends The third part of the volume discusses the issues of climate change social conceptions of progress as well as the evolutionary understandings of the origins and purpose of religions The final part examines Schillebeeckx's soteriology to contemporary discussions about wholeness      Reconsidering Creation Ex Nihilo in Genesis 1 Nathan J. Chambers, 2020-11-15 There is a broad consensus among biblical scholars that creation ex nihilo from nothing is a late Hellenistic concept with little inherent connection to Genesis 1 and other biblical creation texts In this book Nathan J Chambers forces us to reconsider the question arguing in favor of reading this chapter of the Bible in terms of ex nihilo creation and demonstrating that there is a sound basis for the early Christian development of the doctrine Drawing on the theology of Augustine of Hippo and Thomas Aquinas Chambers considers what the ex nihilo doctrine means and does in classical Christian dogma He examines ancient Near Eastern cosmological texts that provide a potential context for reading Genesis 1 Recognizing the distance between the possible historical and theological frameworks for interpreting the text he illuminates how this doctrine developed within early Christian thought as a consequence of the church's commitment to reading Genesis 1 as part of Christian Scripture Through original close readings of the chapter that engage critically with the work of Jon Levenson Hermann Gunkel and Brevard Childs Chambers demonstrates that far from precluding interpretive possibilities reading Genesis 1 in terms of creation from nothing opens up a variety of interpretive avenues that have largely been overlooked in contemporary biblical scholarship Timely and innovative this book makes the case for a new or recovered framework for reading Genesis 1 that will appeal to biblical studies scholars and seminarians      God, the Creator and Lord of All Samuel Harris, 1896      Theology of Hope Sang Yun Lee, 2018-08-01 This book digs deep into Yonggi Cho's teaching of the Threefold Blessing salvation financial prosperity and healing expressing the biblical concept of hope in the Korean Pentecostal context Ironically hope always begins situations where it is lacking The Threefold Blessing was the most urgent and eager hope in the desperate socio economical and political situation following the Korean War Cho's theology successfully contextualized became deeply lodged in the Korean Pentecostals' lives which resulted in the growth of strong churches in Korea But the context has now changed in part due to the gospel's successful penetration of Korean culture and the Threefold Blessing must be reinterpreted and theologically recontextualized The original Threefold Blessing emphasized the wellbeing of the individual person The new Threefold Blessing must expand its theological perspectives to include social and ecological matters This book suggests ways for its recontextualization for present and future of Korean Pentecostals

Kant's Critical Religion Stephen R. Palmquist, 2019-06-11 This title was first published in 2000 Applying the new perspectival method of interpreting Kant he expounded in earlier works Palmquist examines a broad range of Kant's philosophical writings to present a fresh view of his thought on theology religion and religious experience An

Evangelical Theology of Preaching Donald English, 1996 This book focuses on why we communicate the gospel and helps the communicator to clarify what should be communicated to God's people and to the secular people that communicators are trying to reach The Beginning and End of All Things Edward W. Klink III, 2023-05-30 Edward W Klink III presents a holistic understanding of creation one that is unfolded throughout all of Scripture and is at the core of the gospel itself Along with offering rich insights about God and his purposes for the world a biblical theology of creation guides how we engage nature culture and life as embodied beings Philosophical Faith and the Future of Humanity Helmut Wautischer, Alan M. Olson, Gregory J. Walters, 2012-01-02 Karl Jaspers who died in 1969 had a profound impact on 20th century theology and philosophy His central thesis called for among other things a de-centering of philosophy from its Eurocentric roots and a renewal of its dialogue with other traditions especially Asian ones This collection of essays includes unpublished work by Jaspers himself as well as testimonies to his life and career by colleagues associates and translators some of who knew Jaspers personally Readers will also find commentary and interpretation by researchers who have explored Jaspers work for decades and a biographical account of Jaspers student Leonard Ehrlich who handled much of Jaspers English translation The book interrogates Jaspers conceptions of philosophical faith his philosophy of communication and the prospects for world philosophy in the future Focusing on philosophical faith it assesses Jaspers interpretations of key philosophers such as Kant Hegel Schelling Kierkegaard Nietzsche and Rosenzweig as well as examining his personal relationships with Bultmann and Heidegger Contributors also look at Jaspers philosophies of religion and history his hypothesis of the axial age Achsenzeit and his contributions to metaphysics periechontology and economics Finally chapters cover Jaspers philosophy of communication and world history The latter are informed by a burgeoning interest in Kantian Freiheitphilosophie that influenced Jaspers as well as concerns over the future of humanity These concerns in part account for Jaspers growing popularity in the Middle East Eastern Europe Central South America and Asia Also included are lucid clarifications of the difference between religious and philosophical faith and the relevance of certainty trust and communication for a future of mankind Trained as a psychiatrist Jaspers practiced this profession before becoming a philosopher and thus had a keen insight into the workings of the human mind even as he challenged the philosophical establishment of his time It is perhaps this depth to his background that adds to the contemporary relevance of his work      God, Purpose, and Reality John Christopher Bishop, Kenneth J. Perszyk, 2023 John Bishop and Ken Perszyk argue that it is reasonable to reject the standard conception of a personal omniGod They present an alternative view euteleology reality is inherently purposive and the universe exists ultimately because its overall end which is the supreme good is made concretely real within it

Relationality and the Concept of God Henry Jansen, 2025-02-10 Classical theism the dominant tradition in Christian theology has stressed the metaphysical concept of God i e God s ontological transcendence and independence from the world In this century however this concept of God has increasingly met with criticism On the basis of the Bible and new philosophical considerations it is argued that a relational concept of God better answers the fundamental concerns of the Christian faith In this book the author investigates the questions of whether one can conceive of God apart from the metaphysical attributes and whether reflection on the biblical depiction of God leads necessarily to a relational concept of God The author explores the questions by examining the relational concepts of God found in two contemporary German theologians J rgen Moltmann and Wolfhart Pannenberg and uses the divine attribute of immutability as a focus for the discussion He argues that the relational concept of God presupposes another metaphysical conception of God which raises problems as serious as those in classical theism and that the Bible itself because of its nature as a narrative text is ambiguous in many respects as far as God is concerned A truly Christian doctrine of God must take both the metaphysical and relational aspects of God into account      God in Christian Perspective George M. Newlands, 2008-07-17 In this book George

Newlands seeks to work out a modern restatement of a Christian understanding of God Father Son and Spirit Evil on the scale experience in modern wars and the awareness of the variety of transcendent values in the pluralism of the contemporary world have tended to reinforce intellectual objections to traditional doctrines If the whole picture must remain partly obscure to us nevertheless we must continue to reflect on the character and activity of the God of the Christian faith and renew our attempts to describe and state beliefs In the first part of his study Professor Newlands considers the sources of a Christian understanding of God and analyses the substantive content of the doctrine of God as creator and reconciler of the cosmos as personal self differentiated transcendent being The second part reflects on christology and examines the social and ethical dimensions of the cost of discipleship Throughout Professor Newlands demonstrates the importance of thinking about God not in unreflecting slogans but with all our intellectual resources      Christianity and Ecological Theology E.

M. Conradie, 2006-10-01 There has been a proliferation of publications in the field of Christian ecological theology over the last three decades or so These include a number of recent edited volumes each covering a range of topics and consolidating many of the emerging insights in ecological theology The call for Christian churches to respond to the environmental crisis has been reiterated numerous times in this vast corpus of literature also in South Africa      Beauty Natalie

Carnes, 2014-11-13 Beauty engages fourth century bishop Gregory of Nyssa to address beauty s place in theology and the broader world With the recent resurgence of attention to beauty among theologians questions still remain about what exactly beauty is how it is perceived and whether we should celebrate its return If beauty fell out of favor because it was seen to distract from the weightier concerns of poverty and suffering because it can even be a tool of oppression why should we laud it now Gregory's writings offer surprisingly rich and relevant reflections that can move contemporary conversations beyond current impasses and critiques of beauty Drawing Gregory into conversation with such disparate voices as novelist J M Coetzee and art theorist Kaja Silverman Beauty displays the importance of beauty to theology and theology to beauty in a discussion that bridges ancient and modern practical and theoretical secular and religious

A New Science of Politics

Hans Kelsen, 2013-05-02 Eric Voegelin is famous as a philosopher of history and as one of the most eminent political scientists of the 20th century His most fundamental work on political theory the New Science of Politics is nowadays considered a classic in its field While the New Science has always been a very controversial book its critics have hardly ever taken the pain to pinpoint the weaknesses they condemned Voegelins book for There is however one exception Only shortly after the appearance of Voegelins New Science in 1954 Hans Kelsen has written a most detailed reply to this book of his former student This reply which was known to Voegelin and is mentioned in his autobiography is now being published by the Ontos Verlag Being a distinguished philosopher himself of an erudition and breadth of knowledge that matches that of Eric Voegelin Hans Kelsen is able to support the critical stance he takes on Voegelin New Science by clear and well founded argument This critical reply to Voegelins New Science is not only an important contribution to the dispute about the foundations of political order in modern society but will also prove valuable to readers generally interested in Voegelins life and work

Approaching God Patrick Masterson, 2013-08-15 Approaching God explores the ways in which phenomenology metaphysics and theological enquiry can throw light upon each other This is a matter of great interest and importance to the future of philosophical theology and the philosophy of religion What if anything has philosophical reflection about God to contribute to Christian theology And if indeed philosophy plays a positive role in theological reflection what kind of philosophy The first person philosophical perspective of phenomenology or the objective philosophical perspective of metaphysics Masterson devotes three chapters to respectively phenomenological metaphysical and theological approaches to God Each are seen as animated by a first principle from which a comprehensive account of everything is said to follow Human Consciousness in the case of phenomenology Being in the case of metaphysics and God in the case of theology Although philosophers and theologians such as Ricoeur Levinas Kearney Caputo and Barth are considered briefly Approaching God essentially provides a dialogue about theological and theistic issues between the phenomenological approach of the leading French Christian phenomenologist Jean Luc Marion and the realist metaphysical approach of Aquinas Masterson maintains that all three approaches are needed in trying to speak appropriately about God they are irreducible but complementary
