Keith Hancock The Legacies Of An Historian:

Keith Hancock D.A. Low, 2016-06-03 Sir Keith Hancock KBE 1898 1984 was the most distinguished scholar in the humanities and social sciences to have been born and to have worked in Australia He was a graduate of the University of Melbourne a Rhodes Scholar and the first Australian Fellow of All Souls College Oxford He successively held History chairs at the universities of Adelaide Birmingham Oxford and London and at the Australian National University Aged 32 he published his Australia London 1930 still the single most striking commentary on this country many of whose aphorisms have percolated through into numerous other writings Aged 74 he published his last major work Discovering Monaro A Study of Man's Impact on the Environment Cambridge 1972 which was arguably the primary fillip to the study of Australian environmental history to this day The main chapters of this book discuss largely in sequence the major books that he wrote the fields with which he dealt and the directions these have taken since he did so They revisit an extraordinary series of creative achievements while providing an introduction to the work of an exceptional Australian scholar The book will be important for anyone interested in the Humanities in Australia and particularly for those concerned with Australian historiography There are indications that imaginative teachers of History Honours students are already going back to Hancock's writing and finding students responding positively to it

Keith Hancock Donald Anthony Low, 2001 Collection of essays on Australian historian William Keith Hancock 1898 1988 Describes his public roles as founding director of the Institute of Commonwealth Studies at the University of London and the Research School of Sciences at Australian National University and founding president of the Australian Academy of the Humanities Reflects on the range and character of Hancock's work and his failings Includes notes on contributors and index Editor currently works in the Director's Section of the Research School of Pacific and Asian Studies at the Australian National University Previous works include Britain and Indian Nationalism

Only in Australia William Coleman, 2016 This volume analyses how Australia's economic and social policy diverges from that of the wider Anglophone world It looks at diverse issues such as labour market regulation taxation and political power and voting

A Three-Cornered Life: The Historian W.K. Hancock Jim Davidson, 2010 A biography of a 20th century Australian historian and an outstanding scholar in the humanities and social science fields this thorough account highlights the accomplishments of W K Hancock Compelling and informative this chronicle features the scope of Hancock's work across three continents including his mission to Uganda on behalf of the British government in 1954 his tracking of British mobilizations during World War II and his founding of the Australian National University Illuminating an extraordinary life and career this examination celebrates the author of Australia

Race, nation and empire Catherine Hall, Keith McClelland, 2024-06-04 The essays in this collection show how histories written in the past in different political times dealt with considered or avoided and disavowed Britain's imperial role and issues of difference Ranging from enlightenment historians to the present these essays consider both individual historians including such key figures as E A

Freeman G M Trevelyan and Keith Hancock and also broader themes such as the relationship between liberalism race and historiography and how we might re think British history in the light of trans national trans imperial and cross cultural analysis Britishness and what British history is have become major cultural and political issues in our time But as these essays demonstrate there is no single national story race empire and difference have pulsed through the writing of British history The contributors include some of the most distinguished historians writing today C A Bayly Antoinette Burton Saul Dubow Geoff Eley Theodore Koditschek Marilyn Lake John M MacKenzie Karen O'Brien Sonya O Rose Bill Schwarz Kathleen Wilson

The Art of Time Travel Tom Griffiths, 2017-07-03 No matter how practised we are at history it always humbles us No matter how often we visit the past it always surprises us Winner of the Ernest Scott Prize and Shortlisted for the NSW Premier's Literary Award for Non-fiction A rare feat of imagination and generosity Mark McKenna With every sentence they write historians must walk the tightrope between discipline and imagination empathy and evidence In this landmark work eminent historian and award winning author Tom Griffiths shares his passion for the fascinating complex craft of history or as he calls it the art of time travel In fourteen portraits Griffiths illuminates how historians such as Inga Clendinnen Judith Wright Geoffrey Blainey and Henry Reynolds have approached their craft In prose both earthy and elegant he shows the new insights they have brought to Australian history and in so doing reshapes our shared knowledge of this continent The Art of Time Travel is an exhilarating book that will forever change the way you think of Australia's past If the past is a foreign country Tom Griffiths makes the perfect travelling companion Let him be your eyes and ears on our shared history Most of all follow his heart Clare Wright

Clio's Lives Doug Munro, John G. Reid, 2017-10-09 Including contributions from leading scholars in the field from both Australia and North America this collection explores diverse approaches to writing the lives of historians and ways of assessing the importance of doing so Beginning with the writing of autobiographies by historians the volume then turns to biographical studies both of historians whose writings were in some sense nation defining and those who may be regarded as having had a major influence on defining the discipline of history The final section explores elements of collective biography linking these to the formation of historical networks A concluding essay by Barbara Caine offers a critical appraisal of the study of historians' biographies and autobiographies to date and maps out likely new directions for future work Clio's Lives is a very good scholarly collection that advances the study of autobiography and biography within the writing of history itself taking theoretical questions in significant new directions The contributors are well known and highly respected in the history profession and write with an insight and intellectual energy that will ensure the book has considerable impact They examine cutting edge issues about the writing of history at the personal level through autobiography and biography in diverse and innovative ways Together the writers have provided reflective chapters that will be widely read for their impressive theoretical advances as well as being inspirational for new entrants to the disciplinary area Patricia Grimshaw University of Melbourne Clio's Lives brings together a most interesting and varied cast of contributors Its chapters contain sophisticated and well penned ruminations on the uses of biography and autobiography among historians These are clearly connected with the general themes of the volume This delightfully mixed bag makes very good reading and as well will serve as a substantial contribution to the study of the biography and autobiography Eric Richards Flinders University 2000 Lectures and Memoirs British Academy,2001 Volume 111 of the Proceedings of the British Academy contains 12 British Academy lectures and 17 obituaries of Fellows of the British Academy Richard Titmuss John Stewart,2020-06-02 This is the first full length biography of Richard Titmuss a pioneer of social policy research and an influential figure in Britain s post war welfare debates Drawing on his own papers publications and interviews with those who knew him the book discusses Titmuss s ideas particularly those around the principles of altruism and social solidarity as well as his role in policy and academic networks at home and overseas It is an enlightening portrait of a man who deepened our understanding of social problems as well as the policies that respond most effectively to them The ADB's Story Melanie Nolan,Christine Fernon,2013-10-01 THE ADB S STORY is a detailed history of the eminent publication THE AUSTRALIAN DICTIONARY OF BIOGRAPHY Published as part of the ANU Lives series the National Centre of Biography has produced this comprehensive profile of the ADB s origins processes and people Edited by Melanie Nolan and Christine Fernon this is a fantastic book for scholars of Australian history and biography A Commonwealth of Knowledge Saul Dubow,2006-10-19 A Commonwealth of Knowledge addresses the relationship between social and scientific thought colonial identity and political power in nineteenth and twentieth century South Africa It hinges on the tension between colonial knowledge conceived of as a universal modernizing force and its realization in the context of a society divided along complex ethnic and racial fault lines By means of detailed analysis of colonial cultures literary and scientific institutions and expert historical thinking about South Africa and its peoples it demonstrates the ways in which the cultivation of knowledge has served to support white political ascendancy and claims to nationhood In a sustained commentary on modern South African historiography the significance of broad South Africanism a political tradition designed to transcend differences between white English and Afrikaans speakers is emphasized A Commonwealth of Knowledge also engages with wider comparative debates These include the nature of imperial and colonial knowledge systems the role of intellectual ideas and concepts in constituting ethnic racial and regional identities the dissemination of ideas between imperial metropole and colonial periphery the emergence of amateur and professional intellectual communities and the encounter between imperial and indigenous or local knowledge systems The book has broad scope It opens with a discussion of civic institutions eg museums libraries botanical gardens and scientific societies and assesses their role in creating a distinctive sense of Cape colonial identity the book goes on to discuss the ways in which scientific and other forms of knowledge contributed to the development of a capacious South Africanist patriotism compatible with continued membership of the British Commonwealth it concludes with reflections on the techno nationalism of the apartheid state and situates contemporary concerns like the

African Renaissance and responses to HIV AIDS in broad historical context The Australian School of International Relations J. Cotton, 2013-07-10 This book offers the first comprehensive account of the emergence of the IR discipline in Australia Initially influenced by British ideas the first generation of Australian international relations practitioners demonstrated in their work a strong awareness of the unique local conditions to which their theorizing should respond

Advancing Digital Humanities P. Arthur, K. Bode, 2014-12-03 Advancing Digital Humanities moves beyond definition of this dynamic and fast growing field to show how its arguments analyses findings and theories are pioneering new directions in the humanities globally The Poor Relation Stuart Macintyre, 2010 What are the social sciences What do they do How are they practised in Australia The Poor Relation examines the place of the social sciences from economics and psychology to history law and philosophy in the teaching and research conducted by Australian universities Across sixty years The Poor Relation charts the changing circumstances of the social sciences and measures their contribution to public policy In doing so it also relates the arrangements made to support them and explains why they are so persistently treated as the poor relation of science and technology

Writing the Nation Stefan Berger, 2007-07-12 This book brings together experts on national history writing from all five continents to discuss the role of history in the making of national identities in a transnational and comparative way The institutionalization and professionalisation of history writing is analysed in the context of history s increasing nationalization The Fuss that Never Ended Deborah Gare, 2003 It is time to reassess the work of Geoffrey Blainey and consider his role in Australian history politics and public life Geoffrey Blainey has steered Australian history into the nation s conversation No one would dispute that he is a courageous public intellectual a writer of rare grace and a master storyteller And he has indeed provoked a rare fuss both public and professional with some of his comments on Asian immigration and Aboriginal land rights Blainey has challenged the academic history profession not only with his ideas but also by his practice A brilliant student he looked set for Oxford but chose instead the austere west coast of Tasmania for his postgraduate research For the next decade he earned a living with his pen And instead of political history in the traditional academic mould he wrote corporate histories that dispensed with footnotes Always probing and speculative Blainey has dislodged many of the keystones in our understandings of Australia s past He was one of the first to write about the expansive social history of this land before 1788 he questioned whether Botany Bay was founded primarily as a convict colony he argued that the Eureka uprising had economic rather than political causes and he identified sport as a neglected key to the Australian character His controversial views earned such newspaper headlines as Brave Man Set Upon by Thugs for Telling Truth In The Fuss That Never Ended a lively and distinguished assembly of fellow historians and of various ages interests and political stances take a fresh look at Blainey s remarkable and sometimes controversial career

Historical Dictionary of Australia Norman Abjorensen, James C. Docherty, 2014-12-05 Australia s development from the most unpromising of beginnings as a British prison in 1788 to the prosperous liberal democracy of the present is as remarkable as is its success as a country of large scale immigration Since 1942 it has been a loyal ally of the United States and has demonstrated this loyalty by contributing troops to the war in Vietnam and by being part of the coalition of the willing in the U S invasion of Iraq in 2003 and in operations in Afghanistan In recent years it has also been more willing to promote peace and democracy in its Pacific and Asian neighbors This fourth edition of Historical Dictionary of Australia covers its history through a chronology an introductory essay appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 500 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Australia

Work of History Peter Beilharz, Sian Supski, 2022-07-05 Stuart Macintyre was an eminent figure within the world of Australian history scholarship for 45 years This collection of essays and responses revisits and extends this extraordinary life of achievement and engagement Leading scholars write here of Macintyre s contribution to understanding radicalism and communism postwar reconstruction education and civics universities liberalism historiography and the history wars They also tell us about collegiality and friendship The practice of history writing and telling has long been central to the narrative of the nation in Australia The Work of History connects us to that past It raises the question of what comes next and re values Macintyre s contribution serving both as a snapshot of the state of the historian s art and an introduction to those who come more recently to this highly contested field

Using History, Making British Policy P. Beck, 2006-07-11 The extent to which history has been used to inform policy remains a neglected topic Focusing upon the 1957 Whitehall policy initiative this book enhances our knowledge of post 1945 Britain illuminates debates about the nature and the use of history in the contemporary world most notably the relationship between history and policy

Anthropologists and Their Traditions Across National Borders Regna Darnell, Frederic W. Gleach, 2014-11-01 Volume 8 of the Histories of Anthropology Annual series the premier series published in the history of the discipline explores national anthropological traditions in Britain the United States and Europe and follows them into postnational contexts Contributors reassess the major theorists in twentieth century anthropology including luminaries such as Franz Boas Claude L vi Strauss Bronis aw Malinowski A R Radcliffe Brown Marshall Sahlins and lesser known but important anthropological work by Berthold Laufer A M Hocart Kenelm O L Burridge and Robin Ridington among others These essays examine myriad themes such as the pedagogical context of the anthropologist as a teller of stories about indigenous storytellers the colonial context of British anthropological theory and its projects outside the nation state the legacies of Claude L vi Strauss s structuralism regarding culture specific patterns cognitive universals reflected in empirical examples of kinship myth language classificatory systems and supposed universal mental structures and the career of Marshall Sahlins and his trajectory from neo evolutionism and structuralism toward an epistemological skepticism of cross cultural miscommunication
