Peter van der Hoek, 2005-06-13 The Handbook of Public Administration and Policy in the European Union focuses on the current state of the EU while also demonstrating how its current structure came into being and how it may change in the near future Although most existing literature is either policy oriented or institution oriented this textbook employs a different more comprehensive approach Not only does it analyze selected EU laws and most EU institutions it is also unique in that it brings together EU public administration EU institutions and most importantly EU policies into a comprehensive text Divided into five parts the book provides an overview of theory discourses on European integration followed by an analysis of the development of European organizations Part II explains the nature of the EU highlighting its institutions Part III addresses various dimensions of public administration followed by a review in Part IV of major EU policies including the Common Agricultural Policy The textbook concludes with a history of Economic and Monetary Union and a study of the European Central Bank and the euro      Transforming conflict through social and economic development Sandra Buchanan, 2016-05-16 Transforming conflict through social and economic development examines lessons learned from the Northern Ireland and Border Counties conflict transformation process through social and economic development and their consequent impacts and implications for practice and policymaking with a range of functional recommendations produced for other regions emerging from and seeking to transform violent conflict It provides for the first time a comprehensive assessment of the region's transformation activity largely amongst grassroots actors enabled by a number of specific funding programmes namely the International Fund for Ireland Peace I II and III and INTERREG I II and IIIA These programmes have been responsible for a huge increase in grassroots practice which to date has attracted virtually no academic analysis this book seeks to fill this gap In focusing on the politics of the socioeconomic activities that underpinned the elite negotiations of the peace process key theoretical transformation concepts are firstly explored followed by an examination of the social and economic context of Northern Ireland and the border counties The three programmes and their impacts are then assessed before considering what policy lessons can be learned and what recommendations can be made for practice This is underpinned by a range of semi structured interviews and the author's own experience as a project promoter through these programmes in the border counties for more than a decade The book will be essential reading for students practitioners and policymakers in the fields of peace and conflict studies conflict transformation peacebuilding post agreement reconstruction and the political economy of conflict and those interested in contemporary developments in the Northern Ireland peace process Finland ,1997 Regional Policy and Planning in Europe Paul Balchin,Ludek Sykora,Gregory Bull,2002-06-01 Regional Policy and Planning in Europe explores the ways regional policy and planning systems across Europe have been influenced by economic and monetary union the impending enlargement of the European Union the devolution of administrative power from central government to regional authorities the increased importance of environmental and urban issues Presenting a comprehensive overview of the economic basis of integration this book examines the evolution of various systems of government planning and forms of devolution The Socio-economic Impact of Projects Financed by the Cohesion Fund: Introduction and summary.
