English Farming Past And Present 6th Ed:

English Farming : Past and Present Rowland E. Prothero, 2019-07-05 First published in 1912 this volume presents the sixth edition of Lord Ernle's study of English farming updated by Sir A Daniel Hall in the fifth edition from the manorial system through the reigns of Elizabeth I James I and the Stuarts to large industrialised farms the Corn Laws and the Great Depression Lord Ernle's volume remains the classic handbook on the subject and will be of use to students teachers and academics of agricultural studies

British Agriculture P J Perry, 2013-11-05 Profound Changes took place in British Agriculture between 1875 and 1914 After the prosperous years of the mid nineteenth century came a period of difficulty for landowners and farmers with falling prices lower rents and untenanted farms Previously attributed to bad seasons and increased food imports this book questions whether the unexpected depression was rather the evolutionary upheaval of a system forced reluctantly into change Undoubtedly there was a crisis in these decades farming ceased to be Britain's major industry no longer able to supply all her own food the country came to depend increasingly upon imports Methods changed cereal production yielding pre eminence to pastoral farming In recent years scholars have challenged traditional interpretations of the crisis seeking a wider range of causes characteristics and consequences It has come to be seen as a phenomenon of change as much as of decay This book brings together different views of the depression ranging from contemporary evaluations to recent regional and econometric studies which stress its spatial and developmental character Originally published in 1973 these eight contributions provide a survey of changing approaches to one of the major economic crises in modern history

The World's Greatest Fix G. J. Leigh, 2004-08-19 In the tradition of Jared Diamond's Guns Germs and Steel this gives the very early history of how human ingenuity overcame the risk of famine through productive agriculture Starting with a layman's guide to the chemistry of nitrogen fixation the book goes on to show how humans emerged from nomadic lifestyles and began developing towns and settlements When they for the first time began planting the same fields year after year they noticed quickly the need to ensure soil fertility But how The method they came up with is still in use to this day

The Georgics of Virgil L. P. Wilkinson, 1969-07-01 This highly acclaimed book was when it was first published in 1969 the first complete book in English devoted to the Georgics of Virgil of which Mr Wilkinson provides a comprehensive survey With careful scholarship and shrewd verbal and stylistic analysis combined with sober common sense he deals with Virgil's early life the conception of the poem and its composition and structure He also examines the poem's intellectual ancestry studies its literary philosophic political and agricultural aspects and finally deals with its fortunes from classical times to the present day Prose translations of quoted passages make this book accessible to readers other than students of classics

The English Landed Estate in the Nineteenth Century David Spring, 2019-12-01 Originally published in 1963 The English Landed Estate in the Nineteenth Century Its Administration deals principally with the administration of large landed estates during the years from 1830 to 1870 The book also throws new light on the work of the

Inclosure Commissioners who as a department of the central government supervised agricultural improvements made by landowners who borrowed from the government and from land companies Author David Spring argues that the British government intervened in agriculture much more than is commonly thought In describing the hierarchy of estate management Spring relies wherever possible on hitherto unused family papers and estate documents Especially important is his material on the Dukes of Bedford and on the domestic economy and financial position of the Russell Family The chapter titled The Landowner based on the seventh Duke of Bedford s correspondence with his agent is a case study of a single estate and provides insight into the workings of a great landowner s mind The remaining chapters dealing with lawyers land agents and the Inclosure Commissioners include other individual portraits Among these are Christopher Haedy the Duke of Bedford s chief agent James Loch king of estate agents in nineteenth century England Henry Morton the Earl of Durham s land agent and William Blamire and James Caird two of the Inclosure Commissioners

New Dimensions in Agroecology Anil Shrestha,David Clements,2004-11-11 Reduce the environmentally negative aspects of industrial agriculture with an ecologically sound philosophy New Dimensions in Agroecology explores the latest developments in the emerging science of agroecology focusing on how these new concepts and cutting edge tools will help minimize the impact of agriculture on the environment and fos

Modern England 1901-1970 Alfred Havighurst,1976-05-13 This is a comprehensive bibliography of all printed books articles and standard texts on England Ireland Scotland the Commonwealth and the colonies up to 1970 This handbook will serve as a useful guide to scholars teachers at all levels advanced students and the general reader interested in examining the period in some depth

The British Police and Home Food Production in the Great War Mary Fraser,2024-06-25 This book explores the role of the British Police in home food production during the First World War a critical time when decreasing food imports threatened population starvation around the country Drawing from the police s most popular weekly journal the book provides insights into policemen s lives the political context in which they worked and the pressures on police forces throughout Britain during the Great War Unlike neighbouring countries in Europe Britain avoided major food riots due to government control of farming from December 1916 which prioritised agriculture to feed the nation The police force released over 400 policemen in England and Scotland to serve as ploughmen from March 1917 for around two months Almost a third of policemen throughout Britain had previous agricultural backgrounds and so were welcomed by farmers as experienced workers This book illustrates not only why the food crisis arose and the state of British farming during the war but it also sheds light on how individual police forces were approached and encouraged to release their policemen at a time when police forces themselves were critically short of staff due to recruitment into the war The author discusses how the release of policemen into agriculture as first responders benefitted the police and provided surveillance over home food production in the national interest

European Peasants and Their Markets William N. Parker,Eric L. Jones,2015-03-08 These essays discuss principal and much debated issues in European agrarian history within the context of the general economic history of northwestern Europe The authors endeavor to explain the phenomena with explicit use of economic reasoning and several of the papers draw on fresh historical source materials The use of economics provides a relevance beyond the specific historical context at the same time making possible a broader understanding of the reasons for the persistence spread and variation of certain peasant practices and forms of organization The topics discussed include the origin persistence and demise of the famous open or common field system of village agricultural organization the development of peasant and rural industry preceding and during the Industrial Revolution and the nineteenth century adjustments of agriculture on the continent to world competition A foreword by William N Parker describes the economic and social setting to which the essays are relevant and an afterword by Eric L Jones relates the papers not only to traditional concerns of economic development and European economic history but also to the history of the European physical and biological environment in the past several centuries Originally published in 1976 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Lincolnshire Mill Families Michael Watson, 2017-02-20 An account of some 18th 19th century Lincolnshire mill families featuring the mills of Cleethorpes Saltfleet Caistor Grebby Tetford Halton Holegate Donnington on Bain Hogsthorpe and others The Land and the People of Nineteenth-Century Cork James S. Donnelly Jr, 2017-07-06 First published in 1975 Using estate records local newspapers and parliamentary papers this book focuses upon two central and interrelated subjects the rural economy and the land question from the perspective of Cork Ireland's southernmost country The author examines the chief responses of Cork landlords tenant farmers and labourers to the enormous difficulties besetting them after 1815 He shows how the great famine of the late 1840s was in many ways an economic and social watershed because it rapidly accelerated certain previous trends and reversed the direction of others He also rejects the conventional view of the land war of the 1880s arguing that in Cork it was essentially a revolution of rising expectations in which tenant farmers struggled to preserve their substantial material gains since 1850 by using the weapons of agrarian trade unionism civil disobedience and unprecedented violence This title will be of interest to students of rural history and historical geography

Labour and the Poor in England and Wales, 1849-1851 Jules Ginswick, 2017-09-25 First Published in 1983 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company The British Navy's Victualling Board, 1793-1815 Janet W. Macdonald, 2010 An examination of the Royal Navy's Victualling Board the body responsible for supplying the fleet During the French Revolutionary and Napoleonic Wars the Royal Navy increased its manpower from fewer than 20 000 to more than 147 000 men with a concomitant increase in the quantities of food and drink required to sustain them The organisation responsible for this the Victualling Board performed its tasks using techniques and systems which it had developed over the previous 110 years In terms of actually delivering supplies to warships troopships and army garrisons abroad the Victualling Board performed well given the constraints of long distance communications and intermittent difficulties in obtaining supplies However its other areas of responsibility showed poor performance as evidenced by the reports of several Parliamentary enquiries This book examines in detail the processes by which the Victualling Board performed its core and non core tasks identifying the areas of competence and incompetence and establishing the underlying causes of the incompetencies JANET MACDONALD author of the highly acclaimed Feeding Nelson's Navy Chatham 2004 has recently completed a thesis at King's College London After a business career and running an equestrian organisation she spent ten years as a freelance writer publishing more than thirty books Riflemen Form Ian F. W. Beckett, 2007-07-30 Lt Gen Sir Garnet Wolseley commented that history would record the formation of the Volunteers Movement as one of the most remarkable events in the century In this study of the Rifle Volunteer Movement the author Ian Beckett has drawn from a wide range of primary source material such as official regimental local and private repositories He has been able to put into perspective the Movement within the structure of the Victorian and Edwardian social political and military affairs from its formation in 1859 to its absorption in the Territorial Force in 1908 Late-medieval England, 1377-1485 DeLloyd J. Guth, 1976 Trailblazing Georgians Mike Rendell, 2020-03-20 Other books deal with the men under the spotlight of fame the lead singers of the Industrial Revolution What this book tries to do is to focus on the other boys in the band the less famous inventors artists engineers and industrialists who played their part in the enormous changes that occurred in the eighteenth century You will not find James Watt Josiah Wedgwood or Richard Arkwright they have hogged the limelight long enough Instead you will meet the men who made their mark and then faded into obscurity the man who came up with Sheffield Plate Boulsover and helped bring silver decorative ware into the reach of the general public the man who heralded the development of costume jewellery by using an alloy resembling gold Pinchbeck the men who used papier mache strong enough to make chairs and versatile enough to make lacquer ware as fine as anything found in China Baskerville and Clay It is a book about scientists and engineers operating in areas which were completely new Smeaton in civil engineering Maudslay in machine tool manufacture Repton in landscape gardening and Bakewell in the selective breeding of animals It is also about entertainers like Astley who introduced variety acts into circus performances the forerunner of modern mass entertainment It features J J Merlin a clockmaker who inspired the young Babbage to develop an interest in the field of computing These artists scientists inventors and industrialists all feature because by some quirk of fate they have never received the acclaim which they deserve Growing Vegetables West of the Cascades Steve Solomon, 2007-01-01 This is the bible of vegetable gardening for anyone turning the soil west of the Cascade Mountains from Western British Columbia to Northern California It includes the basics of soil when best to plant the art of composting what varieties grow well here which seed companies are reliable information on handling pests and an extensive section on the cultivation of each vegetable

Legacies, Logics, Logistics Jane I. Guyer, 2016-05-27 Legacies Logics Logistics brings together a set of essays written both before and after the financial crisis of 2007 08 by eminent Africanist and economic anthropologist Jane I Guyer Each was written initially for a conference on a defined theme When they are brought together and interpreted as a whole by Guyer these varied essays show how an anthropological and socio historical approach to economic practices both in the West and elsewhere can illuminate deep facets of economic life that the big theories and models may fail to capture Focusing on economic actors whether ordinary consumers or financial experts Guyer traces how people and institutions hold together past experiences legacies imagined scenarios and models logics and situational challenges logistics in a way that makes the performance of economic life on platforms made of these legacies logics and logistics work in practice Individual essays explore a number of topics including time frames and the future the use of percentages in observations and judgments the explanation of prices the coexistence of different world currencies the reapplication of longtime economic theories in new settings and crucially how we talk about the economy how we use stable terms to describe a turbulent system Valuable as standalone pieces the essays build into a cogent method of economic anthropology

History of Technology Volume 4 A. Rupert Hall, Norman Smith, 2016-09-30 The annual collections in the History of Technology series look at the history of technological discovery and change exploring the relationship of technology to other aspects of life and showing how technological development is affected by the society in which it occurred
