Geography And Planning:

Big Data Applications in Geography and Planning Mark Birkin, Graham Clarke, Jonathan Corcoran, Robert Stimson, 2021-05-28 This unique book demonstrates the utility of big data approaches in human geography and planning Offering a carefully curated selection of case studies it reveals how researchers are accessing big data what this data looks like and how such data can offer new and important insights and knowledge Geography and Planning, 1968 Urban and Regional Models in Geography and Planning Alan Geoffrey Wilson, 1974 Urban and Regional Models in Geography and Planning Alan G. Wilson, The Planning Imagination Mark Tewdwr-Jones, Nicholas Phelps, Robert Freestone, 2013-10-01 Knighted in 1998 for services to the Town and Country Planning Association and in 2003 named by Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II as a Pioneer in the Life of the Nation Peter Hall is internationally renowned for the breadth and depth of his studies and writings on urban and regional planning For the last 50 years he has captured and helped to create the planning imagination Here the editors have brought together in five themes a series of critical reflections on Peter s vast and diverse contributions Those reflections are provided by colleagues familiar with his work The five parts are devoted to Peter Hall s breadth of academic work covering the history of cities and planning London spatial planning connectivity and mobility and urban globalization Finally as a sixth part the editors have asked Peter Hall himself to reflect on his career and the sources of his imagination The story this book tells is not one of a singular totally consistent theoretical and philosophical view elaborated over several decades Rather it covers a set of views that necessarily admits signs of Peter s inconsistency and imperfection over the years the insights and imperfections that inevitably accompany the exercise of a nonetheless remarkably fertile restless and inspiring planning imagination Conceptions of Space and Place in Strategic Spatial Planning Simin Davoudi, Ian Strange, 2008-11-24 Bringing together authors from academia and practice this book examines spatial planning at different scales in a number of case studies throughout the British Isles helping planners to become re engaged in critical thinking about space and place Resources and Planning Brian Goodall, Andrew Kirby, W. B. Fisher, 2013-10-22 Resources and Planning focuses on the trends approaches techniques and emergence of new concepts in geography as well as the use of models in planning endeavors The selection first offers information on planning education and practice including systems models and inner cities dilemma The book also examines planning processes and mathematical modeling in land use planning Topics include general assessment and development of urban modeling extensions and developments of the gravity model essential dualism of knowledge and action science and design as problem solving processes and planning processes as social learning The manuscript ponders on zone definition in spatial modeling and patterns of information use in planning including problems and alternative approaches to zone system design The text also concentrates on maps as source materials quantitative developments in geography and planning in a practical reasoning framework human s impact on climate with particular reference to energy balance changes and climate and town planning

The book is a fine reference for readers interested in geography particularly the trends techniques and approaches used in this discipline

Planning Support Systems in Practice Stan Geertman, John Stillwell, 2012-11-02 Planning Support Systems Technologies that are Driving Planning Michael Batty Centre for Advanced Spatial Analysis CASA University College London 1 19 Torrington Place London WC 1 E 6BT United Kingdom I had always thought the term Planning Support Systems abbreviated to PSS had been coined by the father of land use modelling Britton Harris in his article Beyond Geographic Information Systems computers and the planning professional published in the Journal of the American Planning Association in 1989 Harris 1989 Until I asked him that is In a response to a paper he gave to the Urban and Regional Information Systems Association URISA in the summer of 1987 he told me that someone in the audience who he cannot quite remember actually coined the term referring to planning support systems as that constellation of digital techniques such as GIS which were emerging to support the planning process In fact the predecessor term decision support systems DSS from which this unknown originator obviously defined PSS by analogy was coined as far back as the late 1970s in the management literature for a loose assemblage of techniques usually computer based which aided management decisions The term slowly entered the geographical lexicon as spatial decision support systems SDSS and this is probably first attributable to Lew Hopkins and Mark Armstrong who used it in a paper published in AutoCarto 7 in 1985 Hopkins and Armstrong 1985

Geographical Information and Planning John Stillwell, Stan Geertman, Stan Openshaw, 2013-03-09 The 1990s have seen some remarkable changes in geographical information GI provision and computer technology that have impacted on many of the activities that constitute planning in all its different forms However relatively few texts in the field of geographical information systems GIS and planning have been published since Henk Scholten and John Stillwell edited Geographical Information Systems for Urban and Regional Planning in 1990 This volume seeks to redress the balance by showing how GI of various types is being used in urban physical environmental socio economic and business planning contexts at local regional and national scales with the assistance of GIS and modelling methods and how the uses of GI and GI technologies have evolved over the last decade During this period a number of meetings took place in Europe in different locations organised initially by European Geographical Information Systems EGIS 1990 94 and more recently by the Joint European Conference and Exhibition JEC on Geographical Information 1995 97 These meetings brought together members of the GI community from across the world to discuss GI research and GIS applications One of the Special Interest Groups associated with the JEC gatherings was that on Geographical Information and Planning and several of the contributions in this book have their origins in papers presented to the group's meetings

Key Concepts in Planning Gavin Parker, Joe Doak, 2012-07-25 I have been looking for a book which does this for ages It provides a clear explanation of the different elements and concepts which underpin how the planning system works and which are fundamental to the operation of the UK system It also provides good guidance on further reading A real asset to anyone wanting to understand the nature of planning in the UK Dr Catherine Hammond Architecture and Planning Sheffield Hallam University Key Concepts in Planning forms part of an innovative set of companion texts for the human geography sub disciplines Organized around 19 short essays the book provides a cutting edge introduction to the central concepts that define contemporary research in planning Involving detailed and expansive discussions the text includes An introductory chapter providing a succinct overview of the recent developments in the field 18 key concept entries with comprehensive explanations definitions and evolutions of the subject Detailed suggested further reading for each concept discussed It is an ideal companion text for upper level undergraduate and postgraduate students in planning and covers the expected staples of the discipline in an accessible style Introducing Human Geographies Kelly

Dombroski, Mark Goodwin, Junxi Qian, Andrew Williams, Paul Cloke, 2024-07-09 Introducing Human Geographies is a travel guide into the academic subject of human geography and the things that it studies The coverage of the new edition has been thoroughly refreshed to reflect and engage with the contemporary nature and direction of human geography This updated and much extended fourth edition includes a diverse range of authors and topics from across the globe with a completely revised set of contributions reflecting contemporary concerns in human geography Presented in four parts with a streamlined structure it includes over 70 contributions written by expert international researchers addressing the central ideas through which human geographers understand and shape their subject It maps out the big foundational ideas that have shaped the discipline past and present explores key research themes being pursued in human geography s various sub disciplines and identifies emerging collaborations between human geography and other disciplines in the areas of technology justice and environment This comprehensive stimulating and cutting edge introduction to the field is richly illustrated throughout with full colour figures maps and photos The book is designed especially for students new to university degree courses in human geography across the world and is an essential reference for undergraduate students on courses related to society place culture and space Situated Practices of Strategic Planning Louis Albrechts, Alessandro Balducci, Jean

Hillier, 2016-07-22 All over the world societies are facing a number of major problems New developments challenges and opportunities cause these issues and yet cases tell us that traditional spatial planning responses and tools are often insufficient to tackle these problems and challenges Situated Practices of Strategic Planning draws together examples from across the globe from France to Australia from Nigeria to the United States as it observes international comparisons of the strategic planning process Many approaches and policies used today fail to capture the dynamics of urban regional transformation and are more concerned with maintaining an existing social order than challenging and transforming it Stewarded by a team of highly regarded and experienced researchers this book gives a synthetic view of the process of change and frames future directions of development It is unique for its combination of analysis of international case studies and reflection on critical nodes and features in strategic planning This volume will be of interest to students who study regional planning academics professional planners and policy makers Key Thinkers on Cities Regan Koch, Alan

Latham,2017-05-22 Key Thinkers on Cities provides an engaging introduction to the dynamic intellectual field of urban studies It profiles the work of 40 innovative thinkers who represent the broad reach of contemporary urban scholarship and whose ideas have shaped the way cities around the world are understood researched debated and acted upon Providing a synoptic overview that spans a wide range of academic and professional disciplines theoretical perspectives and methodological approaches the entry for each key thinker comprises A succinct introduction and overview Intellectual biography and research focus An explication of key ideas Contributions to urban studies The book offers a fresh look at well known thinkers who have been foundational to urban scholarship including Jane Jacobs Henri Lefebvre Manuel Castells and David Harvey It also incorporates those who have helped to bring a concern for cities to more widespread audiences such as Jan Gehl Mike Davis and Enrique Pe alosa Notably the book also includes a range of thinkers who have more recently begun to shape the study of cities through engagements with art architecture computer modelling ethnography public health post colonial theory and more With an introduction that provides a mapping of the current transdisciplinary field and individual entries by those currently involved in cutting edge urban research in the Global North and South this book promises to be an essential text for anyone interested in the study of cities and urban life It will be of use to those in the fields of anthropology economics geography sociology and urban planning International Handbook of Globalization and World Cities Ben Derudder,2012-02-01 This Handbook offers an unrivalled overview of current research into how globalization is affecting the external relations and internal structures of major cities in the world By treating cities at a global scale it focuses on the stretching of urban functions beyond specific place locations without losing sight of the multiple divisions in contemporary world cities The book firmly bases city networks in their historical context critically discusses contemporary concepts and key empirical measures and analyses major issues relating to world city infrastructures economies governance and divisions The variety of urban outcomes in contemporary globalization is explored through detailed case studies Edited by leading scholars of the Globalization and World Cities GaWC Research Network and written by over 60 experts in the field the Handbook is a unique resource for students researchers and academics in urban and globalization studies as well as for city professionals in planning and policy Urban and Regional Planning and Development Rajiv R. Thakur,Ashok K.

Dutt,Sudhir K. Thakur,George M. Pomeroy,2020-02-10 This book discusses urban planning and regional development practices in the twentieth century and ways in which they are currently being transformed It addresses questions such as What are the factors affecting planning dynamics at local regional national and global scales With the push to adopt a market paradigm in land development and infrastructure the relationship between resource management sustainable development and the role of governance has been transformed Centralized planning is giving way to privatization not only in the traditional regions but also in newly emerging regions of Asia Africa and Latin America Further attempts are being made to bring planning related decision making closer to the people who are most affected by it Presenting a collection of studies from scholars around the world and highlighting recent advances in the field the book is a valuable reference guide for those engaged in urban transformations whether as graduate students researchers practitioners or policymakers

Spaces of Vernacular Creativity Tim Edensor, Deborah Leslie, Steve Millington, Norma Rantisi, 2009-10-29 This book argues for a rethinking of what constitutes creativity foregrounding non economic values and practices and the often marginal and everyday spaces in which creativity takes shape

The Urban Condition Brendan Gleeson, 2014-05-23 This book will speak to the new human epoch the Urban Age A majority of humanity now lives for the first time in cities The city the highest invention of the modern age is now the human heartland And yet the same process that brought us the city and its wonders modernisation has also thrown up challenges and threats especially climate change resource depletion social division and economic insecurity This book considers how these threats are encountered and countered in the urban age focusing on the issue of human knowledge and self awareness just as Hannah Arendt s influential The Human Condition did half a century ago The Human Condition is now The Urban Condition And it is this condition that will define human prospects in an age of default and risk Gleeson expertly explores the concept through three main themes The first is an exploration of what defines the current human condition especially the expanding cities that are at the heart of an over consumptive world economic order The second exposes and reviews the reawakening of forms of knowledge naturalism that are likely to worsen not improve our comprehension of the crisis The new science of urbanism in popular new literature exemplifies this dangerous trend The third and last part of the book considers prospects for a new urban and therefore human dispensation The Good City We must first journey in our urban vessels through troubled times But can we now start to plot the way to new shores to a safer more resilient city that provides for human flourishing The Urban Condition attempts this ideal conceiving a new urbanism based on the old idea of self limitation The Urban Condition is an original timely book that reconsiders and redeploys Arendt s famous notion of The Human Condition in an age of cities and risk It brings together several important strands of human consideration urbanisation climate threat resource depletion economic default and critical knowledge and weaves them into a new analysis of the times It also looks to a future that is nearly with us of changed climate resource scarcity and economic stress The book journeys into these troubled times proposing the idea of Lifeboat Cities as a way of thinking about the human journey to come

Demography for Planning and Policy: Australian Case Studies Tom Wilson, Elin Charles-Edwards, Martin Bell, 2015-11-25 This edited collection shows how demographic analysis plays a pivotal role in planning policy and funding decisions in Australia Drawing on the latest demographic data and methods these case studies in applied demography demonstrate that population dynamics underpin the full spectrum of contemporary social economic and political issues The contributors harness a range of demographic statistics and develop innovative techniques demonstrating how population dynamics influence issues such as electoral representation the distribution of government funding metropolitan and local planning the provision of aged housing rural depopulation coastal growth ethnic diversity and the well being of Australia's Indigenous community Moving beyond simple statistics the case studies show that demographic methods and models offer crucial insights into contemporary problems and provide essential perspectives to aid efficiency equity in public policy and private sector planning Together the volume represents essential reading for students across the social sciences as for policy makers in government and private industry Planning for Climate Change Simin Davoudi, Jenny Crawford, Abid Mehmood, 2009-09-02 Climate change is changing the context of spatial planning and shaping its priorities It has strengthened its environmental dimension and has become a new rationale for coordinating actions and integrating different policy priorities This book sets out the economic social and environmental challenges that climate change raises for urban and regional planners and explores current and potential responses These are set within the context of recent research and scholarly works on the role of spatial planning in combating climate change Addressing both mitigation measures for reducing greenhouse gas emissions and adaptation to the effects of climate change the book provides an overview of emerging practice with analysis of the drivers of policy change and practical implementation of measures It scopes planning issues and opportunities at different spatial scales drawing on both the UK and international experiences and highlighting the need to link global and local responses to shared risks and opportunities Routledge Companion to Professional Awareness and Diversity in Planning Education Stephen Kofi Diko, Leah Marie Hollstein, Danilo Palazzo, 2023-04-21 The Routledge Companion to Professional Awareness and Diversity in Planning Education engenders a discourse on how urban planning as a discipline is being made attractive to children and youth as they consider their career preferences It also provides a discourse around the diversity challenges facing the institutions for training urban planning professionals This Companion is an impressive collection of initiatives experiences and lessons in helping children youth and the general public appreciate the importance of and the diversity challenge confronting the urban planning profession and education It comprises empirical experimental and case study research on initiatives to address the professional awareness and diversity challenges in urban planning It has uniquely assembled voices and experiences from countries in Africa Asia Europe and North America Contributors are educators practitioners and activists of urban planning as well as policymakers in their respective countries This Companion is intended as a resource for urban planning schools and departments foundations non profit organizations private sector organizations public institutions teachers and alumni among others to learn and consciously drive efforts to increase planning education awareness among children youth and the general public Chapter 6 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license
