Liver Transplantation Practice And Management:

Liver Transplantation James Neuberger, Michael Lucey, 1994-03-23 Liver transplantation is no longer an experiment but an accepted treatment for liver disease. As the procedure becomes more common and successful, more doctors find themselves considering referring patients for transplantation and managing them before and after the operation. This book concentrates on the practical aspects of managing these patients. It is aimed not only at staff based in liver transplant units but especially and uniquely at doctors not working in liver units. As well as the surgical procedure, it covers indications for referral, managing patients on the waiting list, recognizing and managing immunological, surgical and medical complications after transplantation, particular considerations in managing children, rehabilitation, psychiatric health of patients and ethical issues.

Peri-operative Anesthetic Management in Liver Transplantation Vijay Vohra, Nikunj Gupta, Annu Sarin Jolly, Seema Bhalotra, 2023-01-04 The book covers all aspects of peri-operative anesthetic management of liver transplant patients. It provides a comprehensive coverage of the relevant history, surgeons, hepatologists, intensivists and pediatricians' perspective of the disease, its pathogenesis, clinical presentation and indication for transplant. It discusses the practical aspects like fluid management and use of vasopressors. The book is divided into sections for a better and comprehensive delivery of information. Individual sections provide up-to-date information on the pre-operative issues and optimisation, intra-operative care and management and post-operative critical care issues and management of all transplant patients with special emphasis on recent advances. Separate sections cover ICU care of these patients in great detail and anesthetic management of pediatric liver transplant. The book includes anesthetic techniques involved in conducting multiorgan transplant. It discusses clinical approach to a patient with acute liver failure, brain death criteria and laws and organ donor management. It also presents newer techniques and methodologies adopted in the field of liver transplant. It includes ample illustrations, flowcharts, key points in each chapter, figures and photographs. The book contains chapters focusing on post-transplant patients presenting for non-transplant surgery. The book fills the gap in the literature for a comprehensive guide for the anesthetist performing or pursuing liver transplant, students, trainees, examinees who have a keen interest in this field and doctors dealing with such patients in critical care, donor management, pursuing general anesthesia. It is also helpful for hepatologists, intensivists and surgeons associated with liver transplant.
