Inequality In The Peruvian Andes Class And Ethnicity In Cuzco:

Inequality in the Peruvian Andes Pierre L. Van den Berghe, George P. Primov, 1977 Monograph on inequality in the social structure in the Andean region of Peru documents the institutional framework and interplay between social class and ethnic factors in the cuzco region and considers historical and geographical aspects ecological conditions cultural factors interethnic relations demographic aspects social stratification and social mobility and refers to the economic structure and political system etc Bibliography pp 297 to 320 illustrations map and statistical tables Ethnicity, Markets, and Migration in the Andes Brooke Larson, Olivia Harris, Enrique Tandeter, 1995 Major compilation of historical and anthropological articles focuses on the nature of markets and exchange structures in the Andes Prominent scholars explore Andean participation in the European market structure the influence of migration in changing ethnic boundaries and spheres of exchange and the politics of market exchange during the colonial period Larson s introduction places articles within the context of Andean economic systems while Harris concludes with an appreciation of the relationships between mestizo and indigenous ethnic identities in the context of market relations Both introduction and conclusion lend a greater coherence to this carefully crafted and monumental volume Handbook of Latin American Studies v 57 The Social Life of Economic Inequalities in Contemporary Latin America Margit Ystanes, Iselin Åsedotter Strønen, 2017-10-25 This book is open access under a CC BY 4.0 license This edited volume examines how economic processes have worked upon social lives and social realities in Latin America during the past decades Through tracing the effects of the neoliberal epoch into the era of the so called pink tide the book seeks to understand to what extent the turn to the left at the start of the millennium managed to challenge historically constituted configurations of inequality A central argument in the book is that in spite of economic reforms and social advances on a range of arenas the fundamental tenants of socio economic inequalities have not been challenged substantially As several countries are now experiencing a return to right wing politics this collection helps us better understand why inequalities are so entrenched in the Latin American continent but also the complex and creative ways that it is continuously contested The book directs itself to students scholars and anyone interested in Latin America economic anthropology political anthropology left wing politics poverty and socio economic inequalities Poverty and Peasantry in Peru's Southern Andes, 1963-90 R.F. Watters, 1994-06-18 This study views the peasantry in the context of the historical experience of conquest and domination Since the 1950s the community of Chilca has become more mobilized and confident and increasingly affected by capitalism urbanization the Peruvian Revolution and agrarian reform Ethnic Identities and Prejudices Paranjpe, 2022-05-16 Viva Sarah A. Radcliffe, Dr Sallie Westwood, Sallie Westwood, 2014-01-09 Viva explores the growing role of women in Latin America focussing in particular on the construction of gender through political activism and the centrality of gender class and ethnicity to the ideological construct of the nation Higher Education in Latin American Lewis Tyler, Maria Helenda De Magalhaes Castro, Hernan Courard Bull, Rollin Kent, Daniel C. Levy, Marcela Mollis, Juan Carlos Navarro, Philip G. Altbach, 2014-02-25 The purpose of this series is to bring together the main currents in today's higher education and examine such crucial issues as the changing nature of education in the U.S., the considerable adjustment demanded of institutions, administrators, the faculty, the role of Catholic education, the remarkable growth of higher education in Latin America, contemporary educational concerns in Europe and more. Among the many specific questions examined in individual articles are: Is it true that women are subtly changing the academic profession? How is power concentrated in academic organizations? How successful are Latin America's private universities? What is the correlation between higher education and employment in Spain? Is minority graduate education in the U.S. producing the desired results? Sacrifice and Regeneration Yael Mabat, 2022-12 At the dawn of the twentieth century while Lima's aristocrats hotly debated the future of a nation filled with Indians, thousands of Aymara and Quechua Indians left the pews of the Catholic Church and were baptized into Seventh-day Adventism. One of the most staggering Christian phenomena of our time, the mass conversion from Catholicism to various forms of Protestantism in Latin America was so successful that Catholic contemporaries became extremely anxious on noticing that parts of the Indigenous population in the Andean plateau had joined a Protestant church. In Sacrifice and Regeneration Yael Mabat focuses on the extraordinary success of Seventh-day Adventism in the Andean highlands at the beginning of the twentieth century and sheds light on the historical trajectories of Protestantism in Latin America. By approaching the religious conversion among Indigenous populations in the Andes as a multifaceted and dynamic interaction between converts, missionaries, and their social settings and networks, Mabat demonstrates how the religious and spiritual needs of converts also brought salvation to the missionaries. Conversion had important ramifications on the way social, political, and economic institutions on the local and national level functioned. At the same time, socioeconomic currents had both short-term and long-term impacts on idiosyncratic religious practices and beliefs that both accelerated and impeded religious change. Mabat's innovative historical perspective on religious transformation allows us to better comprehend the complex and often contradictory way in which Protestantism took shape in Latin America. Cholas and Pishtacos Mary Weismantel, 2001-10-10 Cholas and Pishtacos are two provocative characters from South American popular culture: a sensual mixed-race woman and a horrifying white killer who show up in everything from horror stories and dirty jokes to romantic novels and travel posters. In this elegantly written book, these two figures become vehicles for an exploration of race, sex, and violence that pulls the reader into the vivid landscapes and lively cities of the Andes. Weismantel's theory of race and sex begins not with individual identity but with three forms of social and economic interaction: estrangement, exchange, and accumulation. She maps the barriers that separate white and Indian, male and female, barriers that exist not in order to prevent exchange but rather to exacerbate its inequality. Working with Language Hywel Coleman, 2011-04-20 CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE SOCIOLOGY OF LANGUAGE brings to students, researchers, and practitioners in all of the social and language-related sciences carefully selected, book-length publications dealing with sociolinguistic theory, methods, findings and applications It approaches the study of language in society in its broadest sense as a truly international and interdisciplinary field in which various approaches theoretical and empirical supplement and complement each other The series invites the attention of linguists language teachers of all interests sociologists political scientists anthropologists historians etc to the development of the sociology of language We are a People Paul R. Spickard, W. Jeffrey Burroughs, 2000 As the twentieth century closes ethnicity stands out as a powerful force for binding people together in a sense of shared origins and worldview But this emphasis on a people's uniqueness can also develop into a distorted rationale for insularity inter ethnic animosity or as we have seen in this century armed conflict Ethnic identity clearly holds very real consequences for individuals and peoples yet there is not much agreement on what exactly it is or how it is formed The growing recognition that ethnicity is not fixed and inherent but elastic and constructed fuels the essays in this collection Regarding identity as a dynamic on going formative and transformative process We Are a People considers narrative the creation and maintenance of a common story as the keystone in building a sense of peoplehood Myths of origin triumph over adversity migration and so forth chart a group's history while continual additions to the larger narrative stress moving into the future as a people Still there is more to our stories as individuals and groups Most of us are aware that we take on different roles and project different aspects of ourselves depending on the situation Some individuals who have inherited multiple group affiliations from their families view themselves not as this or that but all at once So too with ethnic groups The so called hyphenated Americans are not the only people in the world to recognize or embrace their plurality This relatively recent acknowledgment of multiplicity has potentially wide implications destabilizing the limited and limiting categories inscribed in for example public policy and discourse on race relations We Are a People is a path breaking volume boldly illustrating how ethnic identity works in the real world Author note Paul Spickard is Professor and Chair of Asian American Studies at UC Santa Barbara and is author of Mixed Blood W Jeffrey Burroughs is Professor of Psychology at Brigham Young University Hawaii Alpacas, Sheep, and Men Benjamin S. Orlove, 2014-05-10 Alpacas Sheep and Men The Wool Export Economy and Regional Society in Southern Peru investigates the response of the Sicuani region in southern Peru to the wool export economy and its consequent integration into the nation state in the late nineteenth century The book traces the economic and political conflicts engendered by the export economy such as those between landlords and peasants in the countryside and landlords versus traders in town It also examines how these conflicts shaped the metamorphosis of a closed isolated localized society into an open one and its incorporation into national politics as well as global economics Comprised of 11 chapters this book begins with a review of the theories of modernization and dependency followed by a discussion on the development of the world market for wool and the component elements of the wool economy of the entire southern Peru Subsequent chapters focus on the regional society in more detail with emphasis on the concept of region and the economic activities of different sectors variation in forms of land tenure and labor relations in two provinces the relations among herders peasants and artisans and regional politics The three major groups of artisans and workers in the region who use wool are considered namely urban furriers textile mill workers and rural weavers The book concludes with an analysis of the fundamental importance of the wool export economy in the Sicuani region using the sectorial model This monograph should be of interest to students and anthropologists      Indelible Inequalities in Latin America Luis Reygadas,Paul Gootenberg,2010-10-21 Building on Charles Tillys relational framework for understanding enduring inequalities scholars explore the processes that have combined to produce and reproduce inequalities in Latin America since the earliest days of European colonialism      Vincent N. Parrillo Vincent N. Parrillo,2020-08-16 This book is a collection of many talks and writings of Vincent N Parrillo a professor of sociology Fulbright scholar and internationally renowned expert on immigration and intergroup relations He gave dozens of invited lectures on three continents frequently under the sponsorship of the U S State Department through its programs in the U S Information Agency USIA and the International Information Program IIE In representing the United States abroad he was interviewed through numerous radio television and newspaper outlets including Radio Free Europe and Voice of America In addition other speaking engagements came from universities in Asia Canada and Europe some of these as the keynote speaker at international conferences He was also a visiting scholar in Belgium the Czech Republic England and Italy Numerous U S newspapers also called upon him for his commentary on current events His reputation both in his homeland and abroad primarily came from his journal articles and books that mostly centered on the themes of assimilation diversity or multiculturalism As his public presentations and writings increased they generated still more speaking invitations that in turn led to many being transcribed and printed in various scholarly publications Many but not all of these writings have been included here A unique and multidimensional person Parrillo expanded his horizons into other fields of endeavor He wrote narrated and produced six television documentaries for PBS so popular that they were aired repeatedly and DVD copies were in heavy demand He drew from his insights into Ellis Island and immigration to write two historical novels He also acted in or directed dozens of plays comedies dramas and musicals for a number of community theaters in northern New Jersey This collection is an effort to capture at least a part of his insights and observations that he presented to a worldwide public      Cultural Anthropology Richard H.

Robbins,Rachel A. Dowty Beech,2020-07-16 In a first of its kind format Cultural Anthropology A Problem Based Approach is organized by problems and questions rather than topics creating a natural discussion of traditional anthropological concerns such as kinship caste gender roles and religion      Ibss: Anthropology: 1978 International Committee for Social Science Information and Documentation,1990-12-31 First published in 1981 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company      Music and the Racial Imagination Ronald M. Radano,Philip V. Bohlman,2000-12 A specter lurks in the house of music and it goes by the name of race write Ronald Radano and Philip Bohlman in their introduction Yet the intimate relationship between race and music has rarely been examined by contemporary scholars most of whom have abandoned it for the more enlightened notions of ethnicity and culture Here a distinguished group of contributors confront the issue head on Representing an unusually broad range of academic disciplines and geographic regions they critically examine how the imagination of race has influenced musical production reception and scholarly analysis even as they reject the objectivity of the concept itself Each essay follows the lead of the substantial introduction which reviews the history of race in European and American non Western and global musics placing it within the contexts of the colonial experience and the more recent formation of world music Offering a bold new revisionist agenda for musicology in a postmodern postcolonial world this book will appeal to students of culture and race across the humanities and social sciences Risky Rivers Michael

Chibnik,1994-01-01 While anthropologists and ecologists have carefully described the activities of the slash and burn cultivators ranchers and miners of tropical South America they have largely overlooked the economic strategies and political struggles of riverine people who survive by flood recession agriculture and fishing These ribere_os who constitute the majority of the inhabitants of the Amazonian floodplains of Peru have developed ecologically sustainable resource management practices that enable them to cope with periodic inundations of their fields by risky rivers They have however suffered greatly from unpredictable crop prices and erratic state agricultural policies Michael Chibnik here examines the household economies cultural ecology grassroots political organizations of ribere_os living in three floodplain villages near Iquitos Peru He describes the villagers remarkable history their participation in misconceived development programs and their longstanding conflicts with regional elites Chibnik discusses the political ecology of the region in the context of arguments about appropriate development policies in tropical lowlands Although ribere_os practice intensive agriculture with low environmental impact they have not been able to improve their economic circumstances in recent years Chibnik s study is a significant and timely contribution to current debates about the possibility of sustainable equitable development in Amazonia Identity Destabilised Thomas Hylland Eriksen,Elisabeth Schober,2016-10-20 The world is overheated Too full and too fast out of sync contradiction ridden and unequal It is the age of the Anthropocene of humanity s indelible mark upon the planet In short it is globalisation but not as we know it This collection explores social identities in today s overheated world seen from an anthropological perspective The focus is on contradictions tensions and paradoxes How can an identity be stable if its border is constantly shifting How can a community survive if it is incorporated into a huge entity How does belonging work in new cities And what can indigenous peoples do to retain a sense of self in a fast moving neoliberal world Ethnographically rich and diverse in its scope Identity Destabilised contains chapters from many parts of the world including the Philippines Israel Australia the Cape Verde Islands and Afghanistan The authors investigate how identity changes in response to contemporary forces from rapid industrialisation the enforced return of migrants and the silencing of indigenous groups to sudden population growth in boomtowns and the touristification of local culture Peasants on Plantations Vincent C. Peloso,1999 An account of the way social relations governing the production of cotton in Peru s South Coast changed as capitalism penetrated Peru's agrarian base the analysis is unusual in that the author looks at the plantation system from a peasant poi
