Information And Creation Integrating The Two Cultures:

Evolutionary and Neurocognitive Approaches to Aesthetics, Creativity and the Arts Colin Martindale, Paul Locher, Vladimir M Petrov, Arnold Berleant, 2019-06-04 In this book well known scholars describe new and exciting approaches to aesthetics creativity and psychology of the arts approaching these topics from a point of view that is biological or related to biology and answering new questions with new methods and theories All known societies produce and enjoy arts such as literature music and visual decoration or depiction Judging from prehistoric archaeological evidence this arose very early in human development Furthermore Darwin was explicit in attributing aesthetic sensitivity to lower animals These considerations lead us to wonder whether the arts might not be evolutionarily based Although such an evolutionary basis is not obvious on the face of it the idea has recently elicited considerable attention The book begins with a consideration of ten theories on the evolutionary function of specific arts such as music and literature The theory of evolution was first drawn up in biology but evolution is not confined to biology genuinely evolutionary theories of sociocultural change can be formulated That they need to be formulated is shown in several chapters that discuss regular trends in literature and scientific writings Psychologists have recently rediscovered the obvious fact that thought and perception occur in the brain so cognitive science moves ever closer to neuroscience Several chapters give overviews of neurocognitive and neural network approaches to creativity and aesthetic appreciation The book concludes with two exciting describing brain scan research on what happens in the brain during creativity and presenting a close examination of the relationship between genetically transmitted mental disorder and creativity Integrative Explorations of the Creative Mind Leonid Dorfman, Pavel Machotka, Vladimir Petrov, 2019-10-02 The book is about creativity and relates to the field of creative cognition divergent thinking and innovation The essays collected here highlight new and exciting explorations of ideas and theories of integrative approaches to the creative mind This singularity allows a unique and fresh look at the concept of creativity The primary markets for this book are universities and professional bodies in the field of psychology humanities and social sciences and it will also appeal to specialists in the fields of cognitive psychology sociology culturology the arts studies physiology and other areas of the humanities Information and Creation German Golitsyn, Vladimir Petrov, 2012-04-26 This book is devoted to one of the central problems of contemporary thinking for which C P Snow in 1959 coined the phrase of the Two Cultures In this concept human endeavour is directed on one side to the forward looking sciences mathematics physics chemistry biology etc and on the other side to the backward looking humanities including psychology linguistics sociology etc In this dichotomy Snow saw no possibility of unification On the other hand the urge towards self consistency and harmony in the mental and spiritual lives of both man and society as a whole is clearly one of the major forces of creativity both scientific and artistic This force aims at the unification of the Two Cultures in order to build an integrated self consistent system for our intellectual life Some attempts in this direction have been made before and will be described in this book It is our aim to contribute to the achievement of an integrated mental life on the basis of information theory In order to construct our model we examine the laws of information theory leading us to the deduction of the main laws inherent in both cultures Thus we consider the evolution of both non living and living matter human behaviour the phenomenon of language the sphere of aesthetics etc We hope that our work will be useful both for researchers who are trying to derive different integral theories and for various other consumers of scientific knowledge meaning broad circles of intellectuals

Information and Creation German Alekseevich Golitsyn, V. M. Petrov, 1995 The aim is to set up a model that derives important features common to the two diverging streams of human intellectual activity the one pursuing the exact natural sciences and the other what is broadly termed the humanities It is the book s tenet that by trying to integrate or harmonize these two spheres man can better control and thus increase the effectiveness of human knowledge

Rezaei,2023-01-01 Integrated Education and Learning aims to discuss novel approaches to offer integrated educational methods Within the last few years educational techniques have evolved to favour critical thinking and improve learning skills This volume links thinking and learning in educational settings and discusses diverse mechanisms that influence this association including meta cognitive capacity memory cognitive style conceptual approaches digitalization teaching approaches echoing and questioning It embraces this discussion at all levels from early childhood education to higher education This book also includes teaching tips for creating a learning environment that cultivates students creativity and critical thinking on both online platforms and live in classroom The book follows discussing the merits of an integrated educational paradigm that will help develop highly intellectual thinkers and will promote modern values to face current and future challenges Finally the book shows a balance between learning and education to enhance creativity critical thinking and social skills Regional Balance and National Integration in Cameroon Paul Nchoji Nkwi,Francis B. Nyamnjoh,2011

This book presents a series of reflections by Cameroon scholars on a variety of topics associated with regional balance and national integration The different reflections look for answers to some burning questions of the day such as Where are we coming from Where are we going How are we going where we are going Have the different state ideologies offered appropriate solutions to the quest for a strong united stable and prosperous nation state If not what has gone wrong and why What can be done to shape the future and accommodate the aspirations of the men and women of Cameroon and of their progeny The book addresses the issue of national unity and national integration within the context of different political perceptions and visions It examines the merits and demerits of the policy of regional balance of the Ahmadou Ahidjo years 1960 1982 Focus is also on the underlying flaws of this doctrine and philosophy The debate also addresses some critical questions of the national integration policy and practices of Paul Biya President since November 1982 The policy has failed to achieve its stated goals and has ended up in the ethnicisation and polarisation of national life The future of the Cameroon nation state with its rich ethnic and cultural diversity seems to be in jeopardy as internal forces question the management of civil society by leaders who have lost the sense of justice and equity Why are there several voices singing the song of destitution and disappointment with the state Have regionalism and the rhetoric of national integration and balance emerged as untenable polities within a nation state in search of an identity and responsible leadership These are some of the questions and issues Cameroonian and Cameroonist scholars have tried to address in this collection of 28 well researched and outstandingly argued essays Atomization or Integration? Transborder Aspects of Multipedagogy Justyna Pilarska, Alicja Szerlağ, Arkadiusz Urbanek, 2016-06-22 This volume represents the result of cooperation between representatives of different academic disciplines particularly researchers dealing with multiculturalism cross cultural education civil education penitentiary pedagogy in the context of global and European cultural and demographic transformations and ethnopedagogues sociologists and historians The contributors here are united by a common interest in cross border interpretations of cultural differences within pedagogical and social discourse As such the book presents in depth and versatile reflections on the current ways of conceptualising multiculturalism as expressed across Europe Each chapter includes a conclusion indicating the areas in which the respective study will have a particular impact The book will be of interest to experts practitioners and teachers dealing with multicultural issues penitentiary tutors and authorities working with foreign prisoners theoreticians of contemporary pedagogical discourse involving cultural sociological and political issues and the general reader attentive to processes of European integration and their related aspects including cultural diversity globalization and religious radicalization Reluctant Exiles? Ronald Skeldon, 2016-09-16 This work presents an assessment of the migration from Hong Kong that has occurred since the second half of the 1980s This pronounced outflow of highly educated people a brain drain is having a profound impact on destination areas as well as on Hong Kong itself Transnational Activities and Immigrant Integration in Germany Reinhard Schunck, 2014-02-17 This book investigates both the causes and effects of transnational activities among immigrants in relation to their integration into the receiving society It uses large scale representative data about first and second generation immigrants in Germany It develops a formal theoretical model which explains both transnational involvement and paths of immigrant integration Important questions are answered What consequences does transnational involvement have on integration Is transnational involvement a distinct form of integration Is it an alternative to assimilation Does it hinder or facilitate assimilation Longitudinal analyses are presented which show that immigrant integration and transnational involvement do not necessarily oppose each other The book shows that although low levels of integration may coincide with strong transnational ties the relationship is not causal This book shows how immigrant integration and transnational involvement are related to each other and how a joint examination of both processes may advance our understanding of the general dynamics of migration and integration

Translating Cultures David Katan, 2014-06-03 As the 21st century gets into stride so does the call for a discipline combining culture and translation This second edition of Translating Cultures retains its original aim of putting some rigour and coherence into these fashionable words and lays the foundation for such a discipline This edition has not only been thoroughly revised but it has also been expanded In particular a new chapter has been added which focuses specifically on training translators for translational and intercultural competencies The core of the book provides a model for teaching culture to translators interpreters and other mediators It introduces the reader to current understanding about culture and aims to raise awareness of the fundamental role of culture in constructing perceiving and translating reality Culture is perceived throughout as a system for orienting experience and a basic presupposition is that the organization of experience is not reality but rather a simplified model and a distortion which varies from culture to culture Each culture acts as a frame within which external signs or reality are interpreted The approach is interdisciplinary taking ideas from contemporary translation theory anthropology Bateson s logical typing and metamessage theories Bandler and Grinder s NLP meta model theory and Hallidayan functional grammar Authentic texts and translations are offered to illustrate the various strategies that a cultural mediator can adopt in order to make the different cultural frames he or she is mediating between more explicit

Mergers and Acquisitions Mark Thomas,Janna L. Rose,2024-04-05 Covid 19 has brought so much uncertainty but one certainty is that the vaccine race will generate winners and losers in the pharmaceutical and biotechnology industries This will have a major impact on merger and acquisition activity While the plethora of merger and acquisition deals are abundantly reported by the news media there is a clear lack of in depth analysis on the multiple rationales and various challenges in the life sciences industry By offering contributions from a variety of experts in the biotechnology and pharmaceutical industries as well as experts on mergers and acquisitions this edited collection will draw upon the knowledge of a variety of different actors within the fields of pharma and biotech This book offers a timely exploration of the complexities of mergers and acquisitions in the pharmaceutical and biotechnology industries while seeking to bridge the gap between theory and practice It presents a critical analysis of the rationale for acquisitions and studies the challenges of ensuring a successful deal In the light of the Covid 19 pandemic it will also explore the impact this may have on the industry which may further stimulate merger and acquisition activity It will be of interest to researchers academics policymakers and students in the fields of strategy management governance and the biotechnology and pharmaceutical industries

International Handbook of Migration, Minorities and Education Zvi Bekerman,Thomas Geisen,2011-10-06 Migrants and minorities are always at risk of being caught in essentialized cultural definitions and being denied the right to express their cultural preferences because they are perceived as threats to social cohesion Migrants and minorities respond to these difficulties in multiple ways as active agents in the pedagogical political social and scientific processes that position them in this or that cultural sphere On the one hand they reject ascribed cultural attributes while striving towards integration in a variety of social spheres e g school and workplace in order to achieve social mobility On the other hand they articulate demands for cultural self determination This discursive duality is met with suspicion by the majority culture For societies with high levels of migration or with substantial minority cultures questions related to the meaning of cultural heterogeneity and the social and cultural limits of learning and communication e g migration education or critical multiculturalism are very important It is precisely here where the chances for new beginnings and new trials become of great importance for educational theorizing which urgently needs to find answers to current questions about individual freedom community cultural affiliations and social and democratic cohesion Answers to these questions must account for both political and learning perspectives at the macro mezzo and micro contextual levels The contributions of this edited volume enhance the knowledge in the field of migrant minority education with a special emphasis on the meaning of culture and social learning for educational processes
