Information Structure In A Croblinguistic Perspective Language And Computers 39:

FYI. Theory and typology of information packaging Niels Smit,2010   Information Structure in a Cross-Linguistic Perspective ,2016-08-29 The present volume draws together contributions from a number of scholars with an interest in empirical cross linguistic description Most of the papers were first presented at the symposium Information Structure in a Cross linguistic Perspective held in Oslo in November December 2000 The descriptions are functionally oriented and their common focus is how information structure in a broad sense can be compared across languages Information structure has been approached in a variety of ways by the authors so as to give a broad picture of this fundamental principle of text production involving the way in which a speaker writer chooses to present a message in terms of given new information focus cohesion and point of view Central to much of the research is the problem of establishing criteria for isolating linguistic constraints on language use from cultural linguistic conventions in text production The linguistic comparison includes English German and or one of the Scandinavian languages with sidelights to other languages Most of the papers are text or corpus based and the ongoing work on parallel corpora in Scandinavia is reflected in several contributions   Anaphora: Analysis, Algorithms and Applications António Branco,2007-03-16 This book constitutes revised selected papers of the 6th Discourse Anaphora and Anaphor Resolution Colloquium DAARC 2007 held in Lagos Portugal in March 2007 The 13 revised full papers are organized in topical sections on human processing and performance language analysis and representation resolution methodology and algorithms as well as computational systems and applications

'Subordination' versus 'Coordination' in Sentence and Text Cathrine Fabricius-Hansen,Wiebke Ramm,2008-05-21 The papers collected in this volume including a comprehensive introduction investigate semantic and discourse related aspects of subordination and coordination in particular the relationship between subordination coordination at the sentence level and subordination coordination or hierarchical non hierarchical organization at the discourse level The contributions in part I are concerned with central theoretical questions part II consists of corpus based cross linguistic studies of clause combining and discourse structure involving at least two of the languages English German Dutch French and Norwegian part III contains papers addressing specific predominantly semantic topics relating to German English or French and the papers in part IV approach the topic of subordination coordination and rhetorical relations from a diachronic Old Indic and Early Germanic perspective The book aims to contribute to a better understanding of information packaging on the sentence and text level related within a particular language as well as cross linguistically   Experimental and Theoretical Advances in Prosody Duane G. Watson,Michael Wagner,Edward Gibson,2012-11-12 Prosody is the rhythm stress and intonation of speech which encodes information that is not encoded by the syntax or words of an utterance Prosody is critical for parsing speech constructing syntactic structure and building a representation of the conversational discourse model among other linguistic functions In 2008 researchers from linguistics psychology and computer science gathered at the inaugural meeting of the conference on Experimental and Theoretical Approaches to Prosody at Cornell University The papers in this volume represent the cutting edge of the prosody work presented at that conference The articles in this special issue tackle a number of key questions What type of information about syntax semantics and context is reflected in prosody and intonation How much of that information can a listener retrieve from the signal How does this information facilitate language processing in online conversations How can this information be used to parse corpora and how can corpora be used to test theories on prosody Focus and Background in Romance Languages Andreas Dufter,Daniel Jacob,2009-06-18 Focus background structure has taken center stage in much current theorizing about sentence prosody syntax and semantics However both the inventory of focus expressions found cross linguistically and the interpretive consequences associated with each of these continue to be insufficiently described This volume aims at providing new observations on the availability and the use of focus markings in Romance languages In doing so it documents the plurality of research on focus in Spanish Portuguese French Italian and Romanian Topics covered include constituent fronting and clefting the position of subjects and focus particles clitic doubling of objects and information packaging in complex sentences In addition some contributions explore focus background structure from acquisitional and diachronic angles while others adopt a comparative perspective studying differences between individual Romance and Germanic languages Therefore this volume is of interest to a broad audience within linguistics including syntacticians semanticists and historical linguists The Architecture of Focus Valéria Molnár,Susanne Winkler,2011-12-22 This collection investigates the architecture of focus in linguistic theory from different theoretical perspectives Research on focus and information structure in the last four decades has shown that the phenomenon of focus is highly complex the theoretical approaches manifold and the data highly sensitive The main emphasis has been placed on the integration of the notion of focus in generative grammar In recent years however the approaches to focus and information structure underwent a radical change in perspective The theoretical concept of focus its related terms and phenomena became the object of research Along with it the research questions shifted instead of locating focus in the architecture of grammar linguists investigate the architecture of focus itself The central underlying idea of this collection is to document this change in perspective with the aim of isolating essential keystones and research areas in both the theoretical and empirical domain The book is structured accordingly Following the introduction there are four main sections The general section discusses the theoretical foundations of focus within grammar The second section hosts papers which investigate the representation of focus and topic at the syntax pragmatics interface The third section discusses the phonological representation of focus and its relation to meaning The papers of the final section investigate different types of focus constructions in a variety languages The collection of papers on the architecture of focus its interpretation and representation mirror the establishment of the focus research field Information Structure in a Cross-linguistic Perspective Hilde Hasselgård,2002 The present volume draws together contributions from a number of scholars with an interest in empirical cross linguistic description Most of the papers were first presented at the symposium Information Structure in a Cross linguistic Perspective held in Oslo in November December 2000 The descriptions are functionally oriented and their common focus is how information structure in a broad sense can be compared across languages Information structure has been approached in a variety of ways by the authors so as to give a broad picture of this fundamental principle of text production involving the way in which a speaker writer chooses to present a message in terms of given new information focus cohesion and point of view Central to much of the research is the problem of establishing criteria for isolating linguistic constraints on language use from cultural linguistic conventions in text production The linguistic comparison includes English German and or one of the Scandinavian languages with sidelights to other languages Most of the papers are text or corpus based and the ongoing work on parallel corpora in Scandinavia is reflected in several contributions   Space and Time in Languages and Cultures Luna Filipovi?,Kasia M. Jaszczolt,Katarzyna Jaszczolt,2012 This volume offers novel insights into linguistic diversity in the domains of spatial and temporal reference searching for uniformity amongst diversity A number of authors discuss expression of dynamic spatial relations cross linguistically in a vast range of typologically different languages such as Bezhta French Hinuq Italian Japanese Polish Serbian and Spanish among others The contributions on linguistic expression of time all shed new light on pertinent questions regarding this cognitive domain such as the hotly debated relationship between cross linguistic differences in talking about time and universal principles of utterance interpretation modelling temporal inference through aspectual interactions as well as the complexity of the acquisition of tense aspect relations in a second language The topic of space and time in language and culture is also represented from a different point of view in the sister volume Space and Time in Languages and Cultures Language Culture and Cognition HCP 37 which discusses spatial and temporal constructs in human language cognition and culture in order to come closer to a better understanding of the interaction between shared and individual characteristics of language and culture that shape the way people interact with each other and exchange information about the spatio temporal constructs that underlie their cognitive social and linguistic foundations   Contrastiveness in Information Structure, Alternatives and Scalar Implicatures Chungmin Lee,Ferenc Kiefer,Manfred Krifka,2017-01-11 A group of authors containing both leading authorities and young researchers addresses a number of issues of contrastiveness polarity items and exhaustivity quantificational expressions and the implicatures they generate and the interaction between semantic operators and speech acts The 19 contributions provide insights on the interplay between semantics and pragmatics The volume s reach is cross linguistic and takes an unorthodox multi paradigm approach Languages studied range from European languages including Hungarian and Russian to East Asian languages such as Japanese and Korean with rich data on focus and discourse particles This volume contributes to a major area of research in linguistics of the last decade and provides novel state of the art views on some of the central topics in linguistic research and will appeal to an audience of graduate and advanced undergraduate
