Eleventh Commandment Transforming To Own Customers:

The Eleventh Commandment Sandra Vandermerwe, 1996-08-06 How many of today's leading corporations are successfully winning back old customers and attracting new ones? The new purchasing patterns of disenchanted customers and the demise of brand loyalty have compelled many endangered corporate giants to radically alter their thinking about product design and marketing. This book describes how leading companies such as IBM, Nestle, Dupont, AT T and Panasonic have stopped creating products for buyers and have started considering the long term needs of users. Packed with real world cases which demonstrate crucial ideas, tools and techniques in action at leading firms. SANDRA VANDERMERWE, London, England holds a chair in Management at the Management School, Imperial College London. Her latest book is Tin Soldiers to Russian Dolls.

Breaking Through S. Vandermerwe, 2004-06-04 In this book the author brings together distinctive and cutting edge work based upon her own research and work with leading companies in the overlapping areas of strategy, marketing and innovation to provide a new and dynamic model to implement customer focus in enterprises. In an environment of falling margins, the model shows how to increase value to customers and improve business results.

That innovation in services is much more than the application of information technology IT In fact the disappointing returns to IT investments in services have resulted in a widespread debate about the causes and potential solutions the so called productivity paradox in services Instead here the authors adopt a broader notion of innovation including technological organizational and market change The key is to match the configuration of organization and technology to the specific market environment a The Power of Two C.
