Elements Of Christian Belief:

Elements of Christian belief D. B. Taylor, 1969 Christian Belief Interpreted by Christian Experience Charles Cuthbert Hall, 1905 What Do Christians Believe? Malcolm Guite, 2020-03-31 A lucid summary and interpretation of the Christian faith from one of the leading Christian poets of our time Jeremy Begbie Duke University I give you a new commandment that you love one another Just as I have loved you you also should love one another Jesus Christ Christianity began as a minor sect within Judaism and has become one of the major world religions What started as a small group of people who shared the same language lifestyle and background is now a movement which embraces many different languages and cultures giving rise to an astonishing variety of practices and interpretations yet all with a common basis of shared faith inspired by the teaching life death and new life of a carpenter from Nazareth How did this happen What Do Christians Believe was written for the reader looking for quick practical insights into the beliefs and practices of Christianity Jesus himself identified love as the essential element in both worship and daily life Using this teaching and the core Christian belief that Jesus was God s way of opening himself to humanity theologian poet and songwriter Malcolm Guite explains the inner meaning of such key Christian teachings as atonement redemption and the concept of God as Trinity Believing by Faith John Bishop, 2007-04-12 Can it be justifiable to commit oneself by faith to a religious claim when its truth lacks adequate support from one s total available evidence In Believing by Faith John Bishop defends a version of fideism inspired by William James s 1896 lecture The Will to Believe By critiquing both isolationist Wittgensteinian and Reformed epistemologies of religious belief Bishop argues that anyone who accepts that our publicly available evidence is equally open to theistic and naturalist atheistic interpretations will need to defend a modest fideist position This modest fideism understands theistic commitment as involving doxastic venture practical commitment to propositions held to be true through passionate causes causes other than the recognition of evidence of or for their truth While Bishop argues that concern about the justifiability of religious doxastic venture is ultimately moral concern he accepts that faith ventures can be morally justifiable only if they are in accord with the proper exercise of our rational epistemic capacities Legitimate faith ventures may thus never be counter evidential and furthermore may be made supra evidentially only when the truth of the faith proposition concerned necessarily cannot be settled on the basis of evidence Bishop extends this Jamesian account by requiring that justifiable faith ventures should also be morally acceptable both in motivation and content Hard line evidentialists however insist that all religious faith ventures are morally wrong Bishop thus conducts an extended debate between fideists and hard line evidentialists arguing that neither side can succeed in establishing the irrationality of its opposition He concludes by suggesting that fideism may nevertheless be morally preferable as a less dogmatic more self accepting even a more loving position than its evidentialist rival The Christian Century , 1925 The Westminster Dictionary of Christian Theology Alan Richardson, John Bowden, 1983-01-01 The Westminster Dictionary of Christian

Aspects of Christian Belief Hugh Ross Mackintosh, 1923 Brümmer on Meaning and the Christian Faith Vincent Brümmer, 2019-10-01 This volume presents a wide ranging selection from the writings of a leading contemporary philosophical theologian Vincent Brümmer. In his many books and articles Brümmer has demonstrated how the tools of philosophical analysis are not only fruitful but also essential for dealing with the central issues of systematic theology. The title of this volume Meaning and the Christian Faith highlights two characteristic themes that recur throughout the many writings of Vincent Brümmer. Much of his work has been devoted to exploring the meaning of the Christian faith and especially of its central claim that God is a personal being whose fellowship believers may enjoy. On the other hand Brümmer has also shown that religious belief should not be understood as an explanatory theory but rather as a way in which believers understand the meaning of their lives and their experience of the world and direct their lives accordingly. Thus in the Christian tradition believers claim that their lives are meaningful because they seek to attain ultimate happiness in the love of God. In the introductory sections throughout this volume Vincent Brümmer describes how he came to pay attention to the various themes dealt with in his writings and explains why he came to deal with them in the ways he did. Melanesians and Missionaries Darrell L. Whiteman, 2002-05-10 In Melanesians and Missionaries one of the best of the younger generation of missionary anthropologists demonstrates that a commitment to the missionary enterprise on the part of a solid scholar facilitates rather than hinders the anthropological study of a missionary topic. This is better anthropology because Dr Whiteman is able to probe more deeply into his topic and demonstrates that he understands and appreciates both Melanesians and missionaries. Charles H. Kraft, Professor of Anthropology, School of World Mission, Fuller Theological Seminary, Pasadena. We Believe in the Holy Spirit Henco van der Westhuizen, 2023-07-07 We Believe in the Holy Spirit is a collection of articles reflecting some of the most important ideas in pneumatology in recent years. Although the articles were not written to fit the articles of the Nicene Creed, 381 linking these articles to the articles of the creed sheds imaginative light on the development of ideas in theologies of the Spirit. The Philosophy of the Christian Religion Andrew Martin Fairbairn, 1902 The Index ... A Weekly Paper, 1870 Christian Faith (Two-Volume Set) Friedrich Schleiermacher, 2016-09-01 Christian Faith is one of the most important works of Christian theology ever written. The author, known as the father of theological liberalism, correlates the entirety of Christian doctrine to the human experience of and consciousness of God. A work of exhaustive scholarship written in deep sympathy with the ministry of congregations and church bodies, Christian Faith has inspired admiration and debate from all quarters of the Christian family since its first publication in 1821. This is the first full translation of Schleiermacher's Christian Faith since 1928 and the first English language critical edition ever. Edited by top Schleiermacher scholars, this edition includes extensive notes that detail changes Schleiermacher made to the text and explain references that may be unfamiliar to contemporary readers. Employing shorter sentences and more careful tracking of vocabulary, the editors have crafted a translation that is significantly easier to read.
