Implementation of ICT In Education at Senior Secondary Level Sanjay Pal, 1900 The purpose of this book is to introduce and demonstrate a new approach to supporting high-level decisions. This new methodology, the hybrid interactive multiple attribute exploratory process, combines multiple attribute decision making with exploratory to integrate expert opinion to evaluate diverse options with the intent of generating useful insights. Education is the process of facilitating learning or the acquisition of knowledge, skills, values, beliefs, and habits. Education frequently takes place under the guidance of educators. The methodology of teaching is called pedagogy. Traditional teaching is concerned with the teacher being the controller of the learning environment. Power and responsibility are held by the teacher, and they play the role of instructor in the form of lectures and decision maker in regards to curriculum content and specific outcomes. They regard students as having knowledge holes that need to be filled with information. In short, the traditional teacher views that it is the teacher that

Creative Regions Philip Cooke, Dafna Schwartz, 2008-03-25 This unique book focuses on regional creativity analysing the different factors that can affect creativity and innovation process within regions in the knowledge economy Approaching creativity from technological organizational and regional viewpoints it attempts to break down the influence of oppositional approaches and take account of multi level interactions in economy and policy The variety of papers presented looks at how regions can be creative and competitive how research and development is outsourced and the scientific knowledge and technology transferred what types of technology based cultural activities can operate the relevant financing and development of knowledge entrepreneurship Whilst many of these aspects are driven by market forces Creative Regions demonstrates that the regional and national public sectors have a significant role to play and is essential reading on how to generate a competitive advantage for regions in the knowledge economy in the global market

Distance, Rating Systems and Enterprise Finance Franz Flögel, 2018-07-27 In response to the credit crunch during the global financial crisis of 2007 2008 many have called for the re establishment of regional banks in the UK and elsewhere In this context Germany's regional banking system with its more than 1 400 small and regional savings banks and cooperative banks is viewed as a role model in the financing of small and medium sized enterprises SMEs However in line with the death of distance debate the universal application of ICT based scoring and rating systems potentially obviates the necessity for proximity to reduce information asymmetries between banks and SMEs calling into question the key advantage of regional banks Utilising novel ethnographic findings from full time participant observation and interviews this book presents intimate insights into regional savings banks and compares their SME lending practices with large nationwide operating commercial banks in Germany The ethnographic insights are contextualised by concise description of the three pillar German banking system covering bank regulation structural and geographical developments and enterprise finance Furthermore the book advances an original theoretical approach that combines classical banking theories with insights from social studies of finance on the ontological foundation of new realism Ethnographic findings reveal varying distances of credit granting depending on the rating results i.e. large banks allocate considerable credit granting authority to local staff and therefore challenge the proximity advantages of regional banks Nevertheless by presenting case studies of lending to SMEs the book demonstrates the ability of regional banks to capitalise on proximity when screening and monitoring financially distressed SMEs and explains why the suggestion that ICT can substitute for proximity in SME lending has to be rejected Teaching Physical Education Richard Bailey, 2013-10-11 Designed for all trainee and newly qualified teachers teacher trainers and mentors this volume provides a contemporary handbook for the teaching of physical education covering Key Stages 2 3 and 4 in line with current DfEE and TTA guidelines Distributed, Ambient and Pervasive Interactions.
