Presents a funct      Key Issues for Management of Innovative Projects Bernardo Llamas, Felipe Luis Mazadiego, María Dolores Storch De Gracia, 2017-08-30 This book gathers pioneering experiences based on the same concept innovation According to Schumpeter s research there would be four types of innovations product or service innovation market introduction of a new type of good process innovation introduction of a new type of production market innovation introduction of a new market in a country or a new market structure and innovation of matter introduction of a new raw material This book contains ten chapters organized in four main sections a Strategic Issues b Risk Management in Innovative Projects c Economic Issues and Financing Innovation and d Leadership and Teamwork      Key Issues for Mountain Areas Martin F. Price, Libor Jansky, Andrei A. Iatsenia, 2004 Mountain areas cover almost one quarter of the earth s land surface with a quarter of the global population living on them or very close by and they are sources of water food timber minerals and other natural resources They provide many opportunities for recreation as well as being centres of biological and cultural diversity and religious significance Unfortunately mountain environments and populations are also particularly threatened by climate change and political conflicts and their inhabitants include many of the poorest and most vulnerable in the world This publication includes a number of papers which explore a range of sustainable development challenges for mountain regions      Rethinking Development Economics Ha-Joon Chang, 2003 Impressive provides a very good compendium of what are usually classified as heterodox development economics an excellent volume Journal of International Development This important new collection tackles the failure of neoliberal reform to generate longterm growth and reduce poverty in many developing and transition economies As dramatically demonstrated in the collapse of the WTO s Seattle talks there is increasing dissatisfaction in both developing and developed countries with the emerging neoliberal global economic order The resignations of Joseph Stiglitz and Ravi Kanbur from the World Bank emphasize that this disillusionment with the orthodoxy now exists at the very heart of the establishment Yet the increasing demand for an alternative to this orthodoxy is not being met Over the last few decades the older generation of development economists have been edged out of most major universities particularly in the USA The situation in most developing countries is even worse although there is more demand for alternatives to orthodox development economics these countries have even less capability to generate such alternatives

Rethinking Development Economics is intended to fill this gap It addresses key issues in development economics ranging from macroeconomics finance and governance to trade industry agriculture and poverty Bringing together some of the foremost names in the field this comprehensive and timely collection constitutes a critical staging post in the future of development economics
