The Cambridge History of World Literature Debjani Ganguly, 2021-09-09 World Literature is a vital part of twentieth first century critical and comparative literary studies As a field that engages seriously with function of literary studies in our global era the study of World literature requires new approaches The Cambridge History of World Literature is founded on the assumption that World Literature is not all literatures of the world nor a canonical set of globally successful literary works It highlights scholarship on literary works that focus on the logics of circulation drawn from multiple literary cultures and technologies of the textual While not rejecting the nation as a site of analysis these volumes will offer insights into new cartographies the hemispheric the oceanic the transregional the archipelagic the multilingual local that better reflect the multi scalar and spatially dispersed nature of literary production It will interrogate existing historical methodological and cartographic boundaries and showcase humanistic and literary endeavors in the face of world scale environmental and humanitarian catastrophes The Reader's Adviser, 1986 Walford's Guide to reference material. Albert John

Walford, 1995 The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Methodology Federico Zanettin, Christopher Rundle, 2022-03-10 The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Methodology provides a comprehensive overview of methodologies in translation studies including both well established and more recent approaches The Handbook is organised into three sections the first of which covers methodological issues in the two main paradigms to have emerged from within translation studies namely skopos theory and descriptive translation studies The second section covers multidisciplinary perspectives in research methodology and considers their application in translation research The third section deals with practical and pragmatic methodological issues Each chapter provides a summary of relevant research a literature overview critical issues and topics recommendations for best practice and some suggestions for further reading Bringing together over 30 eminent international scholars from a wide range of disciplinary and geographical backgrounds this Handbook is essential reading for all students and scholars involved in translation methodology and research Institutions of World

Literature Stefan Helgesson, Pieter Vermeulen, 2015-06-19 This volume engages critically with the recent and ongoing consolidation of world literature as a paradigm of study On the basis of an extended active and ultimately more literary sense of what it means to institute world literature it views processes of institutionalization not as limitations but as challenges to understand how literature may simultaneously function as an enabling and exclusionary world of its own It starts from the observation that literature is never simply a given but is always performatively and materially instituted by translators publishers academics and academics critics and readers as well as authors themselves This volume therefore substantiates refines as well as interrogates current approaches to world literature such as those developed by David Damrosch Pascale Casanova and Emily Apter Sections focus on the poetics of writers themselves market dynamics postcolonial negotiations of discrete archives of literature and translation engaging a range of related disciplines The chapters contribute to a fresh understanding of how singular literary works become inserted in transnational systems and conversely how transnational and institutional dimensions of literature are inflected in literary works Focusing its methodological and theoretical inquiries on a broad archive of texts spanning the triangle Europe Latin America Africa the volume unsettles North America as the self evident vantage of recent world literature debates Because of the volume s focus on dialogues between world literature and fields such as postcolonial studies translation studies book history and transnational studies it will be of interest to scholars and students in a range of areas

The Routledge Concise History of World Literature Theo D'haen, 2013-03-01 This remarkably broad and informative book offers an introduction to and overview of World Literature Tracing the term from its earliest roots and situating it within a number of relevant contexts from postcolonialism to postmodernism Theo D'haen examines the return of the term world literature and its changing meaning Goethe s concept of Weltliteratur and how this relates to current debates theories and theorists who have had an impact on world literature non canonical and less known literatures from around the globe the possibility and implications of a definition of world literature This book is the ideal guide to an increasingly popular and important term in literary studies It is accessible and engaging and will be invaluable to students of world literature comparative literature translation and postcolonial studies and anyone with an interest in these or related topics

The Routledge Companion to World Literature and World History May Hawas, 2018-04-19 The Routledge Companion to World Literature and World History is a comprehensive and engaging volume combining essays from historians and literary academics to create a space for productive cross cultural encounters between the two fields In addition to the 27 essays the Companion includes general introductions from two of the leading scholars of history and literature David Damrosch and Patrick Manning as well as personal testimonies from artists working in the area and editorials asking provocative questions The volume includes sections on People with essays looking at World Literature Intellectual Commerce Religion language and war and Indigenous ethnography Networks and methods examining maps geography morality and the crises of world literature Transformations including essays on race colonialism and the non human Interdisciplinary and groundbreaking this volume brings to light various ways in which scholars of literature and history analyse assimilate or reveal the intellectual heritage of the past at the same moment as they try consciously to deal with an unending amount of new information and an awareness of global connections and discrepancies Including work from leading academics in the field as well as newer voices the Companion is ideal for students and scholars alike

In the Shadow of World Literature Michael Allan, 2016-04-05 We have grown accustomed to understanding world literature as a collection of national or linguistic traditions bound together in the universality of storytelling Michael Allan challenges this way of thinking and argues instead that the disciplinary framework of world literature far from serving as the neutral meeting ground of national literary traditions levels differences between scripture poetry and prose and fashions textual forms into a particular pedagogical aesthetic and ethical practice In the Shadow of World Literature examines the shift from Qur'anic schooling to secular education in colonial Egypt and shows how an emergent literary discipline transforms the act of reading itself The various chapters draw from debates in literary theory and anthropology to consider sites of reception that complicate the secular religious divide from the discovery of the Rosetta stone and translations of the Qur'an to debates about Charles Darwin in the modern Arabic novel. Through subtle analysis of competing interpretative frames, Allan reveals the ethical capacities and sensibilities literary reading requires, the conceptions of textuality and critique it institutionalizes, and the forms of subjectivity it authorizes. A brilliant and original exploration of what it means to be literate in the modern world, this book is a unique meditation on the reading practices that define the contours of world literature.

Between(s) and Beyond(s) in Contemporary Albanian Literature Bavjola Shatro, 2016-09-23

This book focuses on contemporary Albanian poetry given the important role it has continuously played in Albanian literature as a whole. It analyses particular literary periods and their representative poets from a comparative perspective. It raises meaningful questions that point to particularly interesting features of Albanian literature that call for in-depth study taking into account research conducted in this field over the years by both Albanian and foreign scholars. However, this book's focus on comparative literature and the perspectives that this academic practice offers for so-called small marginal literatures in the realm of European literatures allows for a different and unique analysis. It provides both an introduction and a well-structured approach to contemporary Albanian literature and to some of the problems that it faces in today's global context when national literatures and especially those from the margins have to reconsider their role and position in world literature. As such, the book will be of interest to scholars in the fields of comparative literature, East and South Eastern European literature, Albanian literature, Balkan studies, poetry studies, and cultural studies among others.
