Human Communication H. Lloyd Goodall, 1983-01-01 Human Communication, Creating Reality H. Lloyd Goodall, 1983 Theories of Human Communication Stephen W. Littlejohn, Karen A. Foss, John G. Oetzel, 2016-12-22 The Eleventh Edition is organized around 1 elements of the basic communication model communicator message medium and beyond human communication and 2 communication contexts relationship group organization health culture and society A new chapter discusses four frameworks by which theories can be organized students can see how theories contribute to and are impacted by larger issues about the nature of inquiry To provide comprehensive up to date coverage of theories the authors surveyed articles in communication journals published over the last five years Each chapter covers an average of 13 theories half of which are new to this edition New areas covered include health social media and beyond human communication communication between humans and nature humans and objects humans and technology humans and the divine From the Source boxes give students a look at the theorists behind the theories their inspirations motivations and goals Written in an accessible style the book is ideal for upper division undergraduate classes and as a comprehensive summary of major theories for the graduate level Creating Reality in Factual Television Manfred W. Becker, 2020-10-07 Creating Reality in Factual Television analyzes the uneasy interaction between economics culture and professional ethics in reality and documentary television storytelling Through the frankenbite an editorial tool that extracts and re orders the salient elements or single words of a statement interview or exchange into a revealing confession or argument the book explores how and why editors manipulate truth in factual television The author considers how the editing of documentary television is increasingly following reality television s dictate to entertain instead of inform how the real and the truth fall victim to the demand to tell entertaining stories and how editors must compromise their professional ethics as a result Drawing on interviews with 75 North American and European editors that explore their experiences and opinions of reality and documentary television practices and their views on their responsibilities and loyalties in the field Creating Reality in Factual Television illuminates the real and potential ethical dilemmas of editorial decision making the context in which decisions are made and how editors themselves validate the editing choices to themselves and others Addressing a dramatic development in contemporary media ecology the age of alternative facts this book is a useful research tool for scholars and students of documentary film media literacy genre studies media ethics affect theory and audience perception Shared Reality E. Tory Higgins, 2019-06-04 What does it mean to be human Why do we feel and behave in the ways that we do The classic answer is that we have a special kind of intelligence But to understand what we are as humans we also need to know what we are like motivationally And what is central to this story what is special about human motivation is that humans want to share with others their inner experiences about the world share how they feel what they believe and what they want to happen in the future They want to create a shared reality with others People have a shared reality together when they experience having in common a feeling about something a belief about something or a concern about something They feel connected to another person or group by knowing that this person or group sees the world the same way that they do they share what is real about the world In this work Dr Higgins describes how our human motivation for shared reality evolved in our species and how it develops in our children as shared feelings shared practices and shared goals and roles Shared reality is crucial to what we believe sharing is believing It is central to our sense of self what we strive for and how we strive It is basic to how we get along with others It brings us together in fellowship and companionship but it also tears us apart by creating in group bubbles that conflict with one another Our shared realities are the best of us and the worst of us

Erosion of Reality by Spatialisation and Digitalisation Pieter Brabers,2021-01-01 This book offers an innovative view of everyday reality It clarifies how the spatial dimension of reality as well as our personal and inter personal perception and interaction with reality aggravates human separateness at the expense of human connectedness It shows how many urgent societal challenges are affected by an imbalance between spatial and the non spatial aspects and offers an analysis of the impoverishment of society both in spatial terms spatialisation and in informational terms digitalisation Drawing on insights from quantum physics and depth psychology it proposes an unorthodox view of the potential of humans and of reality in itself that was lost in this impoverishment I found this book hugely interesting highly original and very well written I haven't come across these ideas presented in quite this way and so the book could be considered a groundbreaking contribution Dr Stephan Harding Resident Ecologist Schumacher College Author of Animate Earth It rarely happens that we are invited by a scholarly text to look at reality in a basically different way than the one we are used to at least in a way that is seductive and compelling at the same time But this is precisely what the text of Pieter Brabers has done with me Dr John Rijsman Emeritus Professor of Social Psychology Tilburg University Pieter Brabers monumental treatise draws our attention to possibly the key problem that underlies all our problems the way we construct reality Brabers opens the way to a better reality construction and understanding this form could highlight even if not necessarily immediately resolve the problems generated by our faulty reality as he calls it I recommend this book to all serious students of the disconnect that marks the fault of the contemporary view of the world Dr Ervin Laszlo author of The Akasha Paradigm Pieter Brabers 1944 studied Architecture and worked as a Lecturer at Delft University of Technology the Netherlands He has lived for the last 20 years in the south of Spain

Sustainable Media Nicole Starosielski, Janet Walker, 2016-02-19 Sustainable Media explores the many ways that media and environment are intertwined from the exploitation of natural and human resources during media production to the installation and disposal of media in the landscape from people's engagement with environmental issues in film television and digital media to the mediating properties of ecologies themselves Edited by Nicole Starosielski and Janet Walker the assembled chapters expose how the social and representational practices of media culture are necessarily caught up with technologies infrastructures and environments Through in depth analyses of media theories practices and objects including cell phone towers ecologically themed video games Geiger counters for registering radiation and sound waves traveling through the ocean contributors question the sustainability of the media we build exchange and inhabit and chart emerging alternatives for media ecologies Realism and 'reality' in Film and Media Anne Jerslev, 2002 The 2002 theme of Northern Lights is dedicated to the representation of reality in film TV and new media a question of new importance in modern film and media where a new wave of realism has dominated cinema and reality TV became a mass phenomena on both TV and the internet Eleven articles by Danish British and American film and media researchers focus on two sub themes Film and Realism deals theoretically with film realism and analyses classic films and modern Danish Dogma films Documentary Forms Reality TV and New Media treats new forms of non fiction film TV and on the internet in a both theoretical and historical perspective Christology as Critique Knut Alfsvag, 2018-09-24 If the origin of the world is not a part of the world what are the implications for our understanding of ourselves the world and its origin In antiquity both gentile and Christian authors agreed that the significance of this question could only be maintained by accepting the unbridgeable difference between the world and God Not even Christology as the most ambitious attempt at developing a model for divine human communication was allowed to undermine the principle of absolute divine difference This changed with the modern emphasis on univocity and measurability as the defining aspects of knowledge From the point of view of a philosophy of absolute difference this appears as an arbitrary loss of perspective By focusing on four authors Cusanus Luther Hamann and Kierkegaard who have explored how the Christian and paradoxical understanding of Christ as eternal God and true human subverts the modern emphasis on unambiguity and definability the present investigation makes an attempt to retrieve what has been lost Classical Christology as interpreted by these authors thus appears as an indispensable tool for receiving and appreciating the gift of the world in a way that is not unduly limited by anthropocentric prejudice
