Fried,2020-02-27 Facing Up to Scarcity offers a powerful critique of the nonconsequentialist approaches that have been dominant in Anglophone moral and political thought over the last fifty years In these essays Barbara H Fried examines the leading schools of contemporary nonconsequentialist thought including Rawlsianism Kantianism libertarianism and social contractarianism In the realm of moral philosophy she argues that nonconsequentialist theories grounded in the sanctity of individual reasons cannot solve the most important problems taken to be within their domain Those problems which arise from irreducible conflicts among legitimate and often identical individual interests can be resolved only through large scale interpersonal trade offs of the sort that nonconsequentialism foundationally rejects In addition to scrutinizing the internal logic of nonconsequentialist thought Fried considers the disastrous social consequences when nonconsequentialist intuitions are allowed to drive public policy In the realm of political philosophy she looks at the treatment of distributive justice in leading nonconsequentialist theories Here one can design distributive schemes roughly along the lines of the outcomes favoured but those outcomes are not logically entailed by the normative premises from which they are ostensibly derived and some are extraordinarily strained interpretations of those premises Fried concludes as a result that contemporary nonconsequentialist political philosophy has to date relied on weak justifications for some very strong conclusions Facing Up to AIDS Sholto Cross,Alan Whiteside,1993-02-01 This study looks at the global plague which is threatening to engulf South Africa at a crucial moment in its history Economists demographers and health planners present a range of new methods of understanding the likely course of the disease drawn from the most recent research Strategy and Risk Management Ron Rael,2017-05-15 Employees make dozens of day to day decisions and any one of them could come back to
