Howard Zinn

Failure To Quit Reflections Of An Optimistic Historian Radical 60s:

Failure to Quit Howard Zinn, 2012-11 A selection of Howard Zinn's most popular and accessible essays on history and politics In this lively collection of essays now with a new afterword Zinn discusses a wide range of historical and political topics from the role of the Supreme Court in U S history to the nature of higher education today Howard Zinn Davis D. Joyce, 2010-05 This first ever biography of Zinn traces in broad strokes the story of his life placing special emphasis on his involvement in both the Civil Rights movement and the Viet Nam War protests Postwar America, 1945-1971 Howard Zinn, 2002 Howard Zinn's unique take on this vital period in U S history with a new introduction The postwar boom in the U S brought about massive changes in U S society and culture In this accessible volume historian Howard Zinn offers a view from below on these vital years in American history By critically examining U S militarism abroad and racism at home he raises challenging questions about this often romanticized era The Southern Mystique Howard Zinn, 2002 Howard Zinn examines the politics of the South and his own experiences there The South has long been surrounded in mystique In this powerful volume drawing on Zinn's own experiences teaching in the South and working within the Southern civil rights movement Zinn challenges the stereotypes surrounding the South race relations and how change happens in history With a new introduction from the author Vietnam Howard Zinn, 2002 Zinn's compelling case against the Vietnam War now with a new introduction Of the many books that challenged the Vietnam War Howard Zinn's stands out as one of the best and most influential It helped spark national debate on the war It includes a powerful speech written by Zinn that President Johnson should have given to lay out the case for ending the war Includes a new introduction by the author Rethinking America's Past Robert Cohen, Sonia E. Murrow, 2021-11-01 No introductory work of American history has had more influence over the past forty years than Howard Zinn's A People's History of the United States which since its publication in 1980 has sold more than three million copies Zinn's iconoclastic critique of American militarism racism and capitalism has drawn bitter criticism from the Right most recently from President Donald Trump who at his White House Conference on American History in 2020 denounced Zinn as a Left propagandist and accused teachers aligned with Zinn of indoctrinating students to hate America and be ashamed of its history Rethinking America's Past is the first work to use archival and classroom evidence to assess the impact that Zinn's classic work has had on historical teaching and learning and on American culture This evidence refutes Trump's charges showing that rather than indoctrinating students Zinn's book has been used by teachers to have students debate and rethink conventional versions of American history Rethinking America's Past also explores the ways Zinn's work fostered deeper more critical renderings of the American past in movies and on stage and television and traces the origins and assesses the strengths and weaknesses of A People's History in light of more recent historical scholarship SNCC Howard Zinn, 2002 Howard Zinn tells the story of one of the most important political groups in American history SNCC The New Abolitionists influenced a generation of activists struggling for civil rights and seeking to learn from the successes and failures of those who built the fantastically influential Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee. It is considered an indispensable study of the organization of the 1960s and of the process of social change. Includes a new introduction by the author. Disobedience and Democracy Howard Zinn, 2002. Zinn's cogent defense of civil disobedience with a new introduction by the author. Critique for What? Joel Pfister, 2016-01-08. Students want to know: What does one do with critique? Fortunately, some of the most provocative self-critical intellectuals from the postwar period to the postmodern present have wrestled with this. Joel Pfister, in Critique for What, criss-crosses the Atlantic to take stock of exciting British and US cultural studies, American studies, and Left studies that challenge the academic critique for critique's sake and career's sake. Business and ask: Critique for what and for whom? Historicizing for what and for whom? Politicizing for what and for whom? America for what and for whom? Here, New Left revisionary socialists, members of the unpartied Left, cultural studies theorists, American studies scholars, radical historians, progressive literary critics, and early proponents of transnational analysis interact in what amounts to a lively book-length strategy seminar. British political intellectuals including Raymond Williams, E. P. Thompson, Stuart Hall, and Raphael Samuel, and Americans including F. O. Matthiessen, Robert Lynd, C. Wright Mills, and Richard Ohmann reconsider the critical project as social transformation studies, activism studies, organizing studies. Eager to prevent cultural studies from becoming cynicism studies, Critique for What thinks creatively about the possibilities of using as well as developing critique in our new millennium. American Book Publishing Record, 2003. The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2005. Contemporary Authors New Revision Pamela Dear, 2000-07. In response to the escalating need for up-to-date information on writers, Contemporary Authors New Revision Series brings researchers the most recent data on the world's most popular authors. These exciting and unique author profiles are essential to your holdings because sketches are entirely revised and up-to-date and completely replace the original Contemporary Authors entries.
