Exotic White Man:

Selling the Indian Carter Jones Meyer, Diana Royer, 2001-08-01 For more than a hundred years outsiders enamored of the perceived strengths of American Indian cultures have appropriated and distorted elements of them for their own purposes more often than not ignoring the impact of the process on the Indians themselves This book contains eight original contributions that consider the selling of American Indian culture and how it affects the Native community It goes beyond studies of white shamanism to focus on commercial ventures challenging readers to reconsider how Indian cultures have been commercialized in the twentieth century Some selections examine how Indians have been displayed to the public beginning with a living exhibit of Cocopa Indians at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase Exposition and extending to contemporary stagings of Indian culture for tourists at Tillicum Village near Seattle Other chapters range from the Cherokees to Puebloan peoples to Indians of Chiapas Mexico in an examination of the roles of both Indians and non Indian reformers in marketing Native arts and crafts These articles show that the commercialization and appropriation of American Indian cultures have been persistent practices of American society over the last century and constitute a form of cultural imperialism that could contribute to the destruction of American Indian culture and identity They offer a means toward understanding this complex process and provide a new window on Indian white interactions

The Darker Side of Travel Richard Sharpley, Philip R. Stone, 2009-08-25 Over the last decade the concept of dark tourism has attracted growing academic interest and media attention Nevertheless perspectives on and understanding of dark tourism remain varied and theoretically fragile whilst to date no single book has attempted to draw together the conceptual themes and debates surrounding dark tourism to explore it within wider disciplinary contexts and to establish a more informed relationship between the theory and practice of dark tourism This book meets the undoubted need for such a volume by providing a contemporary and comprehensive analysis of dark tourism Adventures in the Stone Age Leopold Jaroslav Pospíšil, 2021-11-01 When Leopold Pospíšil first arrived in New Guinea in 1954 to investigate the legal systems of the local tribes he was warned about the Kapauku who reputedly had no laws Dubious that any society could exist without laws Pospíšil immediately decided to live among and study the Kapauku Learning the language and living as a participant observer among the Kapauku Pospíšil discovers that the supposedly primitive society possesses laws rules and social structures that are as sophisticated as they are logical Having survived the Nazi occupation of Czechoslovakia and fled the Communist regime Pospíšil has little patience for the notion that so called advanced civilizations are superior to the stone age society in which he now lives On the basis of his research and experiences among the Kapauku he would stay with them five times between 1954 and 1979 Pospíšil pioneered in the field of legal anthropology holding a professorship at Yale serving as the anthropology curator of the Peabody Museum of Natural History and publishing three books of scholarship on the Kapauku law As Jaroslav Jílek and Martin Soukup write in their afterword however His three previously published works are about the Kapauku this one is about the anthropologist among the Kapauku The memoir is filled with charming anecdotes and thrilling stories of trials travels and war told with humor and humility and accompanied by a wealth of the author's personal photos from the time
