Imagining Cities Scripts Signs Memory:

Imagining Cities Sallie Westwood, John M Williams, 2018-05-11 First published in 1997 Imagining Cities gives students access to the most exciting recent work on the city from within sociology cultural studies and cultural geography Contributions are grouped around four major themes The theoretical imagination Ethnic diversity and the politics of difference Memory and nostalgia The city as narrative The book considers the interplay of past and present imagined and substantive and links present and future in examining the idea of the virtual city Here the world of cyberspace not only recasts views of space and communication but has a profound impact on the sociological imagination itself Imagining

Cities Sallie Westwood, 1996 This book brings together some of the most recent and exciting work from within sociology and cultural studies It examines urban theory ethnic diversity and the politics of difference nostalgia and memory and the image of the city Cities on the Margin, on the Margin of Cities Philippe Laplace, Eric Tabuteau, 2003 Urban Ecologies

Christopher Schliephake, 2014-12-11 The term urban ecology has become a buzzword in various disciplines including the social and natural sciences as well as urban planning and architecture The environmental humanities have been slow to adapt to current theoretical debates often excluding human built environments from their respective frameworks This book closes this gap both in theory and in practice bringing together urban ecology with ecocritical and cultural ecological approaches by conceptualizing the city as an integral part of the environment and as a space in which ecological problems manifest concretely Arguing that culture has to be seen as an active component and integral factor within urban ecologies it makes use of a metaphorical use of the term perceiving cities as spatial phenomena that do not only have manifold and complex material interrelations with their respective natural environments but that are intrinsically connected to the ideas imaginations and interpretations that make up the cultural symbolic and discursive side of our urban lives and that are stored and constantly renegotiated in their cultural and artistic representations The city is within this framework both seen as an ecosystemically organized space as well as a cultural artifact Thus the urban ecology outlined in this study takes its main impetus from an analysis of examples taken from contemporary culture that deal with urban life and the complex interrelations between urban communities and their natural and built environments Bangkok Marc Askew, 2004-08-02 Bangkok is one of Asia's most interesting varied controversial and challenging cities It is a city of contradictions both in its present and past This unique book examines the development of the city from its earliest days as the seat of the Thai monarchy to its current position as an infamous contemporary metropolis Adopting insights from anthropology urban studies and human geography this is a powerful account of the city and its dynamic spaces Marc Askew examines the city's variety from the inner city slums to the rural urban fringe and gives us a keen insight into the daily life of the city's inhabitants be they middle class suburbanites or sex workers Virtual Globalization David Holmes, 2002-11 This book examines the interrelationship between telecommunications and tourism in shaping the nature of space place and the urban at the end of the twentieth century They discuss how these agents are instrumental in the production of homogenous world spaces and how these in turn presuppose new kinds of political and cultural identity This work will be of essential interest to scholars and students in the fields of sociology geography cultural studies and media studies      Urban Futures Tim Hall, Malcolm Miles, 2004-11-23 Urban Futures brings together commentaries from a wide range of contemporary disciplines and fields relevant to urban culture form and society The book concerns cities in the broadest sense not just as buildings and spaces but also as processes and events or sites of occupation in which meanings are constructed in many ways The contributors draw on their specialist areas of research to inform current debate but they also speculate as to how cities will be shaped in the 21st century Specific areas of research include homeless people s organisations and restoration ecology in brownfield sites in the USA post industrial urban landscapes post industrial economics tourism and cultural planning The book allows each writer to state their own conclusions but together they suggest that tomorrow s cities will while remaining locations of difference and contestation be rapidly evolving systems in which dwellers assume increasing responsibilities and power

Thinking Space Mike Crang, Nigel Thrift, 2002-09-11 As theorists have begun using geographical concepts and metaphors to think about the complex and differentiated world it is important to reflect on their work and its impact on our thoughts on space This revealing book explores the work of a wide range of prolific social theorists Included contributions from an impressive range of renowned geographical writers each examine the work of one writer ranging from early this century to contemporary writers Among the writers discussed are Georg Simmel Mikhail Bakhtin Gilles Deleuze Helene Cixous Henri Lefebvre Jacques Lacan Pierre Bourdieu Michel Foucault and Franz Fanon Ideal for those interested in the spatial turn in social and cultural theory this fascinating book asks what role space plays in the work of such theorists what difference if any it makes to their concepts and what difference such an appreciation makes to the way we might think about space      Complexity and Planning Gert de Roo, Jean Hillier, 2016-05-23 Complexity complex systems and complexity theories are becoming increasingly important within a variety disciplines While these issues are less well known within the discipline of spatial planning there has been a recent growing awareness and interest As planners grapple with how to consider the vagaries of the real world when putting together proposals for future development they question how complexity complex systems and complexity theories might prove useful with regard to spatial planning and the physical environment This book provides a readable overview presenting and relating a range of understandings and characteristics of complexity and complex systems as they are relevant to planning It recognizes multiple relational approaches of dynamic complexity which enhance understandings of and facilitate working with contingencies of place time and the various participants behaviours In doing so it should contribute to a better understanding of processes with regard to our physical and social worlds

Globalization, the City and Civil Society in Pacific Asia ,      Urban Space and Representation Maria Balshaw, Liam Kennedy, 1999-12-20 Theories of urban space have become the focus of a great deal of work by scholars in cultural geography urban studies and critical theory This volume contributes to that debate by analysing the relationship between theories of urban space and literary and visual representations of the city an emergent area of confluence in literary film and cultural studies The contributors address themes such as visual culture and spectacle class and capital community and public space and nation diaspora and belonging Cities covered include New York Chicago Jerusalem Paris London Birmingham and Freetown Sierra Leone Artists and writers discussed include Piet Mondrian Nella Larsen Rudolph Fisher Amos Oz David Grossman Sarah Schulman Jonathan Larsen Charles Dickens Wilkie Collins Paul Auster and Wayne Wang

Spatial Politics in the Postcolonial Novel Sara Upstone, 2016-04-01 In her innovative study of spatial locations in postcolonial texts Sara Upstone adopts a transnational and comparative approach that challenges the tendency to engage with authors in isolation or in relation to other writers from a single geographical setting Suggesting that isolating authors in terms of geography reinforces the primacy of the nation Upstone instead illuminates the power of spatial locales such as the journey city home and body to enable personal or communal statements of resistance against colonial prejudice and its neo colonial legacies While focusing on the major texts of Wilson Harris Toni Morrison and Salman Rushdie in relation to particular spatial locations Upstone offers a wide range of examples from other postcolonial authors including Michael Ondaatje Keri Hulme J M Coetzee Arundhati Roy Tsitsi Dangarembga and Abdulrazak Gurnah The result is a strong case for what Upstone terms the postcolonial spatial imagination independent of geography though always fully contextualised Written in accessible and unhurried prose Upstone's study is marked by its respect for the ways in which the writers themselves resist not only geographical boundaries but academic categorisation

Suburban Sprawl Matthew J. Lindstrom, Hugh Bartling, 2003 This book provides a comprehensive multi disciplinary analysis of suburban sprawl development and smart growth alternatives within the contexts of culture ecology and politics It offers a mix of theoretical inquiry historical analysis policy critique and case studies In addition each chapter is coupled with featured interviews with leading activists and policymakers working on sprawl issues Visit our website for sample chapters

Rethinking Global Urbanism Xiangming Chen, Ahmed Kanna, 2012-05-31 Arguing that the focus in global urban studies on cities such as New York London Tokyo in the global North Mexico City and Shanghai in the developing world and other major nodes of the world economy has skewed the concept of the global city toward economics this volume gathers a diverse group of contributors to focus on smaller and less economically dominant cities It highlights other important and relatively ignored themes such as cultural globalization alternative geographies of the global and the influence of deeper urban histories particularly those relating to colonialism in order to advance an alternative view of the global city

Facing Postmodernity Max Silverman, 2012-10-12 Facing Postmodernity explains French cultural theory by grounding it in the politics of the issues facing France today such as the breaking of the city racism the crisis of culture new citizenship It discusses some of the major responses to postmodernity by contemporary French thinkers both the very well known Lyotard Levinas Derrida and those who will be less familiar to a non French audience In doing so it addresses the questions central to the postmodern debate whatever country it takes place in questions of history of representation identity and community      Urban Histories of Science Oliver Hochadel, Agustí Nieto-Galan, 2018-09-20 This book tells ten urban histories of science from nine cities Athens Barcelona Budapest Buenos Aires Dublin 2 articles Glasgow Helsinki Lisbon and Naples situated on the geographical margins of Europe and beyond Ranging from the mid nineteenth to the early twentieth centuries the contents of this volume debate why and how we should study the scientific culture of cities often considered peripheral in terms of their production of knowledge How were scientific practices debates and innovations intertwined with the highly dynamic urban space around 1900 The authors analyze zoological gardens research stations observatories and international exhibitions along with hospitals newspapers backstreets and private homes while also stressing the importance of concrete urban spaces for the production and appropriation of knowledge They uncover the diversity of actors and urban publics ranging from engineers scientists architects and physicians to journalists tuberculosis patients and fishermen Looking at these nine cities around 1900 is like glancing at a prism that produces different and even conflicting notions of modernity In their totality the ten case studies help to overcome an outdated centre periphery model This volume is thus able to address far more intriguing historiographical questions How do science technology and medicine shape the debates about modernity and national identity in the urban space To what degree do cities and the heterogeneous elements they contain have agency These urban histories show that science and the city are consistently and continuously co constructing each other      From Student to Urban Planner Tuna Taşan-Kok, Mark Oranje, 2017-12-06 For many young planners the noble intentions with going to planning school seem starkly out of place in the neoliberal worlds they have come to inhabit For some the huge gap between the power they thought they would have and what they actually do is not only worrying but also deeply discouraging But for some others practice means finding practical and creative solutions to overcome challenges and complexities How do young planners in different settings respond to seemingly similar situations like these What do they do give up adjust or fight back What role did their planning education play and could it have helped in preparing and assisting them to respond to the world they are encountering In this edited volume stories of young planners from sixteen countries that engage these questions are presented The sixteen cases range from settings with older established planning systems e g USA the Netherlands and the UK to settings where the system is less set e g Brazil being remodeled e g South Africa and Bosnia Herzegovina and under stress e g Turkey and Poland Each chapter explores what might be done differently to prepare young planners for the complexities and challenges of their real worlds This book not only points out what is absent but also offers planning educators an alternative vision The editors and esteemed contributors provide reflections and suggestions as to how this new generation of young planners can be supported to survive in embrace and change the world they are encountering and in the spirit of planning endeavor to change it for the better      Reinventing the City? Head of Civic Engagement Dublin City

University and Visiting Professor of Development Studies University of Liverpool and St Mary's University Nova Scotia
Ronaldo Munck, 2003-01-01 Although Liverpool is the central theme of this book the author gives an informed comparative overview of the city in a worldwide context Chapters examine in detail the cultural social and economic legacy of the city
