Fried, Robert Rosenberger, 2021-07-12 How should we understand the experience of encountering and interpreting images What are their roles in science and medicine How do they shape everyday life Postphenomenology and Imaging How to Read Technology brings together scholars from multiple disciplines to investigate these questions The contributors make use of the postphenomenological philosophical perspective applying its distinctive ideas to the study of how images are experienced These essays offer both philosophical analysis of our conception of images and empirical studies of imaging practice Edited by Samantha J Fried and Robert Rosenberger this collection includes an extensive primer chapter introducing and expanding the postphenomenological account of imaging as well as a set of short pieces by critical respondents prominent scholars who may not self identify as doing postphenomenology but whose adjacent work is illuminating The Oxford Handbook of Perceptual Organization

Johan Wagemans,2015-08-21 Perceptual organization comprises a wide range of processes such as perceptual grouping figure ground organization filling in completion perceptual switching etc Such processes are most notable in the context of shape perception but they also play a role in texture perception lightness perception color perception motion perception depth perception etc Perceptual organization deals with a variety of perceptual phenomena of central interest studied from many different perspectives including psychophysics experimental psychology neuropsychology neuroimaging neurophysiology and computational modeling Given its central importance in phenomenal experience perceptual organization has also figured prominently in classic Gestalt writings on the topic touching upon deep philosophical issues regarding mind brain relationships and consciousness In addition it attracts a great deal of interest from people working in applied areas like visual art design architecture music and so forth The Oxford Handbook of Perceptual Organization provides a broad and extensive review of the current literature written in an accessible form for scholars and students With chapter written by leading researchers in the field this is the state of the art reference work on this topic and will be so for many years to come

The Medicalized Body and Anesthetic Culture Brent Dean Robbins,2018-04-03 This book examines how modern medicine s mechanistic conception of the body has become a defense mechanism to cope with death anxiety Robbins draws from research on the phenomenology of the body the history of cadaver dissection and empirical research in terror management theory to highlight how medical culture operates as an agent which promotes anesthetic consciousness as a habit of perception In short modern medicine s comportment toward the cadaver promotes the suppression of the memory of the person who donated their body This suppression of the memorial body comes at the price of concealing the lived experiential body of patients in medical practice Robbins argues that this style of coping has influenced Western culture and has helped to foster maladaptive patterns of perception associated with experiential avoidance diminished empathy death denial and the dysregulation of emotion

Reconceiving Structure in Contemporary Music Judy Lochhead,2015-06-19 This book studies recent music in the western classical tradition offering a critique of current analytical theoretical approaches and proposing alternatives The critique addresses the present fringe status of recent music sometimes described as crossover postmodern post classical post minimalist etc and demonstrates that existing descriptive languages and analytical approaches do not provide adequate tools to address this music in positive and productive terms Existing tools and concepts were developed primarily in the mid 20th century in tandem with the high modernist compositional aesthetic and they have changed little since then The aesthetics of music composition on the other hand have been in constant transformation Lochhead proposes new ways to conceive musical works their structurings of musical experience and time and the procedures and goals of analytic close reading These tools define investigative procedures that engage the multiple perspectives of composers performers and listeners and that generate conceptual modes unique to each work In action they rebuild a conceptual methodological and experiential place for recent music These new approaches are demonstrated in analyses of four pieces Kaija Saariaho's Lonh 1996 Sofia Gubaidulina's Second String Quartet 1987 Stacy Garrop's String Quartet no 2 Demons and Angels 2004 05 and Anna Clyne's Choke 2004 This book defies the prediction of classical music's death and will be of interest to scholars and musicians of classical music and those interested in music theory musicology and aural culture

Evolving Eldercare in Contemporary China Lin Chen, 2016-04-11 With an increasing number of elders moving into nursing homes the shift from family to nursing home care calls for an exploration of caregiving decision making in urban China This study examines how a rapidly growing aging population the one child policy and economic reform in urban China pose unprecedented challenges to the country's ingrained tradition of family caregiving It presents interviews of matched elders and their children from a government sponsored nursing home in Shanghai and analyzes the decision making process of institutionalization This book offers fresh insight into the evolving culture and arrangements of caregiving in contemporary Chinese society illuminating the diverse needs for long term care of Chinese elders the world's largest aging population in the coming decades

Inside Stories Kathleen B. deMarrais, 2012-12-06 Although articles reporting research studies are helpful in acquainting students with methodological approaches they often make the process look so straightforward clean and effortless It is rare to find an article that tells the real story behind the finished product By having real researchers tell their own stories of mucking around with methodological and ethical issues in qualitative research we get a more realistic human story of the process This is a collection of such stories Authors were asked to describe their own experiences with methodological and ethical struggles as they engaged in their work Each of the essays offers insight into the research approach used as well as particular issues which became apparent during the research process Key issues raised by the authors include early learnings gaining entry overlapping conflicting roles and the boundaries of these roles differential power relationships who tells the story and whose story is told ethical concerns related to confidentiality and the influence of a researcher's particular philosophy or theoretical framework on his or her research Throughout the book we see scholars whose personal stories or autobiographies intersect closely with their research projects deMarrais introduces a unique framework to help students gain an overview of qualitative research methods and the underpinnings and processes in these approaches This framework is centered on the ways we understand phenomena using qualitative research approaches that engage archival knowledge narrative knowledge or observational knowledge

Metamorphoses of the Absolute Otto Neumaier, Daina Teters, 2019-01-10 This collection of essays is devoted to the diversity of the conceptual and terminological definitions of the notion of the absolute Absolute comprises both the concepts of the Western world related to God and the verbal constructions flowing from these ideas in the spheres of law philosophy linguistics politics medicine literature and arts Over time absolute and its neologisms have undergone various modifications assuming the associated characteristics of syntactic ambiguity and inflation Absolute can imply an increase in the degree of a quality attached to some object or phenomenon and can be used as either an adverbial modifier or a proper noun In its appearances as a procedural term absolute mostly conveys a negative connotation when evaluating some action The question posed in this book is not what absolute is but what possibilities exist with regard to perceiving and conceptualizing it in human terms both historically and in the present Existential Perspectives on Supervision Emmy van Deurzen, Sarah Young, 2009-07-31 Supervision is an essential part of counselling and psychotherapy practice It is increasingly recognised as a tool for ensuring high professional standards In an era of regulation and tightening control there is a growing professional need to take stock and reflect on what it means to work with human problems It is vital that therapists address the moral and philosophical dimensions of their profession and ask themselves what it is to be human This rich and far reaching book explores supervision from this timely philosophical perspective Designed both for trainees and more seasoned professionals whatever their theoretical orientation it makes a clear case for seeing existential perspectives on supervision as complementary to rather than as a substitute for other forms of supervision The Handbook of Person-Centred Psychotherapy and Counselling, 2024-09-05 Written by a diverse range of expert contributors unified by a relational ethics based reading of person centred theory and practice this seminal text is the most in depth and comprehensive guide to person centred therapy Divided into four parts it examines the theoretical philosophical and historical foundations of the person centred approach the fundamental principles of person centred practice as well as new developments in and applications of person centred clinical work explorations of how person centred conceptualisations and practices can be applied to groups of clients who bring particular issues to therapy such as bereavement or trauma and professional issues for person centred therapists such as ethics supervision and training 10 years after it was last published this third edition includes new content on the climate crisis intersectionality and working with racism and anti racism It includes new dedicated chapters on the Non directive Attitude Relational Depth Experiential Practices Working with Trauma Online PCA and Person Centred approaches around the Globe International and interdisciplinary in conception this is a cutting edge resource for students of psychotherapy and counselling on a range of programmes as well as professional practitioners working in the field
