Unbundling the University Curriculum Kate O'Connor, 2022-09-02 In a context in which explicit attention to the curriculum has been sidelined in universities strategy this book makes an argument for why curriculum matters both in understanding the effects of unbundled online learning and more broadly It takes up two particular curriculum issues which are amplified in an unbundled context differences in the formulation of curriculum between disciplines and professional fields and the extent these are recognised in university strategy and the push for constructivist pedagogies and its effects on curriculum construction Since the onslaught of MOOCs in 2012 unbundled forms of online learning offered via partnerships with external online program management and MOOC providers have grown significantly across the university sector There has been much debate about the implications of these partnerships but the focus has predominantly been on the engagement of students and their learning This book takes a different and novel approach looking instead at the effects on curriculum and knowledge Drawing on selected case studies the book reflects on how university leaders and academics engaged with MOOCs and other forms of unbundled online learning in the early 2010s and the effects of these reforms on curriculum practice It captures in detail the complex and difficult work involved in university curriculum making in a way rarely seen in discussions of higher education And it generates new insights about some of the critical problems manifest in the ongoing moves to embrace unbundled online learning today

PISA Under Examination Miguel A. Pereyra, Hans-Georg Kotthoff, Robert Cowen, 2012-03-24 From the 23rd to 26th of November 2009 in La Palma island in the Canaries the Comparative Education Society in Europe CESE organized an international symposium entitled PISA under Examination Changing Knowledge Changing Tests and Changing Schools During four days seventeen leading scholars of Europe and America presented their contributions to debate the different problematiques of the remarkable phenomenon represented by the OECD Programme for International Student Assessment or PISA PISA is not merely an educational event It is also a media circus which involves the public rehearsal for reasons for failure or success and even in some cases public and political and academic explanations about why failure was not really that and why success was not really that either At the centre of all these indications we find the growing influence of international agencies on education and schooling which is decisively contributing to a marketisation of the field of education in the context of an increasingly multilevel and fragmented arena for educational governance based on the formulation the regulation and the transnational coordination and convergence of policies buttressed at the same time by the diffusion of persuasive discursive practice Organized in four sections entitled The Comparative Challenges of the OCDE PISA Programme PISA and School

Knowledge The Assessment of PISA School Effectiveness and the Socio cultural Dimension PISA and the Immigrant Student Question and Extreme Visions of PISA Germany and Finland the contributions of this book offers a comprehensive approach of all these challenging and significant issues written from different and distinct research and academic traditions

case exemplar chapters to illustrate core concepts within genres Extends dialogue on controversial topics and contemporary educational evaluation tensions in the context of globalization Summarizes by means of an integration chapter the issues tensions and dilemmas confronting educational evaluators in an era of globalization Serving as a state of the art resource on educational evaluation this volume is designed for graduate students evaluation scholars and researchers and professional evaluation practitioners with an interest in educational program and policy evaluation Credible and Actionable Evidence Stewart I. Donaldson, Christina A. Christie, Melvin M. Mark, 2014-09-10 Addressing one of the most important and contentious issues challenging applied research and evaluation practice today what constitutes credible and actionable evidence this volume offers a balanced and current context in which to analyze the long debated quantitative qualitative paradigms In the Second Edition the contributors a veritable who's who in evaluation discuss the diversity and changing nature of credible and actionable evidence offer authoritative guidance about using credible and actionable evidence explain how to use it to provide rigorous and influential evaluations and include lessons from their own applied research and evaluation to suggest ways to address the key issues and challenges Reflecting the latest developments in the field and covering both experimental and non experimental methods the new edition includes revised and updated chapters summaries of strengths and weaknesses across varied approaches and contains diverse definitions of evidence Also included are two new chapters on assessing credibility and synthesizing evidence for policy makers This is a valuable resource for students and others interested in how to best study and evaluate programs policies organizations and other initiatives designed to improve aspects of the human condition and societal well being What Counts as Credible Evidence in Applied Research and Evaluation Practice? Stewart I. Donaldson, Christina A. Christie, Melvin M. Mark, 2009 What Counts as Credible Evidence in Applied Research and Evaluation Practice is the first book of its kind to define and place into greater perspective the meaning of evidence for evaluation professionals and applied researchers Editors Stewart I Donaldson Christina A Christie and Melvin M Mark provide observations about the diversity and changing nature of credible evidence include lessons from their own applied research and evaluation practice and suggest ways in which practitioners might address the key issues and challenges of collecting credible evidence This book is appropriate for a wide range of courses including Introduction to Evaluation Research Research Methods Evaluation Practice Program Evaluation Program Development and Evaluation and evaluation courses in Social Work Education Public Health and Public Policy BOOK JACKET System Evaluation Theory Ralph Renger, 2022-09-01 Too often evaluation findings end up on the shelf Why Many interventions have several moving parts working together to achieve something each part cannot do independently Unfortunately many of the available evaluation approaches oversimplify this reality A major reason for this is that evaluators do not have a blueprint to plan and the associated methods to execute an evaluation fit for this purpose As such they revert to using methods with which they are familiar but are not suitable for evaluating complex interventions Consequently the evaluation findings do not make sense to decisionmakers so they are ignored This book provides evaluators of all skill levels with a simple 3 step framework System Evaluation Theory that will lead to more actionable recommendations because the methods better capture the reality in which interventions operate that is as a system The book first reviews the limitations of program evaluation approaches that pointed to a need for a different way of thinking one grounded in systems After defining a system the book explains how SET is intentionally aligned to evaluate a system s two essential properties interdependence and emergence Individual chapters are dedicated to explaining how to execute each SET step Throughout the author draws on real world examples and those from his own evaluations to help bridge the theory practice divide The reader is then shown how to use SET to develop actionable recommendations Trusting Schools and Teachers Gerry McNamara,Joe O'Hara,2008 Trusting Schools and Teachers Developing Educational Professionalism Through Self Evaluation emerged from a series of studies undertaken with teachers at various stages of their careers exploring the impact of a range of evaluation systems on their personal and professional development The book begins with a comparative analysis of the rise of school and teacher evaluation charting the trend s conceptual and political influences and highlights how the concept of self evaluation has come for a variety of reasons to play a surprisingly large role in the emerging approaches to school and teacher evaluation This is illustrated by a detailed analysis of the emerging system of whole school evaluation in Ireland Research indicates that while self evaluation looms large in the system s theoretical framework in fact there is strong evidence that neither schools nor teachers have the expertise required to systematically self evaluate This book identifies methodologies designed to empower schools and teachers to become genuinely self evaluating through the development of research skills in the context of online communities of practice Transnational Curriculum Standards and Classroom Practices Ninni Wahlström,Daniel

Sundberg,2017-10-31 Focusing on the meaning of teaching Transnational Curriculum Standards and Classroom Practices contributes to a deepened understanding of what it means to be a teacher in an institutional context ranked high on the policymakers agenda While the policy literature emphasises efficiency in teaching educational research demonstrates an awareness of the importance of alternative perspectives on what makes for successful teaching This book critically examines the conditions and dimensions of teaching as framed in current policy discourse and situates school education in relation to wider societal issues Based on a four year research project financed by the Swedish Research Council and drawing on international policy discourse as well as international research the chapters in this book contribute to the knowledge of relations and influences between international educational reform movements national curriculum reforms and implications for teaching and learning practices at the classroom level Offering results and reflections from comprehensive comparative classroom studies the book makes a distinctive contribution to our knowledge of the implications of policy for teachers and students This book should be essential reading for academics researchers and postgraduate students interested in the relationship between the curriculum and teaching in a contemporary context as well as those engaged in the study of education policy curriculum theory pedagogy and educational leadership It should also be of great interest to policymakers and teachers

Encyclopedia of Evaluation Sandra Mathison, 2005 All humans are nascent evaluators Evaluation has been with us throughout history and in its modern form has moved from the margins to the centers of organizations agencies educational institutions and corporate boardrooms No longer a specialized part time activity evaluation has become institutionalized a common practice and indeed an important commodity in political and social life The Encyclopedia of Evaluation is an authoritative first of its kind who what where why and how of the field of evaluation Covering professional practice as well as academia this volume chronicles the development of the field its history key figures theories approaches and goals From the leading publisher in the field of evaluation this work is a must have for all social science libraries departments that offer courses in evaluation and students and professional evaluators around the world The entries in this Encyclopedia capture the essence of evaluation as a practice methods techniques roles people as a profession professional obligations shared knowledge ethical imperatives events places and as a discipline theories and models of evaluation ontological and epistemological issues International Scope Despite the fact that evaluation practice is not institutionalized in the same way around the world the encyclopedia recognizes the international growth of the profession due in large part to organizations such as UNICEF the World Bank and USAID Entries cover the following Afghanistan Belgium Cambodia Ethiopia Germany Greece Guyana Israel Netherlands Niger Scotland South Africa Spain and Uganda In addition the international group of authors includes contributions from more than a dozen nations There are a number of stories about evaluation practice around the world that are set off as sidebars in the text These stories provide a glimpse into the nature of evaluation practice in a diverse set of circumstances delineate the common and uncommon issues for evaluators around the world and point to the complexities of importing evaluation from one culture to another Interdisciplinary Methodological Coverage Much of the practice of evaluation has grown out of the social science research tradition While psychological methods and psychometrics continue to be useful evaluation research today draws from a wide range of disciplines including anthropology education political science literary criticism systems theory and others This Encyclopedia covers all of the relevant methodologies including both qualitative and quantitative approaches Evaluators and Theories The Encyclopedia of Evaluation includes significant coverage of the major figures in the field throughout its history Many of these figures are well known for a particular theory or approach and whenever applicable the entries make this connection for the reader as well as provide references for further reading Good examples include Michael Quinn Patton and Utilization Focused Evaluation David Fetterman and Empowerment Evaluation Daniel Stufflebeam's CIPP Model of Evaluation and Huey Chen and Theory driven Evaluations Key Themes Concepts Evaluation Concepts Methodological Concepts Philosophical Concepts Social Science Ethics and Standards Evaluation Approaches and Models Evaluation around the World Stories Evaluation Planning Evaluation Theory Laws and Legislation Organizations People Publications Qualitative Methods Quantitative Methods

Evaluative Research Methods Saville Kushner, 2016-12-01 How do research students and their supervisors respond in a world of fake news the destabilisation of public institutions and the rise of populism The very foundations of our liberal democracies seem to be under threat and this implicates social inquiry Postgraduate research remains one of the few information spaces which are still free of politicisation and committed to validation This book focuses on democracy in inquiry and on the role of inquiry in a democracy how research helps us to deliberate over what counts as of public value It is a research methods book but methods shaped by political and ethical purposes and by the challenge of making judgements about what in the public sphere is worthy We may be looking at a police training program the siting of a clean energy project a new school curriculum maternal health program or an environmental adaptation project in each case and in others like them we have to negotiate perspectives and claims forge and justify a consensus support competing stakeholders with the best information and analyses possible And we have to make our work defensible undeniable in the forum of public debate and exchange examination and accountability This book full of examples from contemporary research projects is designed to help navigate our way through the complexities of social research which focuses on judgements about public action The book was written with research students and includes examples of their work It recognises that supervisors often struggle as much as students in meeting the challenges of inquiry that involves some element of evaluative judgement inquiry that potentially carries consequences Where there are no quick and ready recipes check lists or theoretical frameworks where we confront the particularities of the context in which the research takes place we are all forced back onto good methodological thinking and this is the pedagogical framing of the book

Evaluation Use and Decision-Making in Society Christina A. Christie, Anne Vo, 2015-06-01 This volume addresses a fundamental and highly debated issue in the evaluation field the use of evaluation information for decision making Chapter authors honor the contributions of Professor Marvin C Alkin to the evaluation use literature and advance our thinking on the topic by exploring a wide range of issues related to the theoretical and practical challenges of using evaluation information to make informed evidence based decisions Readers will come away from this volume with a new and clearer understanding of the theoretical contextual methodological and political dimensions of use and with direction for practice Chapters are written by leading evaluation scholars including Ernest House Stewart Donaldson and Tarek Azzam Eric Barela Richard D Nunneley Jr Jean A King Kelli Johnson and Laura Pejsa Eleanor Chelimsky Michael Quinn Patton and Wanda D Casillas Rodney K Hopson and Ricardo L Gomez Evaluation Use and Decision Making in Society A Tribute to Marvin C Alkin will be of great interest to evaluation students scholars and practitioners This volume has scholarly application for those who desire a state of the art resource for the latest insights and perspectives on one of the most pressing issues that the evaluation field faces today while also serving as a useful guide for both novice and experienced evaluation practitioners It is appropriate for use in a variety of evaluation courses including Introduction to Evaluation and Procedural Issues in Evaluation as well as topical seminars such as Evaluation Use and Decision Making

Democratic Evaluation and Democracy Donna Podems, 2017-02-01 Democratic evaluation brings a way of thinking about evaluation's role in society and in particular its role in strengthening social justice Yet the reality of applying it and what happens when it is applied particularly outside the West is unclear Set in South Africa a newly formed democracy in Southern Africa the book affords an in depth journey that immerses a reader into the realities of evaluation and its relation to democracy The book starts with the broader introductory chapters that set the scene for more detailed ones which bring thorough insights into national government local government and civil societies experience of evaluation democratic evaluation and their understanding of how it contributes to strengthening democracy or not A teaching case the book concludes by providing guiding questions that encourage reflection discussion and learning that ultimately aims to inform practice and theory

Practical Wisdom for an Ethical Evaluation Practice Marthe Hurteau, Thomas Archibald, 2023-01-01 This book provides a contemporary and thought provoking exploration of the concept of practical wisdom what it is and how it can be incorporated into evaluation practice It defines what practical wisdom is explores its roots where it stands today what constitutes the wise evaluator and how we can develop sound judgment in an unpredictable and chaotic time It brings together evaluation thought leaders and practitioners to examine the concept of practical wisdom The authors enlightening essays are interwoven with reflective strands comprised of commentaries examples and new ideas added by Hurteau and her colleagues that offer a recursive and intricate pattern of reflection on the topic of practical wisdom This is a rare book because it moves beyond evaluation methodology to explore how practical wisdom can help us develop new and better solutions for difficult evaluation situations It will become a standard reference for practitioners trainers and teachers of evaluation because it considers the history ethics and competencies that underpin practical wisdom and examines the ways that this untaught skill can be applied to do as House says the right thing in the special circumstances of performing the job
