From Cognitive Semantics To Lexical Pragmatics The Functional Polysemy Of Discourse Particles:

From Cognitive Semantics to Lexical Pragmatics Kerstin Fischer, 2000 This book presents a cognitive semantic model of what the whole range of functions is that English and German discourse particles can fulfil how these functions are related why discourse particles fulfil just these functions and not others and what factors condition their interpretation Methodologically conversation analysis and various methods from lexical semantics such as field analysis and semantic decomposition as well as contrastive studies are combined with the statistical analyses of large corpora simulation experiments involving supervised learning in artificial neural networks and the representation of the results in a computational lexicon This methodologically interdisciplinary study thus not only presents a general model of polysemy which includes structural aspects a conceptual background frame and the contribution of the lexeme it also provides full coverage for the functional readings of discourse particles and a unified definition of the word class

Pragmatics of Discourse Klaus P. Schneider, Anne Barron, 2014-06-18 Discourse is language as it occurs in any form or context beyond the speech act It may be written or spoken monological or dialogical but there is always a communicative aim or purpose The present volume provides systematic orientation in the vast field of studying discourse from a pragmatic perspective It first gives an overview of a range of approaches developed for the analysis of discourse including among others conversation analysis systemic functional analysis genre analysis critical discourse analysis corpus driven approaches and multimodal analysis The focus is furthermore on functional units in discourse such as discourse markers moves speech act sequences discourse phases and silence The final section of the volume examines discourse types and domains providing a taxonomy of discourse types and focusing on a range of discourse domains e g classroom discourse medical discourse legal discourse electronic discourse Each article surveys the current state of the art of the respective topic area while also presenting new research findings

Advances in Frame Semantics Mirjam Fried, Kiki Nikiforidou, 2013-12-15 This volume presents some of the latest research in Frame Semantics including work in computational lexicography as developed within the FrameNet project Using varied material from English Italian and Japanese the contributions collectively expand the theoretical conceptual and computational apparatus of Frame semantics by studying a range of issues concerning not only lexical structure associated with cognitive frames but also the less studied interactional frames and their relationship to grammatical organization While addressing a number of linguistic phenomena such as verbs of visual perception metaphoric language subordinating connectives paraphrasing honorifics certain pragmatic particles basic speech acts and the semantic structuring of legal texts the analyses also highlight the broader question of integrating frames within rich lexical and grammatical descriptions whether in the context of lexicon building resources models for knowledge representation experimental modeling of language acquisition and processing conceptual metaphor theory paraphrase research or the communicative grounding of linguistic structure Originally published in Constructions and Frames Vol 3 1 2011 and Vol 2 2 2010 Pragmatic Markers, Discourse Markers and Modal Particles Chiara Fedriani, Andrea Sansó, 2017-11-15 This book offers new perspectives into the description of the form meaning and function of Pragmatic Markers Discourse Markers and Modal Particles in a number of different languages along with new methods for identifying their prototypical instances in situated language contexts often based on cross linguistic comparisons The papers collected in this volume also discuss different factors at play in processes of grammaticalization and pragmaticalization which include contact induced change and pragmatic borrowing socio interactional functional pressures and sociopragmatic indexicalities constraints of cognitive processing together with regularities in semantic change Putting the traditional issues concerning the status delimitation and categorization of Pragmatic Markers Discourse Markers and Modal Particles somewhat off the stage the eighteen articles collected in this volume deal instead with general questions concerning the development and use of such procedural elements explored from different approaches both formal and functional and from a variety of perspectives including corpus based sociolinguistic and contrastive perspectives and offering language specific synchronic and diachronic studies Discursive Pragmatics Jan Zienkowski, Jan-Ola Östman, Jef Verschueren, 2011-06-16 The ten volumes of Handbook of Pragmatics Highlights focus on the most salient topics in the field of pragmatics thus dividing its wide interdisciplinary spectrum in a transparent and manageable way While the other volumes select specific philosophical cognitive grammatical social cultural variational or interactional angles this 8th volume focuses on theories and phenomena at the level of discourse but leaving aside conversational interaction It provides the reader with pragmatics oriented information on discourse analysis critical discourse analysis and critical linguistics as well as text linguistics and appraisal theory while introducing other specific approaches to discourse through concepts such as polyphony intertextuality genre and nonciation Furthermore topics such as public discourse narrative figures of speech cohesion and coherence pragmatic markers manipulation and humor are all dealt with in separate chapters The binding idea explained in the introduction is that discursive pragmatics may serve as a platform for a diversity of perspectives on discourse as they have emerged not only in the language sciences but also in the humanities and social sciences in general Pragmatic Markers and Pragmaticalization Peter Lauwers, Gudrun Vanderbauwhede, Stijn Verleyen, 2012 In this paper we investigate the evolution from imperatives to discourse markers in Romance with a corpus based approach We focus on the case of items coming from verbs meaning to look in a semasiological perspective Spanish and Catalan mira Portuguese olha Italian guarda French regarde Romanian uite We show that they all share many uses among which turn taking introduction of reported speech hesitation phenomenon topic shifting and modalization except for French regarde We then establish against Waltereit 2002 that the development of these uses is the result of a process Discourse Markers and Modal Particles Liesbeth Degand, Bert Cornillie, Paola Pietrandrea, 2013-11-14 Discourse markers and modal particles are fuzzy linguistic categories that are difficult to describe The contributions in this volume go beyond this statement They discuss the intersection between modal particles and discourse markers and examine whether or not it is possible to draw a line between these two types of linguistic expressions On the basis of new synchronic and diachronic data from speech and writing from European and Asian languages or cross linguistically the authors answer the question whether discourse markers and modal particles are distinct categories whether they form a cline or whether modal particles are a subcategory of discourse markers This common question shows up throughout all chapters which makes the book to a coherent whole By disentangling the complexity of categorizing multifunctional expressions this book also sheds new light on the processes of meaning extension The traditional discourse and modal functions are complemented by interactional and textual ones A must read for functional linguists

Lexical Markers of Common Grounds Anita Fetzer, Kerstin Fischer, 2021-11-22 The multifaceted and heterogeneous category of common ground is central to theories of pragmatics sociolinguistics discourse and context This book addresses current approaches to common ground from the novel perspective of lexical markers The edited volume falls in two parts The first part addresses the relationship between mechanisms of grounding and reference to common ground The second part examines different types of common ground It is shown that the investigation of lexical markers provides a novel perspective for investigating the relationship between grounding common ground and common grounds Contributions are by Sherri L Condon and Claude G Cech Anita Fetzer Kerstin Fischer Francois Nemo Thanh Nyan Moeko Okada Carlos Rodriguez Penagos Karin Pittner and Thora Tenbrink It reviews current approaches to common ground from the perspective of lexical markers It is organized into two parts that discuss the relationship between mechanisms of grounding It is a reference to common ground and the different types of common ground It reflects current trends in the field that cross methodological boundaries and integrate cognition context genre negotiation of meaning and dialogue

Creation Language in Romans 8 Gregory P. Fewster, 2013-04-04 Modern scholarship tends to understand Paul's use of creation language in Rom 8 18-23 as part of a commentary on the state of sub human creation This misguided position warrants an inquiry into the state of lexical study in New Testament scholarship As a result Fewster articulates a theory of lexical monosemy cast in the framework of Systemic Functional Linguistics The model is applied to Paul's use of through a robust corpus analysis and investigation into the word's role within the paragraph contributes to the cohesive structure of Rom 8 18-23 and contra the majority of interpreters functions as a metaphor for the human body

Tag Questions in Conversation Ditte Kimps, 2018-05-15 This monograph deals with variable tag questions These are utterances with a variable interrogative tag like It's peculiar writing isn't it and the semi variable tag innit such as Nice innit The aim is to provide a corpus based comprehensive semantic pragmatic typology of British English tag questions Compared to existing descriptions the proposed typology is novel in three ways Firstly whereas almost all existing typologies are single layered classifications the functions of tag questions are categorized into two parallel dimensions of interpersonal meaning the speech function and the stance layer Secondly semantic generalizations are proposed for clusters of grammatical intonational and conversational properties Thirdly the bottom up description is based on a sizeable amount of authentic spontaneous conversations which are analysed both qualitatively and quantitatively

Where Prosody Meets Pragmatics Dagmar Barth-Weingarten, Nicole Dehé, Anne Wichmann, 2012-11-02 This volume demonstrates the synergies that can result from interdisciplinary collaboration Responding to the growing interest in the interface between prosody and pragmatics it presents a collection of papers which use different approaches and data to explore a wide range of interrelated issues in both fields The volume contains a state of the art introduction by the editors and individual chapters organised in three sections In the first section chapters by Sasha Calhoun Joe Blythe Merle Horne and Phoenix Lam examine prosodic cues to referential and discourse textual meaning The second section is devoted to the role played by prosody in the negotiation of speaker change in conversational interaction with papers by Dagmar Barth Weingarten Jill House Emina Kurtic Guy J Brown Bill Wells and Beatrice Szczepek Reed In the final section chapters by Leendert Plug Elizabeth Couper Kuhlen and Anne Catherine Simon Liesbeth Degand focus on various aspects of interpersonal meaning and how they are conveyed Languages discussed are English Dutch German Swedish French and Murriny Patha and the frameworks used include Conversation Analysis Gricean pragmatics Interactional Linguistics Intonational Phonology Phonology for Conversation and Relevance Theory

Understanding Pragmatic Markers Karin Aijmer, 2013-04-22 An original study of pragmatic markers in a corpus of spoken English with a focus on the functions performed by the markers in different types of text

Outside the Clause Gunther Kaltenböck, Evelien Keizer, Arne Lohmann, 2016-10-03 This volume brings together a number of articles on the form and function of extra clausal constituents a group of linguistic elements which have puzzled linguists by defying analysis in terms of ordinary sentence grammar Given their high frequency and communicative importance these elements can however no longer be dismissed as a marginal linguistic phenomenon In recent years this awareness has resulted not only in more systematic treatments of extra clausal constituents but has also highlighted the need to account for them in grammatical theory Based on mainly English corpus data the volume investigates the discourse pragmatic semantic syntactic and phonological features of a range of extra clausal constituents including discourse markers free adjuncts left dislocands insubordinate clauses and various kinds of adverbials The individual chapters adopt a number of different perspectives investigating the diachronic development of extra clausal constituents their multi functionality and their use in bilingual settings also addressing the question of how they can be incorporated into existing models of grammar

Quantitative Methods in Cognitive Semantics Dylan Glynn, Kerstin Fischer, 2010 Review text Overall this volume is an important contribution to the development of empirical Cognitive Semantics This collection of high quality papers provides the reader with an insight into the most important empirical approaches in corpus driven semantic research Natalia Levshina in Linguist List 20 3011

New Directions in Cognitive Linguistics Vyvyan Evans, Stephanie Pourcel, 2009 Nearly three decades since the publication of the seminal Metaphors We Live By Cognitive Linguistics is now a mature theoretical and empirical enterprise with a voluminous associated literature. It is arguably the most rapidly expanding school in modern linguistics and one of the most exciting areas of research within the interdisciplinary project known as cognitive science. As such Cognitive Linguistics is increasingly attracting a broad readership both within linguistics as well as from neighbouring disciplines including other cognitive and social sciences and from disciplines within the humanities. This volume contains over 20 papers by leading experts in cognitive linguistics which survey the state of the art and new directions in cognitive linguistics. The volume is divided into 5 sections covering all the traditional areas of study in cognitive linguistics as well as newer areas including applications and extensions. Sections include Approaches to semantics, Approaches to metaphor and blending, Approaches to grammar, Language embodiment and cognition, Extensions and applications of cognitive linguistics.

Modeling Biblical Language Stanley E. Porter, Gregory P. Fewster, Christopher D. Land, 2016-03-21. Modeling Biblical Language presents articles with some of the latest scholarship applying linguistic theory to the study of the Christian Bible. The contributors are all associated with the McMaster Divinity College Linguistic Circle, a collegial forum for presenting working papers in modern linguistics, especially Systemic Functional Linguistics and biblical studies. The papers address a range of topics in linguistic theory and the Hebrew and Greek languages. Topics include linguistic model building, temporality and verbal aspect, Greek lexical semantics and Hebrew Greek translation appraisal and evaluation theory, metaphor theory, corpus linguistics, discourse analysis and Greek clausal structure. These various areas of linguistic exploration contribute generally to the interpretation and analysis of the Old and New Testaments as well as to linguistic theory proper.

Grammar and Text Ana Guilherme, Camile Tanto, Joana Teixeira, 2018-10-26. This volume brings together a collection of papers based on presentations given at the 10th and 11th Fora for Linguistic Sharing organised by the Young Researchers Group of the Centro de Linguística da Universidade Nova de Lisboa (CLUNL) and held at Universidade NOVA de Lisboa, Portugal on the 27th and 28th November 2015 and on the 25th November 2016 respectively. The papers are authored by young researchers in linguistics and present the results of original research in two broad areas, namely text and discourse linguistics and grammar. This volume also includes a brief history of the Forum for Linguistic Sharing written by its founders, Audria Leal, Carla Teixeira, Isabelle Simões Marques and Matilde Gonçalves. A keynote article on text linguistics by Matilde Gonçalves and a keynote article on word formation by Maria do Ceu Caetano. Given that it brings together contributions from different yet complementary subfields of linguistics, the book will appeal to a broad readership of linguists.

Discourse Markers in Native and Non-native English Discourse Simone Müller, 2005-11-24. While discourse markers have been examined in some detail, little is known about their usage by non-native speakers. This book provides valuable insights into the functions of four discourse markers so well you know and like in native and non-native English discourse, adding to both discourse marker literature and to studies in the pragmatics of learner language. It presents a thorough analysis on the basis of a substantial parallel corpus of spoken language. In this corpus American students who are native speakers of English and German non native speakers of English retell and discuss a silent movie Each of the main chapters of the book is dedicated to one discourse marker giving a detailed analysis of the functions this discourse marker fulfills in the corpus and a quantitative comparison between the two speaker groups The book also develops a two level model of discourse marker functions comprising a textual and an interactional level

Advances in Functional Linguistics Joseph Davis, Radmila J. Gorup, Nancy Stern, 2006-12-20 This collection carries the functionalist Columbia School of linguistics forward with contributions on linguistic theory semiotics phonology grammar lexicon and anthropology Columbia School linguistics views language as a symbolic tool whose structure is shaped both by its communicative function and by the characteristics of its users and considers contextual pragmatic physical and psychological factors in its analyses This volume builds upon three previous Columbia School anthologies and further explores issues raised in them including fundamental theoretical and analytical questions And it raises new issues that take Columbia School beyond its origins The contributions illustrate both consistency since the school's inception over thirty years ago and innovation spurred by groundbreaking analysis The volume will be of interest to all functional linguists and historians of linguistics Languages analyzed include Byelorussian English Japanese Serbo Croatian Spanish and Swahili
