Engenderings Constructions Of Knowledge Authority And Privilege:

Engenderings Naomi Scheman, 2014-02-25 Naomi Scheman argues that the concerns of philosophy emerge not from the universal human condition but from conditions of privilege Her books represents a powerful challenge to the notion that gender makes no difference in the construction of philosophical reasoning At the same time it criticizes the narrow focus of most feminist theorizing and calls for a more inclusive form of inquiry

Autobiographical Writing Across the Disciplines Diane P. Freedman, Olivia Frey, 2004-01-23 Autobiographical Writing Across the Disciplines reveals the extraordinary breadth of the intellectual movement toward self inclusive scholarship Presenting exemplary works of criticism incorporating personal narratives this volume brings together twenty seven essays from scholars in literary studies and history mathematics and medicine philosophy music film ethnic studies law education anthropology religion and biology Pioneers in the development of the hybrid genre of personal scholarship the writers whose work is presented here challenge traditional modes of inquiry and ways of knowing In assembling their work editors Diane P Freedman and Olivia Frey have provided a rich source of reasons for and models of autobiographical criticism The editors introduction presents a condensed history of academic writing chronicles the origins of autobiographical criticism and emphasizes the role of feminism in championing the value of personal narrative to disciplinary discourse The essays are all explicitly informed by the identities of their authors among whom are a feminist scientist a Jewish filmmaker living in Germany a potential carrier of Huntington s disease and a doctor pregnant while in medical school Whether describing how being a professor of ethnic literature necessarily entails being an activist how music and cooking are related or how a theology is shaped by cultural identity the contributors illuminate the relationship between their scholarly pursuits and personal lives and in the process expand the boundaries of their disciplines Contributors Kwame Anthony Appiah Ruth Behar Merrill Black David Bleich James Cone Brenda Daly Laura B DeLind Carlos L Dews Michael Dorris Diane P Freedman Olivia Frey Peter Hamlin Laura Duhan Kaplan Perri Klass Muriel Lederman Deborah Lefkowitz Eunice Lipton Robert D Marcus Donald Murray Seymour Papert Carla T Peterson David Richman Sara Ruddick Julie Tharp Bonnie TuSmith Alex Wexler Naomi Weisstein Patricia Williams

The Cambridge Companion to Wittgenstein Hans Sluga, David G. Stern, 2018 Updated edition of this important book charting the development of Wittgenstein s philosophy of the mind language logic and mathematics

Philosophy in Multiple Voices George Yancy, 2007 The scope of Philosophy in Multiple Voices provides the reader with eight philosophical streams of thought African American Afro Caribbean Asian American Feminist Latin American Lesbian Native American and Queer that introduce readers to alternative complex philosophical questions concerning gendered sexed racial and ethnic identities canon formation and meta philosophy The overriding theme of the text is that philosophy is pluralistic in voice rich in diversity and ought to valorize democratic intellectual spaces of philosophical engagement

The Mind's Affective Life Gemma Fiumara Corradi, 2014-06-11 The Mind's Affective Life is a refreshing and innovative examination of the relationship between feeling and thinking Our thoughts and behaviour are shaped by both our emotions and reason yet until recently most of the literature analysing thought has concentrated largely on philosophical reasoning and neglected emotions This book is an original and provocative contribution to the rapidly growing literature on the neglected affective dimensions of modern thought The author draws on contemporary psychoanalysis philosophy feminist theory and recent innovations in neuroscience to argue that in order to understand thought we need to consider not only both emotional and rational aspects of thought but also the complex interactions between these different aspects Only through such a rich and complicated understanding of modern thought can we hope to avoid what the author identifies as a significant contemporary problem for individuals and cultures that is suppression or denial of intolerable states of feeling The Mind's Affective Life will appeal to and inspire students and practitioners of philosophy psychoanalysis psychotherapy and women's studies It will also be of great interest to anyone interested in the interaction of feeling and thinking

A Philosophical Analysis of Hope J. Waterworth, 2003-12-16 Despite the familiarity of hope in human experience it is a phenomenon infrequently considered from a philosophical point of view This book charts the centrality of hope in thought and action from first second and third person perspectives From everyday situations to extreme circumstances of trial and endings in life the contours of hope are given a phenomenological description and subjected to conceptual analysis This consistently secular account of hope sheds a different light on questions of agency and meaning

Feminism and Families Hilde Lindemann Nelson, 2016-02-04 A ground breaking volume of all new essays covering the conjunction of two topics feminism and families that for all their centrality in our culture have not been adequately examined in light of one another While the family has suffered feminist neglect most women are in fact members of families living their lives within the social context of families even at a time when the concept of family has become bewilderingly unstable The intersection of families and feminism is thus one in need of philosophical reflection as a basis both for good public policy and for the ethical relationships of intimate life

The Epistemic Dimensions of Ignorance Rik Peels, Martijn Blaauw, 2016-12-22 The book provides a thorough exploration of the epistemic dimensions of ignorance what is ignorance and what are its varieties

Research Methodologies for Auto/biography Studies Kate Douglas, Ashley Barnwell, 2019-06-03 This collection of short essays provides a rigorous rich collaborative space in which scholars and practitioners debate the value of different methodological approaches to the study of life narratives and explore a diverse range of interdisciplinary methods Auto biography studies has been one of the most vibrant sub disciplines to emerge in the humanities and social sciences in the past decade providing significant links between disciplines including literary studies languages linguistics digital humanities medical humanities creative writing history gender studies education sociology and anthropology The essays in this collection position auto biography as a key discipline for modelling interdisciplinary approaches to methodology and ask what original and important thinking can auto biography studies bring to discussions of methodology for literary studies and beyond And how does the diversity of methodological interventions in auto biography studies build a strong and diverse research discipline In including some of auto biography s leading international scholars alongside emerging scholars and exploring key subgenres and practices this collection showcases knowledge about what we do when engaging in auto biographical research

Research Methodologies for Auto biography Studies offers a series of case studies that explore the research practices reflective behaviours and ethical considerations that inform auto biographical research

Material Feminisms Stacy Alaimo, Susan J. Hekman, 2008-01-02 Harnessing the energy of provocative theories generated by recent understandings of the human body the natural world and the material world Material Feminisms presents a way for feminists to conceive of the question of materiality

The African Philosophy Reader P.H. Coetzee, A.P.J. Roux, 2004-03 Divided into eight sections each with introductory essays the selections offer rich and detailed insights into a diverse multinational philosophical landscape Revealed in this pathbreaking work is the way in which traditional philosophical issues related to ethics metaphysics and epistemology for instance take on specific forms in Africa s postcolonial struggles Much of its moral political and social philosophy is concerned with the turbulent processes of embracing modern identities while protecting ancient cultures

African Gender Studies Oyeronke Oyewumi, 2016-09-27 This is the first comprehensive reader that brings African experiences to bear on the ongoing global discussions of women gender and society Bringing together the essential writing on this topic from the last 25 years these essays discuss gender in Africa from a multi disciplinary perspective

Epistemic Situationism Abrol Fairweather, Mark Alfano, 2017 This volume is the first sustained examination of epistemic situationism the clash between virtue epistemology and the situationist hypothesis inspired by research in empirical psychology Situationism began as a challenge to the psychology of character traits targeting ethical theories that presuppose a trait psychology Psychological research suggests that often trivial environmental variables have greater explanatory power than character traits Epistemology pursues questions about the nature of knowledge While there are internal differences within virtue epistemology between responsibilists and reliabilists they all analyze knowledge in terms of epistemic virtues and vices However despite promising normative results virtue epistemology appears to assume the same character based psychology as virtue ethics does Until recently virtue epistemology and situationism were separate literatures but philosophers have begun to examine the apparent incompatibility between situationist psychology and virtue epistemology Much of the psychological research that raises questions about the empirical adequacy of the moral psychology of virtue ethics also appears to raise doubts about the empirical adequacy of the epistemic psychology assumed by virtue epistemology

Responsibilist virtue epistemology appears particularly vulnerable because epistemic virtues like open mindedness conscientiousness and intellectual courage are traits of intellectual character but reliabilist virtue epistemology appeals to the psychology of cognitive skills abilities and competences that may be similarly vulnerable The essays in this volume take up this new problem of epistemic situationism from multiple points of view some sceptical or revisionary others conservative

Formations of Class & Gender Beverley Skeggs,1997-06-03 Explanations of how identities are constructed are fundamental to contemporary debates in feminism and in cultural and social theory Formations of Class Gender demonstrates why class should be featured more prominently in theoretical accounts of gender identity and power Beverley Skeggs identifies the neglect of class and shows how class and gender must be fused together to produce an accurate representation of power relations in modern society The book questions how theoretical frameworks are generated for understanding how women live and produce themselves through social and cultural relations It uses detailed ethnographic research to explain how real women inhabit and occupy the social and cultural positions of class femininity and sexuality As a critical examination of cultural representation informed by recent feminist theory and the work of Pierre Bourdieu the book is an articulate demonstration of how to translate theory into practice Knowing Otherwise Alexis Shotwell,2015-09-10

Prejudice is often not a conscious attitude because of ingrained habits in relating to the world one may act in prejudiced ways toward others without explicitly understanding the meaning of one's actions Similarly one may know how to do certain things like ride a bicycle without being able to articulate in words what that knowledge is These are examples of what Alexis Shotwell discusses in Knowing Otherwise as phenomena of implicit understanding Presenting a systematic analysis of this concept she highlights how this kind of understanding may be used to ground positive political and social change such as combating racism in its less overt and more deep rooted forms Shotwell begins by distinguishing four basic types of implicit understanding nonpropositional skill based or practical knowledge embodied knowledge potentially propositional knowledge and affective knowledge She then develops the notion of a racialized and gendered common sense drawing on Gramsci and critical race theorists and clarifies the idea of embodied knowledge by showing how it operates in the realm of aesthetics She also examines the role that both negative affects like shame and positive affects like sympathy can play in moving us away from racism and toward political solidarity and social justice Finally Shotwell looks at the politicized experience of one's body in feminist and transgender theories of liberation in order to elucidate the role of situated sensuous knowledge in bringing about social change and political transformation Ambiguity and Sexuality W. Wilkerson,2016-04-30 A new account of the formation of sexual identity coined emerged fusion which avoids the traps of the essentialism versus constructivism debate and offers a viable third alternative This book is a theoretical tool that will be useful in sociology queer studies and gender studies as a new approach to understanding sexual identity The Philosophical I George Yancy,2002 Philosophy is shaped by life and life is shaped by philosophy This is reflected in The Philosophical I a collection of 16 autobiographical essays by prominent philosophers Candid and philosophically insightful these personal narratives critically call into question the belief that philosophy should be kept separate from the personal experience of philosophers Each contributor traces the fundamental influences both philosophical and otherwise that have shaped his or her identity In this postmodern world the self is often viewed as irreparably fragmented and fractured but the reflections in this volume point to a self that is a continuous though dynamic storyline What shines through in each of these essays is that philosophy is a profoundly personal adventure

The Cambridge Companion to Feminism in Philosophy Miranda Fricker, Jennifer Hornsby, 2000-01-27 The thirteen specially commissioned essays in this volume are written by philosophers at the forefront of feminist scholarship and are designed to provide an accessible and stimulating guide to a philosophical literature that has seen massive expansion in recent years Ranging from history of philosophy through metaphysics to philosophy of science they encompass all the core subject areas commonly taught in anglophone undergraduate and graduate philosophy courses offering both an overview of and a contribution to the relevant debates Together they testify to the intellectual value of feminism as a radicalizing energy internal to philosophical inquiry This volume will be essential reading for any student or teacher of philosophy who is curious about the place of feminism in their subject

Feminist Interpretations of Ludwig Wittgenstein Naomi Scheman, Peg O'Connor, 2010-11-01 The original essays in this volume while written from diverse perspectives share the common aim of building a constructive dialogue between two currents in philosophy that seem not readily allied Wittgenstein who urges us to bring our words back home to their ordinary uses recognizing that it is our agreements in judgments and forms of life that ground intelligibility and feminist theory whose task is to articulate a radical critique of what we say to disrupt precisely those taken for granted agreements in judgments and forms of life Wittgenstein and feminist theorists are alike however in being unwilling or unable to make sense in the terms of the traditions from which they come needing to rely on other means including telling stories about everyday life to change our ideas of what sense is and of what it is to make it For both appeal to grounding is problematic but the presumed groundedness of particular judgments remains an unavoidable feature of discourse and as such in need of understanding For feminist theory Wittgenstein suggests responses to the immobilizing tugs between modernist modes of theorizing and postmodern challenges to them For Wittgenstein feminist theory suggests responses to those who would turn him into the normal philosopher he dreaded becoming one who offers perhaps unorthodox solutions to recognizable philosophical problems In addition to an introductory essay by Naomi Scheman the volume's twenty chapters are grouped in sections titled The Subject of Philosophy and the Philosophical Subject Wittgensteinian Feminist Philosophy Contrasting Visions Drawing Boundaries Categories and Kinds Being Human Agents and Subjects and Feminism's Allies New Players New Games These essays give us ways of understanding Wittgenstein and feminist theory that make the alliance a mutually fruitful one even as they bring to their readings of Wittgenstein an explicitly historical and political perspective that is at best implicit in his work The recent salutary turn in analytic philosophy toward taking history seriously has shown how the apparently timeless problems of supposedly generic subjects arose out of historically specific circumstances These essays shed light on the task of feminist theorists along with postcolonial queer and critical race theorists to in Wittgenstein s words rotate the axis of our examination around whatever real need s might emerge through the struggles of modernity s Others Contributors besides the editors are Nancy E Baker Nalini Bhushan Jane Braaten Judith Bradford Sandra W Churchill Daniel Cohen Tim Craker Alice Crary Susan Hekman Cressida J Heyes Sarah Lucia Hoagland Christine M Koggel Bruce Krajewski Wendy Lynne Lee Hilda Lindemann Nelson Deborah Orr Rupert Read Phyllis Rooney and Janet Farrell Smith
