Halbert, 2020-08-22 This new book updates the current practice in the Information Commons and other new kinds of facilities inspired by the same needs and intents This book is an attempt to answer the question What might be the next emerging concept for a technology enabled user responsive mission driven form of the academic library Bridging Research and

Library Practice Krystyna K. Matusiak, Kawanna M. Bright, Debbie Schachter, 2023-11-20 Bridging the gap between research and practice communities is more pertinent than ever because of the need for evidence in developing and evaluating library services and programs The gap between research and library practice has been discussed in the library and information science LIS field for almost two decades The issues range from limited transfer of ideas from research into practice to a lack of education in research methods for library practitioners This book introduces new voices from international research and practice communities into the discussion and contributes to the debate about the research practice divide Education and continuing training in research methods from international perspectives are explored and the experiences of researcher practitioners from several countries highlight the issues The volume includes chapters from LIS educators academic researchers and researcher practitioners from 18 countries It features the voices of instructors who teach research methods in LIS programs and library practitioners who engage in research The book is addressed to the global audience of LIS educators and practitioners with the goal of deepening the understanding of LIS education and training in research methods through sharing case studies and approaches to teaching and conducting research in practice Library and Information

Science in the Middle East and North Africa Amanda B. Click, Sumayya Ahmed, Jacob Hill, John D. Martin III, 2016-07-11 This volume offers up to date insights into the state of library and information science LIS in the Middle East and North Africa Covered topics include information literacy intellectual property LIS education and research publishing and more This timely contribution thus presents vital areas of research on a region that receives relatively little coverage and is currently experiencing rapid and significant changes Subject Directory of Special Libraries Cengage Gale, Gale Group, 2000-09-15

Teaching Reference Today Lisa A. Ellis, 2016-06-09 Reference and Information Services if it may still be referred to by this term is an evolving outreach service in libraries This is not only due to Google and the Internet but also other technological advances afford users online access to a plethora of content free and proprietary This evolution has also caused a shift in the theories and practices especially core functions and values of reference and information services as library schools seek greater alignment with practitioners and libraries on the forefront of these changes As academics and practitioners work together to educate library students on the kinds of changes happening in reference and information services they are rethinking their curriculum and assignments to incorporate real world challenges adaptive to user needs Likewise libraries may work through their regional library consortia to plan professional development workshops or training sessions to teach new skills and methods of approach required for such changing services Here s a tool for library school instructors library students professional development instructors and current librarians poised to change which specifically addresses the pedagogy of reference and information services in flux It will help answer questions such as How may we better educate a new and current generation of reference and information service professionals given the challenges they will likely encounter What kinds of assignments could be devised to better promote active learning in a transformative field like reference and information services What new approaches or theories could be applied to assist library professionals in meeting the informational needs of users
