Hope And Memory Lessons From The Twentieth Century:

Hope and Memory Tzvetan Todorov, 2003 Both a political history and a moral critique of the twentieth century this is a personal and impassioned book from one of Europe's most outstanding intellectuals Identifying totalitarianism as the major innovation of the twentieth century Tzvetan Todorov examines the struggle between this system and democracy and its effects on human life and consciousness Todorov explores the history of the past century not only by analyzing its spectacular political conflicts but also by offering moving profiles of several individuals who at great personal cost resisted the strictures of the Communist and Nazi regimes Jacket Hope and Memory Tzvetan Todorov, Cvetan Todorov, 2016-05-31 Both a political history and a moral critique of the twentieth century this is a personal and impassioned book from one of Europe's most outstanding intellectuals Identifying totalitarianism as the major innovation of the twentieth century Tzvetan Todorov examines the struggle between this system and democracy and its effects on human life and consciousness Totalitarianism managed to impose itself because more than any other political system it played on people's need for the absolute it fed their hope to endow life with meaning by taking part in the construction of a paradise on earth As a result millions of people lost their lives in the name of a higher good While democracy eventually won the struggle against totalitarianism in much of the world democracy itself is not immune to the pitfall of do goodery moral correctness at home and atomic or humanitarian bombs abroad Todorov explores the history of the past century not only by analyzing its spectacular political conflicts but also by offering moving profiles of several individuals who at great personal cost resisted the strictures of the communist and Nazi regimes Some Margarete Buber Neumann David Rousset Primo Levi and Germaine Tillon were deported to concentration camps Others Vasily Grossman and Romain Gary fought courageously in World War II All became exemplary witnesses who described with great lucidity and humanity what they had endured This book preserves the memory of the past as we move into the twenty first century arguing eloquently that we must place the past at the service of a just future

Hope and Memory Tzvetan Todorov, 2016 Global Manifestos for the Twenty-First Century Nicol A.

Barria-Asenjo, Brian Willems, Slavoj Žižek, 2023-11-22 Bringing together over forty original short essays some academic others more creative in nature this collection responds to the political historical social and economic situation in which we find ourselves today The editors argue that we are living in a repetition that must be stopped if our goal is that the signifier humanity remains in the following centuries the time has come to work in the present The objective is not to deliver precise or quick answers but to gather varied voices from different continents bringing together different languages ideas practices theories thoughts and desires In the words of Yanis Varoufakis urging us to become agents of a future that ends unnecessary mass suffering and inspire humanity to realise its potential for authentic freedom To leave the concept of a manifesto open the contradictory aspects of the chapters are a subject of the manifesto itself This is a manifesto of contradictions that reflects our reality as well as our struggles and our aspirations This unique anthology will appeal to students and scholars across the humanities and social sciences interested in critical theory and social change Redemptive Hope Akiba J. Lerner, 2015-09-01 This is a book about the need for redemptive narratives to ward off despair and the dangers these same narratives create by raising expectations that are seldom fulfilled The quasi messianic expectations produced by the election of President Barack Obama in 2008 and their diminution were stark reminders of an ongoing struggle between ideals and political realities Redemptive Hope begins by tracing the tension between theistic thinkers for whom hope is transcendental and intellectuals who have striven to link hopes for redemption to our intersubjective interactions with other human beings Lerner argues that a vibrant democracy must draw on the best of both religious thought and secular liberal political philosophy By bringing Richard Rorty's pragmatism into conversation with early twentieth century Jewish thinkers including Martin Buber and Ernst Bloch Lerner begins the work of building bridges while insisting on holding crucial differences in dialectical tension Only such a dialogue he argues can prepare the foundations for modes of redemptive thought fit for the twenty first century The Resilience of Hope Janette McDonald, Andrea M. Stephenson, 2010 Hope What is it How do we get it Is it part of being human Is it something that carries us through hard times Is it something illusory This book which stems from the 4th Inter Disciplinary net conference on Hope Probing the Boundaries held in September 2008 at Mansfield College in Oxford England explores all of these questions and many more As a truly inter disciplinary venture this book approaches the theme of hope from the point of view of the philosophical theological political literary psychological and sociological and presents hope not just as an abstract theme to be pondered but as an aspect of human living and thinking that has a profound impact on our lives The conclusions reached in each chapter demonstrate the variety of ways in which hope is conceived as well as the tensions inherent in any discussion of the benefits of hope and the intricacies in dealing with hope on a theoretical and a practical level This book is perfect for anyone wondering where hope fits into our lives during these troubling times Salt and Light Patrick Negri, 2019-11-01 Patric Negri SSS was ordained a Catholic Priest in Melbourne in 1960 and died at the age of 80 in 2016 was a member of the Blessed Sacrament Congregation for over 50 years He was a scholar pastor administrator preacher and painter His paintings became a satisfactory creative outlet At various time he held leadership positions in his Congregation He gained a Phd in 1990 from the Graduate Theological Union in Berkley USA and then taught Liturgical Studies in Melbourne at the Yarra Theological Union This book is a election of homilies covering the main liturgical seasons over Years A B and C together with a number of his paintings The book has been put together by his twin brother Michael Negri and nephew Damian Negri who both live in Melbourne From Misery to Hope Joe Egan, 2010 How can one believe in a God of love amid all the evil and suffering found in the world How does one do theology after Auschwitz while vast numbers of people still have to endure violent oppression every day This book seeks to address such questions from a standpoint informed by life in Africa which in the face of extraordinary difficulties bears witness to Gospel hope by demonstrating forgiveness in action and promoting reconciliation The work unfolds in two parts In the first part a description of the misery that characterises much of life in Africa in the recent past opens up to a theological consideration of the underlying causes and of God's response to them In the second part the joy which is so characteristic of life in Africa even in places of immense suffering sets the scene for detailed reflections on liturgy memory forgiveness and hope

War and Public Memory David A. Messenger, 2020-01-07 An introduction to key issues in the study of war and memory that examines significant conflicts in twentieth century Europe In order to understand the history of twentieth century Europe we must first appreciate and accept how different societies and cultures remember their national conflicts We must also be aware of the ways that those memories evolve over time In War and Public Memory Case Studies in Twentieth Century Europe Messenger outlines the relevant history of war and its impact on different European nations and assesses how and where the memory of these conflicts emerges in political and public discourse and in the public sphere and public spaces of Europe The case studies presented emphasize the major wars fought on European soil as well as the violence perpetrated against civilian populations Each chapter begins with a brief overview of the conflict and then proceeds with a study of how memory of that struggle has entered into public consciousness in different national societies The focus throughout is on collective social cultural and public memory and in particular how memory has emerged in public spaces throughout Europe such as parks museums and memorial sites Messenger discusses memories of the First World War for both the victors and the vanquished as well as their successor states Other events discussed include the Bolshevik Revolution and subsequent conflicts in the former Soviet Union the Armenian genocide the collapse of Yugoslavia the legacy of the civil war in Spain Germany's reckoning with its Nazi past and the memory of occupation and the Holocaust in France and Poland

The Memory of Pain Camila Loew, 2011 In this book Camila Loew analyzes four women's testimonial literary writings on the Holocaust to examine and question some of the tenets of the fields of Holocaust studies gender studies and testimony Through a close reading of the works of Charlotte Delbo Margarete Buber Neumann Ruth Kluger and Marguerite Duras Loew foregrounds these authors' search for a written form to engage with their experiences of the extreme Although each chapter contains its individual focus and features the book possesses a unity in intention concerns and consequences In the theoretical introduction that unites the four chapters Loew eschews essentialism and revises the emergence of the field of Women and Holocaust studies from the early 1980s on and signals some of its shortcomings In response and in accordance with a recent turn in various disciplines of the Humanities Loew highlights the ethical dimension of testimony and its responsible commitment to the other In dealing with the texts as literary testimonies a complex genre between literature and history testimony is freed from the obligation to respond to the requirements of factual truth and becomes a privileged form to voice the traumatic event and to symbolically explore the role of excess

Paul Ricoeur Farhang Erfani, 2011-12-16 This collection of essays is dedicated to the prolific career of Paul Ricoeur In his lifetime Ricoeur made significant contributions to many fields such as theology aesthetics narratology linguistics and of course philosophy Within philosophy alone he engaged many currents of thoughts always providing careful and faithful analyses of philosophers while adding his own unique perspectives Many essays in this anthology revisit Ricoeur s own works carefully placing him in his philosophical context while providing new interpretations of questions that mattered to Ricoeur such as imagination forgiveness justice and memory Other essays honoring Ricoeur s own approach bring him to dialogue with new questions such as globalization technology and national memorials

A Holocaust Controversy Samuel Moyn,2005-08-22 A provocative study of a French Holocaust controversy of the 1960s and the dynamics of postwar memory

Aversion and Erasure Carolyn J. Dean,2017-01-15 In Aversion and Erasure Carolyn J Dean offers a bold account of how the Holocaust s status as humanity s most terrible example of evil has shaped contemporary discourses about victims in the West Popular and scholarly attention to the Holocaust has led some observers to conclude that a surfeit of Jewish memory is obscuring the suffering of other peoples Dean explores the pervasive idea that suffering and trauma in the United States and Western Europe have become central to identity with victims competing for recognition by displaying their collective wounds She argues that this notion has never been examined systematically even though it now possesses the force of self evidence It developed in nascent form after World War II when the near annihilation of European Jewry began to transform patriotic mourning into a slogan of Never Again as the Holocaust demonstrated all people might become victims because of their ethnicity race gender or sexuality because of who they are The recent concept that suffering is central to identity and that Jewish suffering under Nazism is iconic of modern evil has dominated public discourse since the 1980s Dean argues that we believe that the rational contestation of grievances in democratic societies is being replaced by the proclamation of injury and the desire to be a victim Such dramatic and yet culturally powerful assertions however cast suspicion on victims and define their credibility in new ways that require analysis Dean s latest book summons anyone concerned with human rights to recognize the impact of cultural ideals of deserving and undeserving victims on those who have suffered

The Power of Memory and Violence in Central America Rachel Hatcher,2018-05-11 This book explores the power of words in post Peace El Salvador and Guatemala their violent and equally liberating power The volume explores the entire post Peace Accords era in both Central American countries In post conflict settings denying or forgetting the repressive past and its many victims does violence to those victims while remembering and giving testimony about the past can be cathartic for survivors relatives and even for perpetrators This project will appeal to readers interested in development societies in transition global peace studies and Central American studies

Tzvetan Todorov Henk de Berg,Karine Zbinden,2020 The first ever comprehensive examination of Tzvetan Todorov s cultural theory and his place in European thought

Democracy to Come Fred Dallmayr,2017-04-19 In this book Fred Dallmayr lays the groundwork for a new understanding of democracy He argues that democracy is not a stable system anchored in a manifest authority like monarchy but is sustained by the recessed and purely potential rule of the people Hence democracy has to constantly reinvent itself resembling theologically a creatio continua

Like one of Calder's mobiles democracy for him involves three basic elements that must be balanced constantly the people political leaders and policy goals Where this balance is disrupted democracy derails into populism Bonapartism or messianism Given this need for balance democratic politics is basically a relational praxis In our globalizing age democracy cannot be confined domestically Dallmayr rejects the idea that it can be autocratically imposed abroad through forced regime change or that the dominant Western model can simply be transferred elsewhere In this respect he challenges the equation of democracy with the pursuit of individual or collective self interest insisting that other more ethical conceptions are possible and that different societies should nurture democracy with their own cultural resources Providing examples he discusses efforts to build democracy in the Middle East China and India respectively with Islamic Confucian and Hindu resources In the end Dallmayr's hope is for a democracy to come that is a cosmopolitan community governed not by hegemonic force but by the spirit of equality and mutual respect

Memory, Place and Autobiography Jill Daniels, 2019-01-03 There has been a significant growth in autobiographical documentary films in recent years This innovative book proposes that the filmmaker in her dual role as maker and subject may act as a cultural guide in an exploration of the social world It argues that in the cinematic mediation of memory the mimetic approach in the construction of documentary films may not be feasible and memory may instead be evoked elliptically through hybrid strategies such as critical realism and fictional enactment Recognizing that identity is formed by history and what goes on in the world the book charts the historical trajectory of the British independent filmmaking movement from the mid 1970s to the present growth of new online distribution outlets and new media through digital technologies and social media

The Oxford Handbook of Public History, 2017-09-20 The Oxford Handbook of Public History introduces the major debates within public history the methods and sources that comprise a public historian's tool kit and exemplary examples of practice It views public history as a dynamic process combining historical research and a wide range of work with and for the public informed by a conceptual context The editors acknowledge the imprecision bedeviling attempts to define public history and use this book as an opportunity to shape the field by taking a deliberately broad view They include professional historians who work outside the academy in a range of institutions and sites and those who are politically committed to communicating history to the wide range of audiences This volume provides the information and inspiration needed by a practitioner to succeed in the wide range of workplaces that characterizes public history today for university teachers of public history to assist their students and for working public historians to keep up to date with recent research This handbook locates public history as a professional practice within an intellectual framework that is increasingly transnational technological and democratic While the nation state remains the primary means of identification increased mobility and the digital revolution have occasioned a much broader outlook and awareness of the world beyond national borders It addresses squarely the tech savvy media literate citizens of the world the digital natives of the twenty first century in a way that recognizes the revolution in shared authority that has swept museum work oral history and much of public history practice This volume also provides both currently practicing historians and those entering the field a map for understanding the historical landscape of the future not just to the historiographical debates of the academy but also the boom in commemoration and history outside the academy evident in many countries since the 1990s which now constitutes the historical culture in each country Public historians need to understand both contexts and to negotiate their implications for questions of historical authority and the public historian's work The boom in popular history is characterized by a significant increase in both making and consuming history in a range of historical activities such as genealogy family history and popular collecting cultural tourism historic sites and memorial museums increased memorialization both formal and informal from roadside memorials to state funded shrines and memorial Internet sites increased publication of historical novels biographies and movies and TV series set in the past Much of this as well as a vast array of new community cultural projects has been facilitated by the digital technologies that have increased the accessibility of historical information the democratization of practice and the demand for sharing authority

Memory and Migration Julia Creet, Andreas Kitzmann, 2014-02-24 Memory plays an integral part in how individuals and societies construct their identity While memory is usually considered in the context of a stable unchanging environment this collection of essays explores the effects of immigration forced expulsions exile banishment and war on individual and collective memory The ways in which memory affects cultural representation and historical understanding across generations is examined through case studies and theoretical approaches that underscore its mutability Memory and Migration is a truly interdisciplinary book featuring the work of leading scholars from a variety of fields across the globe The essays are collaborative successfully responding to the central theme and expanding upon the findings of individual authors A groundbreaking contribution to an emerging field of study Memory and Migration provides valuable insight into the connections between memory place and displacement
