Hopkins in the Age of Darwin Tom Zaniello,1988      Hopkins in the Age of Darwin Tom Zaniello,1988      The Last of the Light Peter Davidson,2015-10-15 Neither day nor night twilight has long exerted a fascination for Western artists thinkers and writers while haunting the Romantics and intriguing philosophers and scientists In The Last of the Light Peter Davidson takes readers through our culture's long engagement with the concept of twilight from the melancholy of smoky English autumn evenings to the midnight sun of northern European summers and beyond Taking in poets and painters Victorians and Romans city and countryside and deftly combining memoir literature philosophy and art history Davidson shows how the atmospheric shadows and the in between nature of twilight has fired the imagination and generated works of incredible beauty mystery and romance Ambitious and brilliantly executed this is the perfect book for the bedside table richly rewarding and endlessly thought provoking      Victorians in the Mountains Ann C. Colley,2016-02-24 In her compelling book Ann C Colley examines the shift away from the cult of the sublime that characterized the early part of the nineteenth century to the less reverential perspective from which the Victorians regarded mountain landscapes And what a multifaceted perspective it was as unprecedented numbers of the Victorian middle and professional classes took themselves off on mountaineering holidays so commonplace that the editors of Punch sarcastically reported that the route to the summit of Mont Blanc was to be carpeted In Part One Colley mines diaries and letters to interrogate how everyday tourists and climbers both responded to and undercut ideas about the sublime showing how technological advances like the telescope transformed mountains into theatrical spaces where tourists thrilled to the sight of struggling climbers almost inevitably these distant performances were eventually reenacted at exhibitions and on the London stage Colley's examination of the Alpine Club archives periodicals and other primary resources offers a more complicated and inclusive picture of female mountaineering as she documents the strong presence of women on successful expeditions in the latter half of the century In Part Two Colley turns to John Ruskin Gerard Manley Hopkins and Robert Louis Stevenson whose writings about the Alps reflect their feelings about their Romantic heritage and shed light on their ideas about perception metaphor and literary style Colley concludes by offering insights into the ways in which expeditions to the Himalayas affected people's sense of the sublime arguing that these individuals were motivated as much by the glory of Empire as by aesthetic sensibility Her ambitious book is an astute exploration of nationalism as well as theories of gender spectacle and the technicalities of glacial movement that were intruding on what before had seemed inviolable      The Cambridge History of English Poetry Michael O'Neill,2010-04-29 A literary historical account of English poetry from Anglo Saxon writings to the present      Spontaneity and Form in Modern Prose Vidyan Ravinthiran,2022-12-01 This study analyzes post Romantic prose whose authors in terms of race gender class nationality and more occupy a range of subject positions Unlike poetry modern literary prose has no rhetorical repertoire or structure beyond those of grammar that one could tabulate As a result it becomes a zone of experimentation and spontaneous creativity as well as a means to investigate the concept of spontaneity understood as post secular Heeding separate histories and peculiar particularities this volume reveals writers discovering their ideas as they go in prose whose sound rhythm syntax and imagery escapes the preordained There are chapters on William Hazlitt Ralph Waldo Emerson and Walt Whitman and Hindu philosophy Gerard Manley Hopkins Herman Melville D H Lawrence and Saul Bellow Virginia Woolf and Marion Milner Gwendolyn Brooks Adil Jussawalla and Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie These writers are intelligently vexed by two transitions first the movement from impulse into form and second the overlap between literary forms and social forms They explore the yearning for renovated societies which expressive of our deepest selves would also enable those selves in times of panicked fragmentation moral relativism and communication imperiled to interact as citizens

Burchfield, 2009-05-11 Burchfield charts the enormous impact made by Lord Kelvin s application of thermodynamic laws to the question of the earth s age and the heated debate his ideas sparked among British Victorian physicists astronomers geologists and biologists Anyone interested in geologic time and that should include all geologists and a fair smattering of biologists physicists and chemists should make Burchfield s commendable and time tested volume part of their personal library Brent Darymple Quartely Review of Biology

The Library Chronicle of the University of Texas at Austin ,1989 Nineteenth-century Literature ,1988 Contains articles which focus on a broad spectrum of significant figures in fiction philosophy and criticism such as Austen Carlyle Dickens Thackeray the Brontes Tennyson Browning Arnold Emerson Hawthorne Thoreau Whitman Twain and Henry James Elegy for an Age John D. Rosenberg, 2005-02-15 This rich and elegant work describes how the unsettled cultural climate provided fertile soil for the flourishing of elegy John Rosenberg shows how the phenomenon of elegy pervaded the writing of the period tracing it through the voices of individuals from Carlyle Tennyson Darwin and Ruskin to Swinburne Pater Dickens and Hopkins Finally he turns from particular elegists to a common experience that touched them all the displacement of the older idea of the earthly city as a New Jerusalem by the rise of a new image of the Victorian city as an industrial Inferno a wasteland of sprawling towns and of rivers so polluted they caught on fire Darwin's Bards John Holmes, 2013-10-16 A comprehensive study of Darwin s legacy for religion ecology and the arts Includes over 50 complete poems and long extracts with an interpretative framework and close readings Poets examined include Tennyson Browning Hardy Frost Ted Hughes Pattia

Research Guide to Biography and Criticism: 1990 update ,1985 Evolution: Genesis and Revelations C. Leon Harris, 1981-01-01 In this comprehensive history of evolutionism C Leon Harris has combined primary source readings with clear pertinent background information to provide a solid basic understanding of the ways scientists have arrived at today s views of evolution Harris describes the major contributors to the theory of evolutionism placing each in the context of the general cultural influences to which he was exposed Each chapter also contains an explanation of the philosophical basis of the scientific approach of the period in question A lengthy bibliography provides direction for further reading on this important and timely subject      America's Darwin Tina Gianquitto, Lydia Fisher, 2014 An engaging collection of interdisciplinary essays on the distinctive qualities of America's textual engagement with Darwinian evolutionary theory especially in regard to On the Origin of Species which highlights the influence of prevalent cultural anxieties on interpretation      The Development of Darwin's Theory Dov Ospovat, 1995-04-28 In this highly acclaimed book Ospovat shows that Darwin's views changed radically from his first formulation of evolution to the publication of the full theory in 1859      Notework Simon Reader, 2021-06-22 Notework begins with a striking insight the writer's notebook is a genre in itself Simon Reader pursues this argument in original readings of unpublished writing by prominent Victorians offering an expansive approach to literary formalism for the twenty first century Neither drafts nor diaries the notes of Charles Darwin Oscar Wilde Gerard Manley Hopkins Vernon Lee and George Gissing record ephemeral and nonlinear experiences revealing each author's desire to leave their fragments scattered and unused Presenting notes in terms of genre allows Reader to suggest inventive new accounts of key Victorian texts including The Picture of Dorian Gray On the Origin of Species and Hopkins's devotional lyrics and to reinterpret these works as meditations on the ethics of compiling and using data In this way Notework recasts information collection as a personal and expressive activity that comes into focus against large scale systems of knowledge organization Finding resonance between today's digital culture and its nineteenth century precursors Reader honors our most disposable improvised and fleeting written gestures      Darwin's First Theory Rob Wesson, 2017-04-11 Everybody knows or thinks they know Charles Darwin the father of evolution and the man who altered the way we view our place in the world But what most people do not know is that Darwin was on board the HMS Beagle as a geologist on a mission to examine the land not flora and fauna Tracing Darwin's footsteps in South America and beyond geologist Rob Wesson sets out on a trek across the Andes repeating the nautical surveys made by the Beagle's crew hunting for fossils in Uruguay and Argentina and explores traces of long vanished glaciers in Scotland and Wales By following Darwin's path literally and intellectually Rob experiences the landscape that absorbed Darwin followed his reasoning about what he saw and immerses himself in the same questions about the earth Upon Darwin's return from the five year journey he conceived his theory of tectonics his first theory These concepts and attitudes the vastness of time the enormous cumulative impact of almost imperceptibly slow change change as a constant feature of the environment underlie his subsequent discoveries in evolution And this peculiar way of thinking remains vitally important today as we enter the Anthropocene      Applied History and Contemporary Policymaking Robert Crowcroft, 2022-10-06 Robert Crowcroft has assembled a world class international cast of outstanding scholars and international figures to produce a stimulating collection of essays on applied history and policy making With contributors such as Philip Bobbitt Margaret MacMillan and Jeremy Black this collection of essays addresses some of the most important geopolitical challenges confronting the world today From reconstructing collapsed political regimes to security competition in the China Seas and the evolution of Salafi Jihadi ideology it explores a range of statecraft policy and strategy The essays span a number of policy areas and historical problems tackling important questions about what historians do and should do and considering the nature and limits of historical judgement With some examining how applied history can be used to rethink contemporary challenges others explore how it has been used and abused in the past Making a splash in intellectual debate by making a definitive case for Applied History this book demonstrates that a knowledge of the past and the insight it provides is imperative to effective statecraft

Body Parts Christopher E. Forth,Ivan Crozier,2005-01-01 In many forms of discourse specific parts of the human anatomy may signify or act as a substitute for the whole body person the presence of a large gut may render a man effeminate or represent someone who has lost control of his appetites visible muscles indicate strength of body but also constitution or will a hard penis indicates a male body in a state of perfection In this volume scholars from a variety of historical and cultural studies disciplines examine scientific medical popular and literary texts paying special attention to the different strategies employed in order to establish authority over the body through the management of a single part By considering body parts that are usually ignored by scholars the skin blood the pelvis the hair the essays in this volume render the idea of a single coherent body untenable by demonstrating that the body is not a transhistorical entity but rather deeply fragmented and fundamentally situated in a number of different contexts
