Breadmaking Stanley P. Cauvain, 2020-11-26 Bread Making Improving Quality quickly established itself as an essential purchase for baking professionals and researchers in this area Fully revised and updated and with new chapters on Flour Lipids and the dietary and nutritional quality of bread this new edition provides readers with the information they need on the latest developments in bread making science and practice The book opens with two introductory chapters providing an overview of the breadmaking process Part one focuses on the impacts of wheat and flour quality on bread covering topics such as wheat chemistry wheat starch structure grain quality assessment milling and wheat breeding Part two covers dough development and bread ingredients with chapters on dough aeration and rheology the use of redox agents and enzymes in breadmaking and water control among other topics In part three the focus shifts to bread sensory quality shelf life and safety Topics covered include bread aroma staling and contamination Finally part four looks at particular bread products such as high fiber breads those made from partially baked and frozen dough and those made from non wheat flours With its distinguished editor and international team of contributors Bread Making Improving Quality Third Edition continues to serve as the standard reference for researchers and professionals in the bread industry and all those involved in academic research on breadmaking science and practice Discusses dough development and bread ingredients with new chapters on flour lipids and improving the nutrition and dietary quality of breads Comprehensively updated and revised coverage outlines the latest developments in breadmaking science and practice Covers topics such as wheat chemistry wheat starch structure grain quality assessment milling and wheat breeding Technology of Breadmaking Stanley P Cauvain,1995 Not another book on breadmaking A forgivable reaction given the length of time over which bread has been made and the number of texts which have been written about the subject To study breadmaking is to realize that like many other food processes it is constantly changing as processing methodologies become increasingly more sophisticated yet at the same time we realize that we are dealing with a food stuff the forms of which are very traditional We can for example look at ancient illustrations of breads in manuscripts and paintings and recognize products which we still make today This contrast of ancient and modern embodied in a single processed foodstuff is part of what makes bread such a unique subject for study We cannot for example say the same for a can of baked beans Another aspect of the uniqueness of breadmaking lies in the requirement for a thorough understanding of the link between raw materials and processing methods in order to make an edible product This is mainly true because of the special properties of wheat proteins aspects of which are explored in most of the chapters of this book Wheat is a product of the natural environment and while breeding and farming practices can modify aspects of wheat quality we millers and bakers still have to respond to the strong influences of the environment Isoflavones Victor R. Preedy,2013 An extensive and detailed book that provides a snapshot of this fascinating scientific subject The Taste of Bread Raymond Calvel,Ronald L. Wirtz,2013-11-09 At last Raymond Calvel's Le Gout du Pain is available in English translated by Ronald Wirtz Mr Calvel is known throughout the world for his research on the production of quality French and European hearth breads The Taste of Bread is a thorough guide to the elements and principles behind the production of good tasting bread including a broad variety of bread products as flavored breads breadsticks croissants brioches and other regional baked goods Each important aspect of the process is covered wheat and milling characteristics of breadmaking flour dough composition oxidation in the mixing process leavening and fermentation effects of dough division and formation baking and equipment storage The English edition provides notes and information specifically on the use of North American flours and includes recipes in both metric and US units Enhanced with new black and white and color photography The Taste of Bread will be a key resource for bakers and other culinary professionals and students who must understand the complex elements that yield quality breads Technology of Breadmaking Stanley Cauvain,2015-02-17 This practical comprehensive guide illuminates all aspects of breadmaking to give bakers scientists technologists and students a thorough understanding of the many new developments shaping the industry This book bridges the gap between scientific and practical accounts by providing technical coverage of the complex processes that link together to make bread and fermented products Chapters cover the nature of bread products the role of the ingredients in determining their quality processing methods and their control and equipment functions Emphasis is on exploring the contributions of individual components and processing stages to final bread quality reviewing the current state of technical knowledge on breadmaking This third edition reviews the new knowledge which has become available in the last 10 years and considers how the global trends of increased availability and wider range of fermented products around the world impact on current and future technological challenges for bakers Stanley P Cauvain is the Director and Vice President of Research and Development activities at BakeTran and Professor at the International Institute of Agri Food Security Curtin University Perth Western Australia

The Journal of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry,1916 Handbook of Breadmaking Technology C. A. Stear,2012-12-06 The author s aim in writing this book is to integrate currently available knowledge concerning the basic scientific and technological aspects of breadmaking processes with the diverse breadmaking methods used to manufacture bread in Europe and on the North American continent today To date the main technological advances have been in process mechanization starting with oven development then dough processing or make up equipment followed by continuous and batch mixing techniques from the 1950s to the present time On the engineering side universal emphasis is now being placed on the application of high technology in the form of microprocessors computer controlled equipment and robotization the long term objective being computer integrated manufacture CIM with full automation within the large chain bakery groups in the capitalist countries and the state run collectives of Eastern Europe The application of these key technologies with biotechnology as yet only applied to a limited degree in food manufacture coupled with advances in biochemical and rheological understanding of dough as a biomass for breadmaking should provide us with more expertise and ability to control the processes with greater efficiency The application of fermentable substrates and industrial enzymes under strict kinetic control should contribute to improving the flavour characteristics of bread Current trends towards improving the nutritional contribution of bread to the daily diet are improving the competitive edge of bread as a basic food in the market place
