Haring developed an alternative approach to both the marketing and the social efficacy of art he controlled the sales and distribution of his merchandise while also promulgating his belief in accessibility and community activism. He proved that mass produced objects can be used strategically to form a community and create social change. Furthermore looking beyond the 1980s into the 1990s and 2000s Haring and his shop prefigured artists emerging self aware involvement with the mass media and the art world's growing dependence on marketing and commercialism. The book will be of interest to scholars or students studying art history consumer culture cultural studies media studies or market studies as well as anyone with a curiosity about Haring and his work the 1980s art scene in New York the East Village street art art activism and art merchandising.
