Mathematical Methods for Signal and Image Analysis and Representation Luc Florack, Remco Duits, Geurt Jongbloed, Marie Colette van Lieshout, Laurie Davies, 2012-01-13 Mathematical Methods for Signal and Image Analysis and Representation presents the mathematical methodology for generic image analysis tasks In the context of this book an image may be any m dimensional empirical signal living on an n dimensional smooth manifold typically but not necessarily a subset of spacetime The existing literature on image methodology is rather scattered and often limited to either a deterministic or a statistical point of view In contrast this book brings together these seemingly different points of view in order to stress their conceptual relations and formal analogies Furthermore it does not focus on specific applications although some are detailed for the sake of illustration but on the methodological frameworks on which such applications are built making it an ideal companion for those seeking a rigorous methodological basis for specific algorithms as well as for those interested in the fundamental methodology per se Covering many topics at the forefront of current research including anisotropic diffusion filtering of tensor fields this book will be of particular interest to graduate and postgraduate students and researchers in the fields of computer vision medical imaging and visual perception

The response to the call for papers for ICIAR 2005 was encouraging. From 295 full papers submitted, 153 were finally accepted, 80 oral presentations and 73 posters. The review process was carried out by the Program Committee members and other reviewers, all are experts in various image analysis and recognition areas. Each paper was reviewed by at least two reviewers and also checked by the conference co-chairs. The high quality of the papers in these proceedings is attributed first to the authors and second to the quality of the reviews provided by the experts. We would like to thank the authors for responding to our call and we wholeheartedly thank the reviewers for their excellent work and for their timely response. It is this collective effort that resulted in the strong conference program and high quality proceedings in your hands.
