Falling In And Out:

Falling Out Kenyon Aubin Oster, 2012-03 Saving a friend's life leaves Kenyon Oster feeling like the poster child for mental illness. When he emerges from a coma to face the same friend's unwarranted lawsuit, the remaining pieces of his world shatter. He doesn't know how to forgive his friend, but he doesn't know how to live in a world without goodness. Struggling to reassemble a sense of self, his battle for wholeness takes him on a ride plagued with crazed anxiety, PTSD, and agoraphobia until he ends up homeless in New York City. When he takes a job for Graydon Carter's Vanity Fair magazine, Kenyon is able to open his heart to forgiveness. His battle to become present with himself exaggerates the pure evil he's faced with. You'll laugh and you'll cry, but mostly you'll be encouraged by his strength and conviction. After all, a broken heart is a force to be reckoned with.

Why Men Fall Out of Love Michael French, 2007-03-27 The groundbreaking book that breaks the silence of the male code. Why do men fall out of love? It's rarely a simple issue of attraction, sex, or money trouble. In this provocative, no-holds-barred guide, Michael French brings unparalleled insight into the male psyche and reveals why so many men feel trapped, unhappy, or unfulfilled, and what women can do about it. Based on interviews with men from all ages and walks of life, this grippingly honest book illustrates why, when it comes to relationships, so many men feel outgunned and outmatched by women. Six key reasons why men fall out of love: from issues of identity, power, and fear to stereotypes about who they really are and what they want. The truth about men and miscommunication and ways for them to open up. Three questions a woman needs to ask a man before she becomes emotionally involved. The Relationship Audit: how couples can figure out what is driving them apart and find ways to mend their relationship. The Fall Out of Redemption Joseph Acquisto,2016-10-20 Joseph Acquisto examines literary writers and critical theorists who employ theological frameworks but who divorce those frameworks from questions of belief and thereby remove the doctrine of salvation from their considerations Acquisto claims that Baudelaire inaugurates a new kind of amodern modernity by canceling the notion of salvation in his writing while also refusing to embrace any of its secular equivalents such as historical progress or redemption through art Through a series of interhistorical readings that put Baudelaire into dialogue with literary and critical writers from the last 150 years Acquisto highlights the way both literary and critical approaches attempt to articulate a thir option between theism and atheism that also steers clear of political utopianism and Nietzschean estheticism In the concluding section Acquisto expands metaphysical and esthetic concerns to account also for the ethics inherent in the refusal of the logic of salvation an ethics which emerges from rather seeking to redeem or cancel a certain kind of nihilism from back cover
