Berardo, 1973

Sociological theory and research findings are applied to a comprehensive analysis of American family behavior patterns

Structure, Interaction and Social Theory (RLE Social Theory) Derek Layder, 2014-08-21 A central problem in contemporary social theory is that of providing an account of social interaction that does justice both to the self monitoring capacities of the individuals involved and to the society that frames the interaction This book attempts to resolve this problem arguing for an objectivist or structuralist account which does not undervalue the importance of the indexical and negotiated aspects of interaction and which takes seriously the Marxist rationalist critique of empiricism and humanism and the associated idea that society should be treated as a supra individual preconstituted and constraining object of scientific analysis First Dr Layder pinpoints certain of the strengths and weaknesses of various schools of thought social psychology scrutinized in both its sociological and psychological forms sociology the Marxist rationalist approach Whilst rejecting the mechanistic or naively deterministic theories which are often associated with an objectivist stance he argues that the productive activities of situated actors must be understood as existing in an articulated relationship with and within sets of preconstituted contextual constraints This thesis is illustrated conceptually by the development of a framework which distinguishes two types and levels of social structure with different modes of production and reproduction and empirically by an analysis of aspects of interaction in the occupation of acting      Violence and Sexual Abuse at Home Susan

Sorenson, Paula Lundberg Love, 2014-01-09 Violence and abuse that occur behind closed doors are not just personal concerns or issues Family violence is a major mental health social service health care and criminal justice problem that society cannot continue to ignore Violence and Sexual Abuse at Home gives you the facts of spouse partner and child maltreatment an analysis of the intervention and prevention techniques commonly used and alternative approaches and theories for understanding and reducing instances of family abuse The factors behind maltreatment are multiple and diverse Because there are so many approaches to treating perpetrators and victims choosing a treatment strategy can sometimes feel overwhelming Use Violence and Sexual Abuse at Home to help you decide which treatment models will be most effective in particular situations Don't risk low success rates with your patients This comprehensive guidebook can help you refine your treatment strategies as you better your understanding of mutual combat the ethical issues and legal mandates involved in reporting family maltreatment biological issues and aggression the causes of the physical maltreatment of children maltreatment of children with disabilities the debate surrounding parent alienation syndrome difficulties in diagnosing incest offenders the impact of child sexual maltreatment on the survivor's sexuality and sexual functioning the repression

dissociation and delayed recall of traumatic events

Violence and Sexual Abuse at Home shows clinicians researchers advocates and other professionals the importance of broadening their perspectives of all types of family maltreatment Anyone working with people who abuse and or with adults and children who are or have been abused should understand the developmental social psychological cultural and biological issues at play in violent home environments

Almasri, 2010-08-30 It is important for professionals who provide medical rehabilitation educational and community services for children and youth with cerebral palsy to provide a quality medical home family centered and needs based services to address their needs and improve child and family well being Knowledge regarding determinants and unique profiles of needs for families of children and youth with cerebral palsy is limited The aims of this research were to 1 test structural equation models of determinants of three types of family needs of parents of children and youth with cerebral palsy 2 identify and describe unique profiles of family needs and 3 examine whether profiles of needs are differentiated based on child family and service characteristics Participants were 579 parents of children and youth with cerebral palsy Children youth and their parents completed a modified version of the Family Needs Survey Family Environment Scale Coping Inventory Children s Assessment of Participation and Enjoyment Measure of Processes of Care and Services questionnaire Research assistants determined the Gross Motor Function Classification System levels of the children The structural models explained 23% of variance in needs related to child condition 43% of variance in needs related to community and financial resources and 33% of variance in needs related to family functioning The determinants of the three models included different combinations of services accessibility coordination processes family relationships income and child gross motor function adaptive behavior communication problems characteristics K means cluster analysis indicated four unique profiles of needs Low Needs Needs Related to Child Health Condition Needs Related to Community and Financial Resources and High Needs Profile membership was differentiated based on child gross motor function and adaptive behavior family relationships and income and access to and coordination of services Families who were included in the profile of low needs commonly reported accessible coordinated and family centered care The results emphasize the importance of providing medical and family centered services to address the unique needs of families of children and youth with cerebral palsy Service providers are encouraged to engage families in expressing their needs collaborate with families in identifying resources to meet needs and guide families in navigating complex service systems to address needs

Handbook of Marriage and the Family Suzanne K. Steinmetz, Marvin B. Sussman, 2013-11-11 The lucid straightforward Preface of this Handbook by the two editors and the comprehensive perspectives offered in the Introduction by one of them leave little for a Foreword to add It is therefore limited to two relevant but not intrinsically related points vis a vis research on marriage and the family in the interval since the first Handbook Christensen 1964 appeared namely the impact on this research of the politicization of the New Right and of the Feminist Enlightenment beginning in the mid sixties about the time of the first Handbook In the late 1930s Willard Waller noted Fifty years or more ago about 1890 most people had the greatest respect for the institution called the family and wished to learn nothing whatever about it Everything that concerned the life of men and women and their children was shrouded from the light Today much of that has been changed Gone is the concealment of the way in which life begins gone the irrational sanctity of the home The aura of sentiment which once protected the family from discussion clings to it no more We want to learn as much about it as we can and to understand it as thoroughly as possible for there is a rising recognition in America that vast numbers of its families are sick from internal frustrations and from external buffeting We are engaged in the process of reconstructing our family institutions through criticism and discussion 1938 pp 3 4
