innovative analysis introduces US readers to a wide swath of Chilean musicians and their powerful protest songs and provides a representative and long view of the negative influences of the United States in Latin America. Much of the criticism of the United States in Chile's music centers on the perception of the United States as a heavy handed source of capitalist imperialism that is exploitative of and threatening to Chile's poor and working class public and to Chilean cultural independence and integrity. Rojas incorporates Antonio Gramsci's theories about the difficulties of struggles for cultural power within elitist capitalist systems to explore anti Americanism and anti capitalist music. Ultimately Rojas shows how the music from various genres, time periods and political systems attempts to act as a counterhegemonic alternative to Chile's political, cultural and economic status quo. Rojas's insight is timely with recent political trends toward the right in the Americas. There is also increased interest in and acceptance of popular song lyrics as literary texts. The book will appeal to Latin Americanists, ethnomusicologists, scholars of popular culture and international relations, students and general readers.

Latin America's Potential in Nation Branding: A closer look at Brazil's, Chile's and Colombia's practices Eva Niesing, 2013-09-27. In the globalized world of today, a well elaborated long term oriented nation branding strategy can help nations to improve and to better control of their nation image. Nation branding activities increase the countries' competitiveness in the global marketplace and help to foster the tourism arrivals, inward foreign direct investment flows and exports and further they help to attract talented workforce and students. Despite its growing importance, most Latin American countries still have not engaged enough in the area of nation branding and mostly only focus their activities on the tourism promotion. The region's countries have a good image regarding soft factors such as their people and tourism attractions but have a weak image regarding their products and investment opportunities. Brazil has a relatively good nation image in many dimensions but still has not developed an extensive nation branding strategy. Chile and Colombia are among the Latin American countries which have started to conduct more complete nation branding activities. Although such advances can be observed, there is still a lot
