Local Economies In Transition:

Local Economies in Transition Edward M. Bergman, 1986      The Bioregional Economy Molly Scott Cato, 2012-11-27 In a world of climate change and declining oil supplies what is the plan for the provisioning of resources Green economists suggest a need to replace the globalised economy and its extended supply chains with a more local economy But what does this mean in more concrete terms How large is a local economy how self reliant can it be and what resources will still need to be imported The concept of the bioregion developed and popularised within the disciplines of earth sciences biosciences and planning may facilitate the reconceptualisation of the global economy as a system of largely self sufficient local economies A bioregional approach to economics assumes a different system of values to that which dominates neoclassical economics The global economy is driven by growth and the consumption ethic that matches this is one of expansion in range and quantity Goods are defined as scarce and access to them is a process based on competition The bioregional approach challenges every aspect of that value system It seeks a new ethic of consumption that prioritises locality accountability and conviviality in the place of expansion and profit it proposes a shift in the focus of the economy away from profits and towards provisioning and it assumes a radical reorientation of work from employment towards livelihood This book by leading green economist Molly Scott Cato sets out a visionary and yet rigorous account of what a bioregional approach to the economy would mean and how to get there from here      A Just Energy Transition Ed Atkins, 2023-07-28 To reduce emissions and address climate change we need to invest in renewables and rapidly decarbonise our energy networks However decarbonisation is often seen as a technical project detached from questions of politics and social justice What if this is leading to unfair transitions in which some people bear the costs of change while others benefit In this timely and expansive book Ed Atkins asks are we getting decarbonisation right And how could it be made better for people and communities In doing so this book proposes a different type of energy transition One that prioritises and takes opportunities to do better to provide better jobs community ownership and improve people s homes and lives      The Palgrave Handbook of Managing Fossil Fuels and Energy Transitions Geoffrey Wood, Keith Baker, 2019-11-12 This Handbook is the first volume to comprehensively analyse and problem solve how to manage the decline of fossil fuels as the world tackles climate change and shifts towards a low carbon energy transition The overall findings are straight forward and unsurprising although fossil fuels have powered the industrialisation of many nations and improved the lives of hundreds of millions of people another century dominated by fossil fuels would be disastrous Fossil fuels and associated greenhouse gas emissions must be reduced to a level that avoids rising temperatures and rising risks in support of a just and sustainable energy transition Divided into four sections and 25 contributions from global leading experts the chapters span a wide range of energy technologies and sources including fossil fuels carbon mitigation options renewables low carbon energy energy storage electric vehicles and energy sectors electricity heat and transport They cover varied legal jurisdictions and multiple governance approaches encompassing multi and inter disciplinary technological environmental social economic political legal and policy perspectives with timely case studies from Africa Asia Australia Europe North America South America and the Pacific Providing an insightful contribution to the literature and a much needed synthesis of the field as a whole this book will have great appeal to decision makers practitioners students and scholars in the field of energy transition studies seeking a comprehensive understanding of the opportunities and challenges in managing the decline of fossil fuels

Building a Healthy Economy from the Bottom Up Anthony Flaccavento,2016-06-10 Introduction Economic transitions in surprising places What s wrong with what we ve got Rising tides trickle down and other economic myths Renewing households and communities from consumptive dependence to productive resilience Unleashing local living economies from trickle down problems to bottom up solutions Building broadly based and durable prosperity from concentrated wealth and widespread insecurity to worker ownership and community capital Taking sustainability to scale from a thousand flickers of light to networks of learning doing and change Rebuilding a meaningful public debate from debilitating corporate media to energizing civic conversations Transforming politics from the bottom up unleashing a community based politics of engagement to overcome the lobbyists and moneyed elites Conclusion Creating a new story from the bottom up

The Green New Deal and the Future of Work Craig Calhoun,Benjamin Y. Fong,2022-08-30 Catastrophic climate change overshadows the present and the future Wrenching economic transformations have devastated workers and hollowed out communities However those fighting for jobs and those fighting for the planet have often been at odds Does the world face two separate crises environmental and economic The promise of the Green New Deal is to tackle the threat of climate change through the empowerment of working people and the strengthening of democracy In this view the crisis of nature and the crisis of work must be addressed together or they will not be addressed at all This book brings together leading experts to explore the possibilities of the Green New Deal emphasizing the future of work Together they examine transformations that are already underway and put forth bold new proposals that can provide jobs while reducing carbon consumption building a world that is sustainable both economically and ecologically Contributors also debate urgent questions What is the value of a federal jobs program or even a jobs guarantee How do we alleviate the miseries and precarity of work In key economic sectors including energy transportation housing agriculture and care work what kind of work is needed today How does the New Deal provide guidance in addressing these questions and how can a Green New Deal revive democracy Above all this book shows the Green New Deal offers hope for a better tomorrow but only if it accounts for work s past transformations and shapes its future

Community Resilience and Environmental

Dislocation: Awkward Spatial

Transitions Philip Cooke,2021-05-17 Today the world is in the most serious turmoil it has experienced for many centuries These multiple crises arise from the fundamental mistreatment by capitalist competition of the carrying capacity of the planet Even before coronavirus evidently morbid symptoms of over development led many spatial planners to write of the threat of a new Dark Age Many advocated a return to policy decentralisation as the Covid 19 crisis demonstrated once again the failure of global controller mindsets to manage complex systems successfully Dislocation Awkward Spatial Transitions is a critical exploration of where spatial development processes and rules have gone wrong across many economies The chapters lay out which mindsets have been responsible for this and gives pointers to new practices that aim to ameliorate the effects of past failings In the first nine chapters a mapping of key elements of the prevailing omni crisis are summarised These range from an exegesis of the Anthropocene the rise of populism the transition to neoliberalist anti planning and migration as planning issues with pleas for evolutionary change in spatial policy and process dynamics Finally a group of chapters explores the flailing as territorial governances tried to plot the rise of creative cities 4 0 era industry and services and in the built form the role of starchitects in city renewal In the last part attention is devoted to territorial innovation knowledge recombination sustainable mobility and finally green entrepreneurship as necessary elements of a post coronavirus climate change mitigation and sustainable mobility set of survival strategies The chapters in this book were originally published in the journal European Planning Studies

Agrifood System Transitions in Brazil

Paulo André Niederle,Valdemar João Wesz Junior,2020-10-29 This book explores the agrifood system transitions in Brazil to provide a new understanding of the trajectory of agriculture and rural development in this country It accentuates the increasing diversification and hybridization of food production and consumption practices throughout history With a framework that combines convention theory neoinstitutional approaches and practice theory this book suggests the concept of food orders which represents different arrangements of practices institutions and sociotechnical artifacts By exploring the interrelations between these elements the book looks at six different food orders industrial commercial domestic aesthetic civic and financial in tandem with examples of practices sectors and territories to understand the dynamics of each one This aids in understanding the main tendencies of the agrifood sector in such a vast country that being a major player in global food markets also affect production and consumption dynamics in several other countries Besides this book also seeks to comprehend the current institutional changes in Brazil that may be critical to interpret the global dissemination of populist and autocratic governments Offering key insights into the contemporary sociology of agriculture and food this book demonstrates how strengthening democracy and supporting the organization of civil society are major challenges when we think about transition for sustainable food systems

OECD Regional Development Studies Regions in Industrial Transition Policies for People and Places OECD,2019-11-14 This report offers guidance on how to manage industrial transition and is directed towards all policymakers seeking to improve the what and how of policies that promote industrial change It identifies how regions in industrial transition can become more competitive and more resilient in the context of major shifts brought about by globalisation decarbonisation and ongoing technological change

Urban Sustainability Transitions

Trivess Moore,Fjalar de Haan,Ralph Horne,Brendan James Gleeson,2017-10-27 This book contributes to current debates regarding purposive transitions to sustainable cities providing an accessible but critical exploration of sustainability transitions in urban settings We have now entered the urban century which is not without its own challenges as discussed in the preceding book of this series Urbanization is accompanied by a myriad of complex and overlapping environmental social and governance challenges which increasingly call into question conventional market based responses and simple top down government interventions Faced with these challenges urban practitioners and scholars alike are interested in promoting purposive transitions to sustainable cities The chapters in this volume contribute to the growing body of literature on city scale transformative change which seeks to address a lack of consideration for spatial and urban governance dimensions in sustainability transitions studies and expand on the basis established in the preceding book Drawing on a range of perspectives and written by leading Australian and international urban researchers the chapters explore contemporary cases from Australia and locate them within the international context Australia is on the one hand representative of many OECD countries while on the other possessing a number of unique attributes that may serve to highlight issues and potentials internationally Australia is a highly urbanized country and because of the federal political structure and the large distances the five largest state capital cities have a relatively high degree of autonomy in governance even dominating the rest of their respective states and rural hinterlands to a certain extent This context suggests that Australian cases can provide interesting test tube perspectives on processes relevant to urban sustainability transitions worldwide This volume presents an extensive overview of theories concepts approaches and practical examples informed by sustainability transitions thinking offering a unique resource for all urban practitioners and scholars who want to understand and transition to sustainable urban futures

California. Court of Appeal (4th Appellate District). Division 2. Records and Briefs California (State)., A Global Look to the Local Colin Hines,2004 Proceedings RMRS. ,2000 European Financial Markets Tony Southall,2008-10-08 EU membership involves political and economic reforms which influence financial markets in the new member states This study empirically explores and quantifies the effects of EU accession on the risk and return of equity markets in eight Central and Eastern European markets joining the EU in 2004 The study also incorporates a review of how the influence of macroeconomic variables and the level of integration with global and European markets change as a result of EU membership Based on empirical tests using weekly data over ten years this study concludes that EU membership results in a significant decline in equity market volatility and a significant increase in risk adjusted but not absolute equity returns Furthermore the study suggests that equity markets in new EU member states become increasingly influenced by global rather than local macroeconomic factors after the EU accession and that the level of integration with global markets increases AI and Digital Nomads Shaping Global Industrial Technology Transitions Ordóñez de Pablos, Patricia,Zhang, Xi,Anshari, Muhammad,Almunawar, Mohammad Nabil,2025-07-17 In the evolving landscape of global industry artificial intelligence AI and the rise of digital nomadism emerge as transformative forces drive significant technological transitions As businesses adopt AI to optimize operations innovate products and forecast market shifts the traditional practices of work and production are redefined The growth of remote work culture has removed employees from geographical constraints allowing highly skilled professionals to contribute to industrial innovation from anywhere Together AI and digital nomadism reshape how and where work is done while accelerating global shifts in industrial technology supply chains and workforce dynamics AI and Digital Nomads Shaping Global Industrial Technology Transitions explores the integration of intelligent technologies into global industries and organizations It examines the emergence of digital nomads labor mobility and new technology policies associated with the growing remote workforce This book covers topics such as e commerce global business and labor markets and is a useful resource for business owners computer engineers academicians researchers and data scientists

Job Creation and Local Economic Development 2020 Rebuilding Better OECD,2020-11-23 The impact of COVID 19 on local jobs and workers dwarfs those of the 2008 global financial crisis The 2020 edition of Job Creation and Local Economic Development considers the short term impacts on local labour markets as well as the longer term implications for local development A Future for Planning Michael Harris,2019-04-25 As well as being spatial planning is necessarily also about the future and yet time has been relatively neglected in the academic practice and policy literature on planning

Time in particular the need for longer term thinking is critical to responding effectively to a range of pressing societal challenges from climate change to an ageing population poor urban health to sustainable economic development This makes the relative neglect of time not only a matter of theoretical importance but also increasing practical and political significance A Future for Planning is an accessible wide ranging book that considers how planning practice and policy have been constrained by short termism as well as by a familiar lack of spatial thinking in policy in response to major social economic and environmental challenges It suggests that failures in planning often represent failures to anticipate and shape the future which go well beyond planning systems and practices rather our failure to plan for the longer term relates to wider issues in policy making and governance This book traces the rise and fall of long term planning over the past 80 years or so but also sets out how planning can take responsibility for twenty first century challenges It provides examples of successes and failures of longer term planning from around the world In short the book argues that we need to put time back into planning and develop forms of planning which serve to promote the sustainability and wellbeing of future generations

Transitions to Adulthood Through Recession Sarah Irwin, Ann Nilsen, 2018-04-19 Long running trends towards increasing inequality between the rich and poor across Europe have been exacerbated by the 2008 global financial crisis and its aftermath As employment opportunities for young people diminish and as the welfare state is pulled back pathways to adulthood change and become more difficult to navigate Transitions to Adulthood Through Recession consists of a collection of papers by researchers from Britain Norway Germany Portugal Italy and Greece locating young people s transitions to adulthood in their national social economic and political contexts It explores young adulthood with reference to generational continuity and change and intergenerational support With a cross national comparative framework this volume highlights the importance of variations in structural contexts for young people s transitions Bringing together authors across sub disciplines such as the sociology of youth family and kinship class and inequality and life course studies Transitions to Adulthood Through Recession will appeal to academic social scientists as well as final year undergraduate and postgraduate students interested in fields such as political science sociology youth studies social policy anthropology and psychology and a wider public readership Chapter 1 of this book is available for free in PDF format as Open Access from the individual product page at www.routledge.com It has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license
