CD-ROMs in Print, 2002      Iran's Military Forces in Transition Anthony H. Cordesman, 1999-03-30 Iran today is still struggling with the legacy of its own Islamic revolution and is deeply divided between the moderates who enjoy broad public support and the conservatives who control the levers of power The mixed policies that result are reflected in Iran's ambivalent military posture In recent years Iran has only conducted a limited build up of its armed forces and has cut defense spending and arms imports On the other hand Iran has developed a carefully focused program that threatens shipping in the lower Gulf and the world's oil exports It has strengthened its capability for unconventional warfare and continues to be a significant proliferator setting up indigenous military industries and developing a greater ability to import weapons In this authoritative analysis of interest to Middle Eastern specialists and military affairs experts alike Anthony Cordesman concludes that the continuation of Iran's current defensive security posture depends as much on these economic factors as on the outcomes of domestic political rivalries Iran may eventually limit any military expansion to a necessary defensive strength and set strategic goals for itself that are compatible with the legitimate interests of other nations or it may choose a more aggressive course Regardless of the ultimate outcome argues Cordesman it does no good to either demonize or excuse Iranian policies Instead the United States and other nations with interests in the Middle East and Central Asia need to deal realistically with Iran as a reemerging regional power      Conversion of Former BTW Facilities Erhard Geissler,Lajos G. Gázsó,Ernst Buder,2012-12-06 The development production stockpiling and use in war of biological and toxin weapons are prohibited by international law Although not explicitly stated the two treaties outlawing such activities the Geneva Protocol of 1925 and the Biological and Toxin Weapons Convention of 1972 prohibit the continuation of activities previously performed in Biological and Toxin Weapons facilities not justified for prophylactic protective or other peaceful purposes Because conversion and other means of cessation of former BTW facilities are not explicitly addressed in the treaties mentioned above the problems involved in conversion of BTW facilities have thus far only been discussed marginally in the open literature In times of increased awareness of the danger of biological and toxin warfare including the increased danger of terrorist use of biological and toxin weapons it seemed necessary to us to invite experts from different parts of the world to discuss the pros and cons of conversion and the problems involved It also became obvious to us that the conversion of former BTW facilities should be discussed with respect to the necessity of peaceful international cooperation in areas related to the Biological and Toxin Weapons Convention An additional reason to discuss matters of peaceful cooperation is that cooperation is explicitly requested by Article X of the Biological and Toxin Weapons Convention      Running Guns Lora Lumpe,2000-07 This volume is about the guns that fuel the huge toll of deaths in the world s most bloody conflicts at the turn of the century Whether it is Africa Sri Lanka or even Chechnya and Afghanistan it is not heavy weaponry or hi tech devices that kill the most people but the flood of cheap easy to get small arms that has swept over so many countries in the 80s and 90s Crime rates involving guns within countries have also soared as South Africa and Kenya for example have experienced Yet a lot of this cross border arms trade is illegal So much so that several governments including the United States Canada and Mexico are now pressing for rapid negotiation of a new global treaty on illegal trafficking in small arms      Small Arms Survey 2006 Small Arms Survey,Graduate Institute of International Studies (Geneva, Switzerland),2006 This book offers new and updated information on small arms production stockpiles transfers and measures including a review of the International Tracing Instrument This year s thematic chapters examine issues such as the demand for weapons small arms and security sector reform and the economic cost of small arms use This edition also features case studies on small arms violence in Papua New Guinea and Colombia armed groups in West Africa and the Lord s Resistance Army in Northern Uganda      Vital Signs 1999-2000 Lester R. Brown,Michael Renner,2014-04-08 This annual volume shows key trends that should be integrated into the planning of our global future It enables readers to track key indicators that show social economic and environmental progress or the lack of it into 45 vital signs of our time Each trend is presented as an overview using both text and graphics

From Adversaries to Partners? Ming-Yen Tsai, 2003-10-30 When China and Russia established a strategic partnership in 1996 both nations declared that they would further develop military cooperation in various fields Tsai examines the course of this military cooperation to reveal the nature of the military ties with the hopes of determining whether these two traditional adversaries have put aside historical legacies and mutual mistrust to create a full fledged military partnership After analyzing the motives and concerns of both powers Tsai concludes that while progress has been made in reducing military tensions in border regions the level of trust has not increased substantially The nature of these ties remains extremely fragile Among Western analysts there has been concern that a closer partnership might adversely affect U S interests in the region China and Russia have developed cooperation in certain areas such as arms transfers and military technical cooperation and these achievements have successfully reduced political tension However reciprocal threats against each other s territories and China s increasing ambitions and capacity to act as a great military power in the region could eventually become a major source of friction Based on research in both Chinese and Russian this study offers a comprehensive analysis on the development of and limits to this military cooperation
