John Stuart Mill and the Art of Life Ben Eggleston, Dale Miller, David Weinstein, 2011 The Art of Life is John Stuart Mill's name for his account of practical reason In this volume eleven leading scholars elucidate this fundamental but widely neglected element of Mill's thought Mill divides the Art of Life into three departments Morality Prudence or Policy and aesthetics In the volume's first section Rex Martin David Weinstein Ben Eggleston and Dale E Miller investigate the relation between the departments of morality and prudence Their papers ask whether Mill is a rule utilitarian and if so whether his practical philosophy must be incoherent The second section contains papers by Jonathan Riley and Wendy Donner who explore the relation between the departments of morality and aesthetics They discuss issues ranging from supererogation to aesthetic pleasure and humanity's relationship with nature The papers in the third section consider the Art of Life's axiological first principle the principle of utility Elijah Millgram contends that Mill's own life refutes his claim that the Art of Life has a single axiological first principle Philip Kitcher maintains that Mill has a dynamic axiology requiring us to continually refine our conception of the good In the final section three papers address what it means to put the Art of Life into practice Robert Haraldsson locates an Art of Ethics in On Liberty that is in tension with the Art of Life Nadia Urbinati plumbs the classical roots of Mill's view of the good life Finally Colin Heydt develops Mill's suggestion that we regard our own lives as works of art

Beothuk Christopher Patrick Aylward,2024-09-03 The well known story of the Beothuk is that they were an isolated people who through conflict with Newfoundland settlers and Mi kmaq were made extinct in 1829 Narratives about the disappearance of the Beothuk and the reasons for their supposed extinction soon became entrenched in historical accounts and the popular imagination Beothuk explores how the history of a people has been misrepresented by the stories of outsiders writing to serve their own interests from Viking sagas to the accounts of European explorers to the work of early twentieth century anthropologists Drawing on narrative theory and the philosophy of history Christopher Aylward lays bare the limitations of the accepted Beothuk story which perpetuated but could never prove the notion of Beothuk extinction Only with the integration of Indigenous perspectives beginning in the 1920s was this accepted story seriously questioned With the accumulation of new sources and methods archaeological evidence previously unexplored British and French accounts Mi kmaq oral history and the testimonies of Labrador Innu and Beothuk descendants a new historical reality has emerged Rigorous and compelling Beothuk demonstrates the enduring power of stories to shape our understanding of the past and the impossibility of writing Indigenous history without Indigenous storytellers

Eliopoulos, John C. Ryan, 2022-12-16 Global Perspectives on Nationalism takes an interdisciplinary approach informed by recent theorisations of nationalism to examine perennial questions on the topic. The idea of nationalism centres on questions of ethnicity, culture, religion, language and access to resources. What determines consciousness of nationalism? How is nationalism manifested, shaped or countered through literary and cultural productions? The contributors highlight topical areas in studies of nationalism including ecology, natural resources, sustainability, globalisation, the Anthropocene, postcolonialism, indigeneity, folklore, popular culture and queer theory. They develop innovative perspectives on nationalism through in-depth analyses of the theoretical, political, literary, linguistic, cultural and ecological dimensions of nationalism in Argentina, Australia, Bangladesh, Bosnia and Herzegovina, China, Germany, Greece, India, Indonesia, Lebanon, Nepal, Nigeria, Poland, Scotland, Turkey, the United States and elsewhere. This volume underscores the importance of generative dialogue between disciplines in assessing the implications of nationalism for everyday life through five thematic sections: I Ethnicity, Ideology and Narration; II Religion, Identity and Heritage; III Linguistics, Tradition and Modernism; IV Music, Lyricism and Poetics; and V Ecology, Environment and Non-Human Lives. This book will be of particular value to students and researchers in philosophy, literary studies and political theory with interests spanning ecology, ethnicity, folklore, gender, heritage, identity, linguistics, nationalism, nationhood, religion and sexuality. Teaching for Moral Imagination Pamela Bolotin

Joseph, 2024-04-01 Teaching for Moral Imagination: An Interdisciplinary Exploration examines the multifaceted nature of morality and ethics, moral development and moral education so to provide educators with a clear yet complex understanding of theories, issues, practices and curricular content. This text is intended to be an accessible work of academic significance that inspires educators' deliberation about personal and societal values as well as approaches for fostering children's and adolescents' moral development, cultivating ethical classrooms and schools and creating transformative moral education curricula. Teaching for Moral Imagination will be a pertinent text for teacher preparation courses that specifically focus on the moral dimensions of education as well as more comprehensive classes about teaching, teachers and classroom culture. Such classes are offered in undergraduate and graduate teacher preparation programs, professional studies for experienced teachers, educational studies classes in the liberal arts and doctoral seminars for students becoming teacher educators and educational leaders. This book also is intended as a source for teachers' professional development in schools and for reading groups. Finally, in our contemporary societies emphasizing extreme individualism, competition, conformity and prejudice as well as unexamined beliefs leading to violence in words and actions, it is crucial to consider how schools can encourage ethical reasoning, compassion and transformative alternatives for moral education. ENDORSEMENTS Teaching for Moral Imagination is a remarkable book and a wonderful contribution to the field. It is a must-read for anyone trying to make sense of the multifaceted moral nature of schooling. Everyone who pursues a career in teaching is fundamentally drawn to the moral dimensions of their work, but there is little if any emphasis given to those fundamental moral features in teacher preparation programs and teacher professional development In this book Dr Joseph does the difficult work of both conceptualizing the moral domain and illustrating these dimensions in way that will uniquely help teachers and school leaders develop elegant moral language and fully understand their role as moral educators and moral agents It is an outstanding contribution from a scholar who brings the philosophy of morality and the psychology of moral development to bear on life in classrooms Rich Osguthorpe Brigham Young University In her book Teaching for Moral Imagination Pamela Joseph shows profoundly how moral values are embedded in education and in the pedagogical role of teachers Joseph brings together many different perspectives on moral education including philosophical and psychological foundations and develops her interesting own position with a focus on moral imagination She argues for widening ethical perspectives encouraging critical reflection on values stimulating new perspectives about how to be moral human beings and creating just and caring classroom and school communities Joseph s book can inspire teachers and researchers in their work on preparing young people for future society Wiel Veugelers University of Humanistic Studies This is an incredibly complex and wonderful book When you read Teaching for Moral Imagination what will become clear is what educators need to learn and do to transform the wider ethical environment all around us This is invaluable reading for all teachers school and district leaders and teacher educators who realise the significance of ethics in education and who seek to critically engage with the potential of human and social moral development Joseph offers a rich vision of interdisciplinary scholarship and on her horizon is nonviolence for all forms of life on the planet The book conceptualises how moral imagination generates powerful insights into individual social and cultural normative diversity and explores a range of transformative moral curricula to grow future generations capacities for tackling complex relations and global challenges Daniella J Forster University of Newcastle Australia

,1910 Life-Writing from the Margins in Zimbabwe Oliver Nyambi, 2019-05-20 This book explores the unique contributions of various forms of post 2000 life writings such as the autobiography epistles and biographies to discourses about the nature and socio politics of what has become known as the Zimbabwean crisis c 2000 2009 Much of what has been written about the Zimbabwean crisis a decade long period of unprecedented economic collapse and political upheavals in the southern African country is strictly discipline specific and therefore limited to unidimensional modes of theorising the crisis s many and complex dimensions and dynamics In this context this book charts a paradigm shift in hermeneutic and epistemological approaches to comprehending the Zimbabwean crisis Life Writing from the Margins in Zimbabwe centres the experiences and memories of ordinary Zimbabweans in pluralizing modes of seeing and knowing the crisis The book argues that these life writings present a rich site for encountering versions of the crisis that relate in counter discursive ways to the dominant state authored narrative of the nation in crisis Oliver Nyambi's analysis contributes new ideas to ongoing debates about how cultural texts reflect on the postcoloniality of both power and experiences and negotiations of power in the context of crisis This book will be of interest to scholars and students of African literature Zimbabwean African studies postcolonial literature life writing and cultural studies

Practical Environmental Ethics A. Pablo Iannone, 2017-07-12 This essential volume for professionals and academics proposes a new approach to environmental ethics and to environmental policymaking in particular All too frequently policy makers focus only on what ends should ideally be pursued ignoring whether the means have any negative unintended consequences Such approaches tend to have a focus on consequentialist deontological virtue cantered or care based theories which makes them too singularly minded They are not suitable for dealing with the complexities of life and especially environmental policy making Practical Environmental Ethics distinguishes between cases in which entire ecosystems are at risk threatening entire societies where collective consequences take precedence and cases in which whole ecosystems are not at risk where individual rights or duties take precedence In doing this Iannone discusses environmental controversies not only philosophically but in the complex contexts at work within policy making and decision making communities This allows for consideration of crucial concepts used in morality biology technology business economics politics and philosophy Relying on numerous actual environmental cases Iannone helps formulate realistic ways of logically and ethically determining how environmental controversies should be addressed Ultimately he proposes solutions that policy makers and anyone interested in this topic may utilize to clarify environmental issues and determine how to best deal with them for the greater good

Timmons defends an original metaethical view that exploits certain contextualist themes in philosophy of language and epistemology He advances a view that employs semantic contextualism when engaging in moral discourse Philosophical Essays in Honor of James Edwin Creighton George Holland Sabine,1917 Essays on the History of Moral Philosophy J. B. Schneewind,2010 J B Schneewind presents a selection of his published essays on ethics the history of ethics and moral psychology together with a new piece offering an intellectual autobiography The essays range across the 17th 18th and 19th centuries with a particular focus on Kant and his relation to earlier thinkers Lectures on the Philosophy of Kant and Other Philosophical Lectures & Essays Henry Sidgwick,1905 Pragmatism and Objectivity Sami Pihlström,2017-02-17 Pragmatism and Objectivity illuminates the nature of contemporary pragmatism against the background of Rescher s work resulting in a stronger grasp of the prospects and promises of this philosophical movement The central insight of pragmatism is that we must start from where we find ourselves and deflate metaphysical theories of truth in favor of an account that reflects our actual practices of the concept Pragmatism links truth and rationality to experience success and action While crude versions of pragmatism state that truth is whatever works for a person or a community Nicholas Rescher has been at the forefront of arguing for a more sophisticated pragmatist position According to his position we can illuminate a robust concept of truth by considering its links with inquiry assertion belief and action His brand of pragmatism is objective and organized around truth and inquiry rather than other forms of pragmatism that are more subjective and lenient The contingency and fallibility of knowledge and belief formation does not mean that our beliefs are simply what our community decides or that truth and objectivity are spurious notions Rescher offers the best chance of understanding how it is that beliefs can be the products of human inquiry yet aim at the truth nonetheless The essays in this volume written by established and up and coming scholars of pragmatism touch on themes related to epistemology philosophy of mind philosophy of science and ethics
