From The Edge Of Extinction

Michael Dobbs

From The Edge Of Extinction:

Watching, from the Edge of Extinction Beverly Peterson Stearns, Stephen C. Stearns, 2000-01-01 Annotation In this mesmerizing series of interviews with dedicated people who work to save endangered species throughout the world an alarming truth emerges the obstacles of human politics greed corruption folly and hypocrisy can present as much danger to a species survival as biological causes The dramatic lessons of this book shed new light on the problems of declining species and offer hope that we may yet change their fate

On the Edge of Extinction Claire Craig, 2003 Up to 30 species become extinct every day How do animals and plant species disappear from the face of the Earth Find out about those already gone those in danger now and what is being done about it

On the Edge of Extinction Royal Sutton, 2013-12 It was nearly the turn of the century Not only was the century changing but the ways of life were changing Many new inventions were making life easier Electricity was becoming more and more available Travel was becoming more comfortable and convenient The awareness of the plight of the Native American Indians was more widely known The Wounded Knee Massacre was a recent occurrence As more and more people were exposed to the manner in which Indians were treated attitudes changed The Indian population had declined to its lowest ebb at the turn of the century The Trans Mississippi Exposition in Omaha was an opportunity to show off many of the new inventions and to help the rest of the country be aware of the riches West of the Mississippi One Frank A Rinehart the premier photographer in Omaha was appointed the Official Photographer for the Trans Mississippi Expo At the last minute it was decided to bring about 500 Indians to the Expo to show attendees the human side of this misunderstood people Rinehart had the unique opportunity to produce photographic portraits of each of the Native Americans in attendance The Edge of Extinction not only highlights some of those portraits of this handsome race but also gives a view of life in Omaha the commentary of the national press concerning the Trans Mississippi a look at the man who was Rinehart and more so as to help understand this time in the history of the Midwest

The Edge of Extinction Jules Pretty, 2014-12-18 In The Edge of Extinction Jules Pretty explores life and change in a dozen environments and cultures across the world taking us on a series of remarkable journeys through deserts coasts mountains steppes snowscapes marshes and farms to show that there are many different ways to live in cooperation with nature From these accounts of people living close to the land and close to the edge emerge a larger story about sustainability and the future of the planet Pretty addresses not only current threats to natural and cultural diversity but also the unsustainability of modern lifestyles typical of industrialized countries In a very real sense Pretty discovers what we manage to preserve now may well save us later Jules Pretty s travels take him among the Maori people along the coasts of the Pacific into the mountains of China and across petroglyph rich deserts of Australia He treks with nomads over the continent wide steppes of Tuva in southern Siberia walks and boats in the wildlife rich inland swamps of southern Africa and experiences the Arctic with ice fishermen in Finland He explores the coasts and inland marshes of eastern England and Northern Ireland and accompanies Innu people across the taiga's snowy forests and the lakes of the Labrador interior Pretty concludes his global journey immersed in the discrete cultures and landscapes embedded within the American landscape the small farms of the Amish the swamps of the Cajuns in the deep South and the deserts of California The diverse people Pretty meets in The Edge of Extinction display deep pride in their relationships with the land and are only willing to join with the modern world on their own terms By the examples they set they offer valuable lessons for anyone seeking to find harmony in a world cracking under the pressures of apparently insatiable consumption patterns of the affluent

From the Edge of Extinction Darryl Stewart, 1979 Edge of Extinction Robert J. Szmids, 2023-05-03 When the ruthless aliens attack the outer reaches of the Federation Humankind is forced to retreat haphazardly from dozens of conquered systems The only chance to delay the advance of the enemy is to create hundreds of fake colonies If that doesn't work the Fleet will be forced to face the machine in a series of open battles which can lead to its annihilation Politicians however do not care about the consequences Their goal is to preserve power even at the cost of billions of lives The headquarters of the third metasector must meet the requirements of the Council on the one hand and prevent the destruction of the only force that is able to defend Humankind on the other But this war has another human and personal dimension Major Darski must fight to save the colonists that he left on Ulietta

Edge of Extinction is book three in The Fields of Long Forgotten Battles series From the Edge of Extinction Darryl Stewart, 1978-11-01 Documents the recovery of some thirty North American species previously thought to be near extinction that are now flourishing as a result of the 1972 ban on DDT

The Edge of Extinction Jim Howes, 1982 Butterflies at the Edge of Forever (Grayscale) Austin P. Torney, 2008-10-15 ToeQuestors from www.toequest.com discover the Secrets of the Universe as well as the humorously dangerous implications that follow their possession of the Holy Grail of the genuine Theory of Everything With the world's future hanging in the balance they sharpen their wits and skills through the teachings of the learned Grand Masters Extraordinary mixed media photo composites of tropical and otherworldly scenes beyond compare Fun science too Much original humor There is no greater quest than to know whence we came and what we are Humorous and significant Amazing poems between chapters Several Theories of Everything looked at This blend of prose drama and humor poetry illustration and science makes for a totally glorious reading experience

Light at the Edge of the World Wade Davis, 2009-12-01 For more than 30 years renowned anthropologist Wade Davis has traveled the globe studying the mysteries of sacred plants and celebrating the world's traditional cultures His passion as an ethnobotanist has brought him to the very center of indigenous life in places as remote and diverse as the Canadian Arctic the deserts of North Africa the rain forests of Borneo the mountains of Tibet and the surreal cultural landscape of Haiti In Light at the Edge of the World Davis explores the idea that these distinct cultures represent unique visions of life itself and have much to teach the rest of the world about different ways of living and thinking As he investigates the dark undercurrents tearing people from their past and propelling them into an uncertain future Davis reiterates that the threats faced by indigenous cultures endanger and diminish all cultures Coastal Missouri: Driving On the Edge of Wild John Drake Robinson, 2013-12-09 Water and Wilderness Robinson's irreverent humor gets a workout in Missouri's back country Beauty and Danger I'd crossed a threshold a no man's land scattered with rattlesnakes and rednecks whirlpools and whiskey stills deep woods caverns and cracks named after devils nervous meth cooks and fish that jump up and smack you in the head The journey was a wild woolly hoot John Robinson is back on his second tour for the road trip reader This book comes on the heels of his amazing and humorous first book A Road Trip Into America's Hidden Heart Traveling the Back Roads Backwoods and Back Yards In addition to having his car Erafnus as a character in the book John introduces the reader to a new companion At the Edge of History and Passages about Earth William Irwin Thompson, 1990 Seminal works of cultural history that changed the way we think about ourselves Extinction and Memorial Culture Hannah Stark, 2023-06-23 This book considers how we encounter and make meaning from extinction in diverse settings and cultures It brings together an international and interdisciplinary range of scholars to consider how extinction is memorialised in museums and cultural institutions through monuments in literature and art through public acts of ritual and protest and in everyday practices In an era in which species are becoming extinct at an unprecedented rate we must find new ways to engage critically creatively and courageously with species loss Extinction and Memorial Culture Reckoning with Species Loss in the Anthropocene develops the conceptual tools to think in complex ways about extinctions and their aftermath along with providing new insights into commemorating and mourning more than human lives This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of the environmental humanities extinction studies memorial culture and the Anthropocene Apes on the Edge Jill Pruetz, 2025-01-24 A moving story of survival and an eye opening introduction to an extraordinary community of chimps and people Fongoli chimpanzees are unique for many reasons Their female hunters are the only apes that regularly hunt with tools seeking out tiny bush babies with wooden spears Unlike most other chimps these apes fear neither water nor fire using shallow pools to cool off in the Senegalese heat Up to 90 percent of their home range burns annually the result of human hunting or clearing for gold mining and Fongoli chimpanzees have learned to predict the movement of such fires and to avoid them The study of Fongoli chimps is also unique While most primate research occurs in isolated reserves Fongoli chimpanzees live alongside humans and as primatologist and anthropologist Jill Pruetz reports this shared habitat creates both challenges and opportunities The issues faced by Fongoli chimpanzees particularly food scarcity and environmental degradation are also issues faced by their human neighbors This connection is one reason Pruetz who has studied Fongoli apes for over two decades created the nonprofit Neighbor Ape in 2008 to provide for the welfare of the humans who share their landscape with apes It is also why Pruetz decided to write this book the first to offer readers a view of these chimps lives and to explain the specific conservation efforts needed to help them Incorporating stories from Pruetz's time in the field including the compelling rescue of a young chimp from poachers Apes on the Edge opens a fascinating window into primate research conservation and the inner workings of a very special population of our closest nonhuman relatives The Edge of Madness Michael Dobbs,2008-11-10 Cyber warfare the kind that brings nations to their knees switching off energy lifelines crippling the financial markets starving leaders of authority An old Russian nuclear reactor goes into Chernobyl style meltdown while on the other side of the world the US Eastern Seaboard is plunged into darkness No one knows yet who is responsible for the chaos Hidden from view of the rest of the world an extraordinary meeting of the US President the Russian President and the British Prime Minister is about to take place They have the weekend to save the world and they must do it alone Something serious is going on in Beijing Military manoeuvres Troops on the streets It s as though the Chinese are preparing for the final thrust against their old enemies bringing them to their knees in a war that will see not a single shot being fired The Edge Of The Knife and three more stories H. Beam Piper,2022-09-22 This is a great collection of action short stories by H Beam Piper from The Golden Age of Science Fiction Featured here The Edge Of The Knife Day Of The Moron The Answer and Omnilingual Habitat Fragmentation and Landscape Change David B. Lindenmayer,Joern Fischer,2013-02-22 Habitat loss and degradation that comes as a result of human activity is the single biggest threat to biodiversity in the world today Habitat Fragmentation and Landscape Change is a groundbreaking work that brings together a wealth of information from a wide range of sources to define the ecological problems caused by landscape change and to highlight the relationships among landscape change habitat fragmentation and biodiversity conservation The book synthesizes a large body of information from the scientific literature considers key theoretical principles for examining and predicting effects examines the range of effects that can arise explores ways of mitigating impacts reviews approaches to studying the problem discusses knowledge gaps and future areas for research and management Habitat Fragmentation and Landscape Change offers a unique mix of theoretical and practical information outlining general principles and approaches and illustrating those principles with case studies from around the world It represents a definitive overview and synthesis on the full range of topics that fall under the widely used but often vaguely defined term habitat fragmentation Instrumental Lives Helen Rees,2024-07-23 The musical instruments of East and Southeast Asia enjoy increasing recognition as parts of humanity s intangible cultural heritage Helen Rees edits a collection that offers vibrant new ways to link these objects to their materials of manufacture the surrounding environment the social networks they form and help sustain and the wider ethnic or national imagination Rees organizes the essays to reflect three angles of inquiry The first section explores the characteristics and social roles of various categories of instruments including the koto and an extinct Balinese wooden clapper In section two essayists focus on the life stories of individual instruments ranging from an heirloom Chinese qin to end blown flutes in rural western Mongolia Essays in the third section examine the ethics and other issues that surround instrument collections but also show how collecting is a dynamic process that transforms an instrument s habitat and social roles Original and expert Instrumental Lives brings a new understanding of how musical instruments interact with their environments and societies
