From Primeval Chaos To Infinite Intelligence:

From Primeval Chaos to Infinite Intelligence A. Issar, 1995 An examination of some of the philosophical and physical aspects of the nature of information Chapters discuss such areas as entropy quantum physics and evolution The Cosmic Breath Amos Yong, 2012-05-10 Recent thinking in the interfaith dialogue and in the theology science dialogue have taken a pneumatological turn The Cosmic Breath explores this pneumatological theology as unfolded in the Christian Buddhist dialogue alongside critical interaction with the theology and science conversation As an attempt in comparative and constructive Christian philosophical theology its central thesis is that a pneumatological approach to Buddhist traditions in further dialogue with modern science generates new philosophical resources that invigorate Christian thinking about the natural world and humanity's place in it The result is a transformation of the Buddhist Christian dialogue from insights generated in the theology and science interface and a contribution to the religion and science dialogue from a comparative theological and philosophical perspective Progressive Development Arie S. Issar, 2010-03-10 The book is based on the results of the investigations of the authors in the semi arid and arid regions ASAR of the globe These investigations brought to the conclusion that the warming climate will cause the drying up of the water resources in these regions In this case the principles of Sustainable Development will not be able to avert forthcoming catastrophes These conclusions brought to the compilation of the policy of Progressive Development emphasising investment in the development of new water resources and changing the natural environments while advancing the local populations on the dimension of knowledge by education

Divine Action and Natural Selection Joseph Seckbach, 2009 The debate between divine action or faith and natural selection or science is garnering tremendous interest This book ventures well beyond the usual contrasting American Protestant and atheistic points of view and also includes the perspectives of Jews Muslims and Roman Catholics It contains arguments from the various proponents of intelligent design creationism and Darwinism and also covers the sensitive issue of how to incorporate evolution into the secondary school biology curriculum Comprising contributions from prominent award winning authors the book also contains dialogs following each chapter to provide extra stimulus to the readers and a full picture of this OC hotOCO topic which delves into the fundamentals of science and religion Origin(s) of Design in Nature Liz Swan, Richard Gordon, Joseph Seckbach, 2012-08-27 Origin s of Design in Nature is a collection of over 40 articles from prominent researchers in the life physical and social sciences medicine and the philosophy of science that all address the philosophical and scientific question of how design emerged in the natural world The volume offers a large variety of perspectives on the design debate including progressive accounts from artificial life embryology complexity cosmology theology and the philosophy of biology This book is volume 23 of the series Cellular Origin Life in Extreme Habitats and Astrobiology www.springer.com series 5775 Expanding Humanity's Vision Of God Robert Herrmann, 2009-08-15 How has our understanding of our world and our place in the universe changed in recent decades through the momentous discoveries of science Do recent developments in the philosophy of science which place limitations on scientific knowing provide a more level playing field This collection of essays and sermons which have not been readily available before address these thought provoking questions The John Templeton Foundation sponsored an essay and sermon contest to convey an expanded vision of God one that is informed by recent discoveries of science on the nature of the universe and the place we have in the world These selections are the winners of that competition The book is divided into three sections Contemporary Science Raising Theological Questions New Visions of Theology and Historical and Philosophical Perspectives on the Science Religion Dialogue The essays cover such areas as physics theology cosmology origins and artificial intelligence There is another way to conceive our life together There is another way to conceive of our life in God but it requires a different worldview not a clockwork universe in which individuals function as discrete springs and gears but one that looks more like a luminous web in which the whole is far more than the parts In this universe there is no such thing as an individual apart from his or her relationships Every interaction between people and people between people and things between things and things changes the face of history Life on earth cannot be reduced to four sure fire rules It is an ever unfolding mystery that defies precise prediction Meanwhile in this universe there is no such thing as parts The whole is the fundamental unit of reality Barbara Brown Taylor Physics and Faith

The Desert Experience in Israel A. Paul Hare, Gideon M. Kressel, 2009-09-29 The Desert Experience in Israel shares the responses of settlers artists poets scientists and educators who lived near the Blaustein Institute in the Negev Desert of Israel as they answer the question What difference has living in the desert year round made in your work The book begins with a reprint of David Ben Gurion s call for settlement and science in the desert This is followed by an account of life in early kibbutzim a discussion of the meaning of the term desert accounts of religion in the desert and the relationship of the desert experience to art theatre literature poetry sculpture and the use of color categories by the Bedouin Accounts of research on solar energy fossil fuel water microalgae runoff agriculture fish and architecture are followed by desert related activities in the high school field school and research institute

Climate Change - Environment and Civilization in the Middle East Arie S. Issar, Mattanyah Zohar, 2013-04-17 We live in an early stage of an interglacial period which began some fifteen thousand years ago a warming trend which with the extreme ups and downs is still gaining momentum There is little doubt that sometime in the foreseeable future the global climate will inexorably become much warmer and many regions such as the Near East will become much drier We even accelerate this process by recklessly pumping carbon dioxide from fossil fuels into the atmosphere And if that is not enough industrial agricultural and disease ridden human waste unfit for consumption will increasingly pollute the diminishing few remaining water resources By now we fully realize the disastrous consequences of what we do and yet go on doing it So what about the Intelligence of the Homo sapiens about which we read in our books Obviously one of the qualities of intelligence is the capacity to forecast the future on the basis of past experience Since writing was invented and important or mundane matters were recorded in our region many stories about disasters emerging either from shortage or superabundance of water are found. The one as well as the other often decided the fate of ancient peoples. The inherent historical understanding of the crucial role of water in the fate and thus faith of the human societies faded out when it moved from the semi arid western part of Asia to humid Europe. Strike the Rock and There Shall Come Water Arie S. Issar, 2013-10-11. This book presents an update and revision of the book Water Shall Flow from the Rock: Hydrogeology and Climate in the Lands of the Bible by A. Issar published by Springer Verlag in 1990. The enormous quantity and quality of new data added since 1990 called for a thorough update. Another reason for this work is the better understanding achieved since the initial book was published about the role which climate plays in shaping the history of the Lands of the Bible. Albeit the fact that the impact of climate change was touched upon rather widely in the first book still without interweaving the new data and understanding the picture would have remained partial.

The Enigmatic Parting Shot James Somerville, 1995. The Weak Thought and Its Strength Dario Antiseri, 1996. This book examines how contemporary philosophical thought Friedrich A von Hayek, Karl R Popper, Hans Georg Gadamer and Gadamer's Italian follower Gianni Vattimo has analysed and described the limitations of human reason.

Demonstrative Sense Vojislav Bozickovic, 1995. Examines semantic features of perpetual demonstratives.

André Malraux Gino Raymond, 1995. André Malraux was pre eminent among his contemporaries in his passionate espousal of left wing causes and was the French writer who enjoyed the highest reputation during the 1930s for his attempts to reconcile the imperatives of literary creation with those of political action. However of the many studies devoted to Malraux few have analyzed the politics depicted in his fiction in relation to the politics he proclaimed in an effort to establish the extent to which they informed or subverted each other.

The Birth of Three Sides Tom Milner-Gulland, 1997. This text strives for definitions of the word dimension with a radical revision of many fundamental concepts in physics, mathematics and religious philosophy. The focus is particularly on the number three correlating to evolutionary traits, the structure of the atom and the holy trinity.

The Lectures Delivered Before the American Institute of Instruction American Institute of Instruction, 1837.

Essays in the History of Philosophy Nicholas Rescher, 1995. This is a collection of essays in the history of philosophy ranging from the cosmic evolution in Anaximander through Leibniz on creation to the present state of American philosophy.

Mind, Self, and Interiority Thomas Duddy, 1995. The central claim of this book is that such purportedly Cartesian concepts as privacy, interiority and self unity are compatible with a materialist philosophy of mind.

Fundamental Philosophy ... Translated ... by Henry F. Brownson Jaime Luciano Balmes, 1856. The Modern Review, 1882. Continental and Postmodern Perspectives in the Philosophy of Science Babette E. Babich, Debra B. Bergoffen, Simon Glynn, 1995. Examines the implications of recent continental epistemology challenging the relationship between traditional analytic continental and postmodern understandings of science showing that the challenging circumstances of the scientific project are transforming the role and meaning of science in the modern postmodern world.
