

1. Candles

At least two are present at Mass. Candlelight was necessary during early Masses celebrated underground in the Roman catacombs, but they also symbolize Jesus as the light of the world.

10. Cruets of water and wine

Containers of water and wine that will become the precious blood. A splash of water is added to the wine, and the water can also be used to pour into the lavabo.

2. The Roman missal

The book containing the prayers for Mass.

3. Ciborium

The receptacle that holds the bread.

4. Chalice

The cup that holds the precious blood.

5. Pall

The cover for the chalice when it's not being used.

6. Paten

The plate that holds the Communion wafers.

7. Corporal

The cloth that is placed beneath the chalice and paten to catch bits of the Eucharist. When not in use, it's folded into thirds to symbolize the Trinity, and is stored in a burse, a carrying case. Sacristans soak the corporal and other cloths before washing them to remove any bit of Communion. Most sacristies have a sacrarium, or sink that drains directly into the ground, where that water is poured.

8. Purificator

The cloth used to clean the chalice, ciboria and patens.

9. Lavabo

The basin that holds the water priests use to ceremonially wash their hands before the consecration. They dry their hands with a small finger towel.

11. Chalice veil

The cloth that covers the chalice. The veil often matches the priest's chasuble and corresponds with the liturgical season: green for Ordinary Time, purple for Lent and Advent, white for Easter and Christmas, and red and rose on specific days.
