Fine Grammar Of Bones:

On the Threshold ,1999-04-16 In 1993 a group of five Kingston women T Anne Archer Mary Cavanagh Elizabeth Greene Tara Kainer Janice Kirk began to compile an anthology about Canada at the point where one millennium becomes another As the newly formed Foxglove Collective they solicited manuscripts that reflected origins how the past shapes the present life at the end of this century and projections past the year 2000 They envisioned a book that wove together established emerging and previously unpublished voices from the Yukon to the Maritimes that book is On the Threshold Writing Toward the Year 2000 No millennium library would be complete without a copy of this timely and unique collection of literary musings by some of the nation s best A wonderful weave of poetry and prose this anthology reflects on moments both private and public personal and political which have formed the crucible for life in the twenty first century as we know it Tasked with commenting both on the century that lay behind and the century that beckons each author fashioned a piece exemplary of the crises successes and transformations inherent in an arc spanning more than a hundred years of nation building and social upheaval Whether unabashedly optimistic or unapologetically critical these writers make their peace with the past while invoking the future

The Full Catastrophe Méira Cook,2022-06-07 Winner 2023 Margaret Laurence Award for Fiction Finalist 2023 McNally Robinson Book of the Year Award A compassionate and funny novel about defining yourself the communities that support us and the journeys that secrets propel Charlie Minkoff a thirteen year old boy born with intersex traits would be happy to be left alone Living with his artist mother in a derelict loft in downtown Winnipeg perpetually wondering about the father who abandoned him and tormented in school because of his differences Charlie navigates the assorted catastrophes of his life He s helped along by the love of his beloved grandfather Oscar and the makeshift family who surround him his mother s best friend a couple of elderly shut in neighbours a mysterious girl in his class who has secrets of her own and his desperately needy and perpetually hungry dog Gellman When a school project leads him to discover that Oscar never had a bar mitzvah Charlie decides to right the historical wrong and arrange a belated ceremony But this quest will be more than he bargained for and meanwhile everyone from his doctor to his Ancestry Studies teacher keeps insisting that Charlie needs to learn to tell his own story Margaret Laurence Award winner M ira Cook s The Full Catastrophe is a story of psychological complexity tenderness and humour

Modern Computational Intelligence Methods for the Interpretation of Medical Images Ryszard Tadeusiewicz,2008-01-12 A detailed description of up to date methods used for computer processing and interpretation of medical images is given The scope of the book include images acquisition storing with compression processing analysis recognition and also its automatic understanding In introduction general overview of the computer vision methods designed for medical images is presented Next sources of medical images are presented with their general characteristics Both traditional like X ray and very modern like PET sources of medical images are presented The main emphasis is placed on such properties of medical images given by particular medical imaging methods which are important from the point of view of its computer processing analysis and recognition. The consecutive parts of the book describe compression and processing methods including many methods developed by authors especially for medical images. After parts describing analysis and recognition of medical images come the most important part in which the new method of automatic understanding of medical images is given. This new method of image interpretation described in previous works of the same authors with applications for simple 2D images now is generalized for 3D images and for complex medical images with many objects observed and with complicated relations between these objects.

Ceramics and Globalization Neil Ewins, 2017-05-04 Neil Ewins' study of the Staffordshire potteries in a period of great global change traces how ceramics production has been affected by globalisation in both familiar and unexpected ways. Although many manufacturers such as Wedgwood initially moved production to cheaper labour markets in East Asia, others remained in or returned to England once it became clear that outsourcing manufacturing was affecting the brand value and customer perception of their products. Neil Ewins explores the complex behaviour of the UK ceramics industry using a combination of evidence from the press, trade journals, ceramic objects and primary interview evidence of manufacturers, retailers and a ceramic designer. Ewins suggests that although the surface designs of UK ceramics invariably reflect diverse cultural and stylistic influences, a notion of authenticity often still resides in the place and context in which the ceramic product was originally made. Overall, the book argues that UK ceramics remain culturally complex because of issues of supply and demand and ties to heritage, imagined or otherwise. Within a context of globalization, the book highlights compelling issues which have huge ramifications on UK manufacturing futures. Journal of Canadian Poetry, 1995

The Bone Doll David Lee Holcomb, 2023-08-21 Faced with the disintegration of their marriage, Matt Wheelock and Michelle Lomax turn to a charismatic philosopher known only as the Teacher for guidance and support. The Teacher, seemingly a man without an identity, preaches a message of a sublime universe of mind beyond our own material plane, hidden from all but the enlightened few. When two of the Teacher's acolytes die in a very public act of suicide, his remaining followers find themselves drawn into his world of deception and paranoia. They embark on a chaotic trek across Mexico and Central America, running toward a haven that only the Teacher can find and from a threat that only he can identify. Along the way, they all find their most fundamental assumptions about who they are being challenged. Some will return unscathed; others will be changed forever and some won't make it back at all. At the end of the road, Matt and Michelle will find that not only are there no easy answers to the questions they started out with, but that the questions themselves may no longer have any meaning. The Canadian Forum, 1993. Includes critical reviews.

The Top Books of the Year Fine Grammar Of Bones The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous captivating novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of bestselling books, exploring the fascinating narratives that have enthralled audiences this year. The Must-Read : Colleen Hoovers "It Ends with Us" This touching tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover skillfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can succeed. Fine Grammar Of Bones : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This spellbinding historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids compelling storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Discover the Magic : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This mesmerizing coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens crafts a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These bestselling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of engaging stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a brilliant and gripping novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
